HUNTINGTON.

LITTLE CHILDREN DESERTED.

Mrs. Lilly Dumayne Acting in Queer Manner—Wedding Bells.

Special Correspondence.

Huntington, Emery Co., March 29.—There are a couple here by the name of Joseph and Lilly Dumayne. They have three children alive and one dead. Lilly is the daughter of J. K. Ingle, Ingle is, or was, a hard drinker, and the last year he got on well by breaking into the saloon and stealing a jug of whisky, for which he was convicted of burglary, and was sentenced at the last term of the district court to 18 months in the state prison, where he now is. Ingle has caused the Dumaynes considerable trouble, and has done all he could to separate them, until last summer Lilly fled a complaint against her husband for divorce. She was refused the decree, as she could not prove any of the charges she brought against him. The husband was awarded the children and all the property, and Lilly advised by the judge to go home and behave herself. This she refused to do, and went to live with her father at William H. Burgess' place. Along in the winter some of the children got quite sick, and the mother, after much persuasion, was induced to visit her husband for a few hours at a time until finally she went home, after being refused shelter by others. But the couple did not get on well together, because of the accusations made one against the other. Finally Lilly again concluded to leave, which she did when her husband was away from home, and left the three children alone with one one to look after them. She has been considered weak minded by her neigh-

TOWN MARSHALL MISSING.

Last fall the town board of Huntington appointed Hans Sorenson town marshal, road supervisor, watermaster and poundkeeper at a salary of $40 per month. About the middle of February Mr. Sorenson left here on horseback and went to Mounds, a station on the Denver & Rio Grande in Emery county, getting there just before train time, and in a hurry asked on the section bosses to take care of his horse and saddle for a few days, at the same time showing his marshal's badge, and saying that he was on horseback and committed a crime in Huntington, and he had heard of them down the road, and he wanted to catch them before they got out of the county. This was the last seen of him. There is a number of people here who claim he owes them sums of money. The town board declared the office vacant, and appointed Hebert Leonard to the position. Sorenson held.

CARDSTON, CANADA.

ORIENTAL FLOUR TRADE.

Good Beginning for a Promising Business—Court Session. Special Correspondence.

Cardston, Alberta, Canada, March 21.—Fifteen hundred bags of flour in one consignment is the record of the local milling company. This is to be followed in two weeks by 1,000 bags more. The most pleasing feature though, is that the flour is destined for Japan, making the opening for a profitable and extensive business in the future. The flour trade with the orient will no doubt develop into such proportions, that the vast areas of available wheat lands now lying idle in the middle west, will be able to yield better returns than where dependence is placed only upon wheat market through Port William and the Great Lakes. It is to be hoped the initiative will fulfill all the expectations of those making the venture.

COURT SESSION.

The supreme court for Alberta held its regular session at Cardston last week, disposing of the following cases: King vs. Dingman. This is the young man tried for "shop breaking," but as Bank's agents in Ecuador have shipped them with the high-grade Panama hats, such as sell at $12 to $15, that will be sold at $8, $9, and $10 at 116 So. Main St.

TELEGRAPH RATES.

President of W. U. Says There Has Been no General Increase in Them. New York, March 31.—Concerning the recently announced advance in the rates charged by the company, Col. J. C. Clowry, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, tonight said:

"There has been nothing like a general increase in rates by the telegraph company, profitable rates have been increased to the standard of schedule rates. These special rates were discriminatory against a large number of places and were originally established by competing companies, which by reason thereof went into bankruptcy. Most of the rates increased were 25 cents for 10-word rates.

"It costs at least 30 cents to handle such messages for short distances at the present time. The increase in the cost of telegraphic material has been from 25 to 100 per cent within the last few years. In addition to the recent increases of 10 per cent in the salaries of all managers and operators, there has been for years past a large and steady increase in wages of all classes of individual employees from month to month. There is no increase in the extra-word rate, consequently the newspaper rates remain the same."

THE P. T. SITUATION.

New York, April 1.—Charles P. Bruch, assistant general manager of the Postal Telegraph company is quoted today as stating that his company has raised its rates, practically to the same basis as that recently announced by the Western Union. The new rates went into effect at midnight April 1. Mr. Bruch said, in addition to announcing the increase that it was caused entirely by the increased cost of maintenance.
