DR. BEERS NEARLY BEATEN TO DEATH

Had Been Paying Too Much Attention to Wife of His Assistant, C. F. Walker.

INJURIES MAY PROVE FATAL.

Nose and Jaw Broken, Arm Paralyzed and Skull Fractured—Wronged Husband in Jail.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 19.—Dr. Earl S. Beers, of Salt Lake City, but recently attached to the For Don medical show in Ogden, is now at the Ogden General hospital at the point of death as the result of a severe beating dealt out to him by C. F. Walker, manager of the Salt Lake Electric Supply company, and Walker is now confined in a cell in the Ogden city jail, awaiting the outcome of the doctor's injuries.

and could not go to Los Angeles without seeing him. The thoughts of his wife's apparent love and intimacy with the doctor, so aroused Walker that he came to Ogden Tuesday for the purpose of having a settlement with Beers. He met him at the Ogden Electric Supply company's office yesterday, as per appointment, and endeavored to get information from Beers that he would leave the city for Los Angeles. "It is none of your damn business," Beers said, "I want to know if you intend going there to her?" He replied, "I hadn't thought of that, but I may do so."

said that her husband was a good moral man, until he met Mrs. Walker, with her and never gambled or drank, but that the Walker woman was the cause of his downfall. She said that Dr. Joyce told her that the doctor's husband's heart could not have been done with a fist, but must have been inflicted with a blunt instrument. Walker, who was drunk, inflicted the injuries to Beers with his fists only. In parting with Mrs. Beers she begged that the papers should not say that it was all the fault of the doctor, as the woman had come into his life and acted herself upon him, causing him to feel as he had done with her.

Should Beers die, a charge of either murder or manslaughter will be preferred against Walker. The affair has caused a great comment in all circles. There are no children in either family.

At noon today Dr. Beers' condition was about the same. He is still unconscious at the hospital, his breathing is stronger, the surgeons entertain hopes of his recovery. In the face of this state of affairs a complaint was filed this afternoon charging Walker with assault with intent to commit bodily harm and his bonds were fixed at $500. As there seems to be no probability of his being released this afternoon or night.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST YOUNG WOMAN.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus has been filed in the district court by Magdalen A. Harris, attorney for Alice Ford, the young woman who was arrested three days ago for living with the agent for a Chicago picture house. The application sets forth that the young lady is being unlawfully held by the police, and they ask for a hearing before the court at once on the writ. Just before the writ was served County Clerk Pitkin prepared a complaint charging her with a felony, to which she must answer to the court. In default of bail she was turned over to the custody of Sheriff Burns.

SCOTFIELD.

DISTRESSING MINE ACCIDENT. S. S. Conference—Schools Commence.—Coal Camps Booming. Special Correspondence. Sept. 15.—A very bad accident happened to Frank Parker on the 14th at the Winter Quarters mine No. 1, Utah Fuel company. The young man was digging a tunnel, which kicked him off the shaft, when he was urged him to make a swamp in the track, he fell and two loaded cars ran over his left hand, breaking all the bones across the hand just below the wrist, also cutting a deep gash just below the elbow, which required eight stitches to bring together. He was tended by Dr. D. Y. Mitchell at the local hospital. It is feared he may lose his hand.

Smith and Anderson H. Lund and Elder Sings, were present, and gave very valuable instructions. The singing was greatly enjoyed, and great credit is due the choicest for the fine conditions of choice selections. On Sunday morning, Sept. 16, a coal train was wrecked at Castle Rock by a broken wheel. Fifteen coal cars left the rails. One brakeman had a narrow escape, he was thrown on to a wire fence, but not seriously hurt. The enormous crop that have to be gathered and taken care of with such little help makes the farmer anything but well off and all are working early and late.

COLONIA.

Old Folks Made Happy—Colony in One Of Nature's Flower Gardens. Special Correspondence. Colonia, Chuehupa, Chio, Mexico, Sept. 15.—It has been raining here nearly every day since July 3, and although the ground is very soft, our little valley is one beautiful meadow dotted with beautiful flowers of all colors and surrounded on all sides by a vast forest of magnificent pines. It is certainly one of nature's choice flower gardens. The pure mountain air and water insure perfect health. The old folks' school and grazing lands and large deposits of rich ore by which this colony is surrounded, and which is wealth in the near future. A railroad is expected here in the near future. The experienced are in the field now and there is strong talk of commencing the grading in 30 days. This little town is growing quite rapidly of late; there were five babies blessed last Sunday and two more have come to town since. The old folks' school and banquet was held yesterday, Sept. 4. Everybody had a very enjoyable time, and the veterans were especially made happy.

CARDSTON, CANADA.

THIRTY INCHES OF SNOW. Farmers Unprepared for Incipient Winter Suffer Much Loss. Special Correspondence. Cardston, Alberta, Canada, Sept. 14.—Thirty inches of snow, within 48 hours is only part of the weather record for the week past. What the depth of snow would have been had there not been a liberal amount of rain accompanying the downing, is open to considerable conjecture. Suffice to say, all farm operations are at a standstill, cattle and horses are pretty well scattered over the ranges and more than half of the grain crop, the very best the district has ever produced, is now fastened under two feet of "the beautiful," with fairly good chances of saving most of that which was ready for the worst, but lack of help, the unusually good season for hay and the extra amount contracted for all combined to prolong the harvest season beyond the danger line. Some of the "old timers," like Johannes Anderson, had their grain all in the stack, with fall wheat, this season's planting, from three to six inches high. In the settlements west of Cardston there had been no harvesting done at all, in fact the season all through has been so damp and backward that it looks like the crops there will only be fit for hay. To offset this misfortune which has befallen the whole country as far as advice have been received, the prices of all grains have been soaring until last Saturday furnished an instance never before recorded in the history of Winnipeg. At the close of business the market showed the Winnipeg prices 12 cents higher than those in the United States grain centers, giving a quotation of $1.03 a bushel for wheat as against 92 cents in Chicago. If these conditions continue to improve, the partial loss of crops will not be so keenly felt by the people. It is difficult to say at this writing how far the effects of the storm will enter into the conditions that regulate the money markets, which before this mishap were stringent enough, a condition largely due to the extravagant expenditures made by a great many western municipalities and towns, all trying to keep pace with and considerably ahead of the times and necessities. A considerable shrinkage in beef on the ranges will also cut down the season's profits considerably, more so, since the weather has not materialized sufficient in four days to allow cattle to rustle feed at all.

With all the discouragement these conditions have brought, the people feel quite cheerful and are preparing ways and means to save the immense crop already available, or will be when this incipient winter is over, and "dollar wheat" is the slogan of the farmer. It has been only a short time since the good people here had to depend upon a mail service once a week in communication with the outside world through Macdonald and Lethbridge respectively 40 and 30 miles distant. In very few days long distance communication can be had with Edmonton, via the telephone. Rates have also been materially reduced all along the line to the advantage of the people. William Woolf and Nite Brown, two of Cardston's young men, left this week to seek for higher educational advantages and manual training in Utah's far famed institutions. The schools here have the usual large enrollment, eight teachers being already employed, with one or two more engaged for the winter term.

TAYLOR WARD HAS NEW BISHOP. Last Sunday a reorganization of the Taylor ward of Alberta stake was effected, Robert A. Nelson was sustained as bishop, with M. A. Lowry and Fred Nelson as counselors. Former Bishop James Hampton has moved to Cardston with his family.

FOREST RESERVE CONDITIONS.

Large Attendance at B. Y. University.—Wedding—Child Nearly Drowned. Special Correspondence. Provo, Sept. 19.—W. I. Pack, supervisor of the Utah national forest reserve, has returned from a tour of inspection of the reserve, where he examined roads, trails, timber sales, agricultural and grazing lands. His report is of a very encouraging nature. The feed is better than it has been for years before, and in districts open to eight and 13 and 14 it is very probable there will be an increase in grazing privileges next year. He will recommend that about a thousand acres on Brush creek, White Rocks and vicinity be withdrawn from the reserve and an effort will be made to have all the agricultural lands withdrawn from forest reserve. The first wagon road built in the Utah Reserve connects Hayden's Fork with the head waters of the Weber and Bear rivers over a pass 13,000 feet above sea level. A trail 20 miles long connects with the wagon road and opens up a fine grazing district in the vicinity of Lake Fork. The timber sales have proven to be entirely satisfactory and the purchasers have conformed to all the regulations of the service. B. Y. UNIVERSITY NOTES. There are 29 graduates from the Springville high school and 17 from the Nephi high school attending the university. Eight hundred students attended devotional in college hall yesterday.

FAIRVIEW.

DISASTROUS FIRE. Hyrum Vance Loses Fine Barn and Contents Valued at $1,000. Special Correspondence. Fairview, Sanpete Co., Sept. 15.—Yesterday afternoon a little after 2 o'clock a fire broke out in Hyrum Vance's barn. It was discovered immediately and was soon put out by his brother George, who happened to notice it when the smoke first appeared. The fire started, it was thought, by a match thrown by some smoker who had passed the place. About half past 5 o'clock the fire broke out again and got such a start that the bucket brigade had to leave the building to its fate, but by the efforts of those working to conquer the fire the dwelling house, and neighboring houses were saved, but the barn which was the most substantial in town burned down to the ground, together with 50 tons of hay stored in it, and stable, shed and corral with it. Mr. Vance was away from home at the time, and did not arrive home until all was over. The loss amounted to fully $1,000, with no insurance.

LEHI.

1907 SUGAR CAMPAIGN. Will Begin Sept. 23—Funeral of Mrs. Martie Hutchings. Special Correspondence. Lehi, Utah Co., Sept. 16.—Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Mary Martha Wainless Hutchings, wife of William L. Hutchings, who died Sept. 13 of heart failure, were held from the new tabernacle Sunday. Bishop Henry Lewis read a biographical sketch of the deceased. The speakers were Elder William Gough, Bishop Ogdan Field and President A. J. Evans, who paid a high tribute to the faithfulness of the deceased as a Mother-day Saint and as a kind wife, sister and friend. The casket was decked with lovely flowers and the house was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends. Mrs. Hutchings was born in Orion, Cumberland county, England, May 29, 1818; migrated to America, reaching the Missouri river in the fall of 1842. Her mother died and she had to be mother to a large family of children. They crossed the plains in 1849, arriving in Lehi in the fall. She was married to William L. Hutchings in the fall of 1851. She was the mother of 10 children, seven of whom are now living. Wednesday evening 8 p. m. Feet will lecture in the new tabernacle, sharing with views just what the ministers,
