FRAGMENTS.

PEMBROKE has the Popular Monthly for June.

THE Georgia Minstrels at the Theatre this evening.

THE shady side of the street is the one most in demand now.

HON. J. B. CUMMOCK and wife, of Evanston, Wyoming, will arrive in this city this evening.

F. AUERBACH & BRO. announce a special bargain sale in to-day's NEWS. They offer some fine dress goods at very low figures.

THE funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Fanny McLean, who died at Spanish Fork last Friday, took place on Sunday at that place.

"My Wife's Bonnet" and the comic operetta, "Penelope," by leading members of the Home Dramatic Club, tomorrow evening. A delightful entertainment.

THE papers of this city were never so besieged with questions regarding naturalization as now. This is gratifying as showing a proper interest in that important matter.

THE dispatch printed in these columns a few days ago about the extension of the Utah Central Railway to Los Angeles, California, is a subject of no little comment on the streets and elsewhere. It would be a gigantic and well paying enterprise.

IT is claimed that the "Ontario" silver mine's output for 1886 was $960,000. The "Granite Mountain" mine of Montana, which produced $1,000,000 last year being the only mine in the United States to surpass the "Ontario" in productiveness.

J. E. CLINTON, Esq., came up from Nephi last evening in the interest of the Wool Growers' Association. A shipment of three carloads of wool, the first of the season, has just been made to the eastern market by the Association, which is getting into business in good style.

SOME excitement has been raised by the visitations of some kind of wild animal or animals in the upper part of Birch Creek. Several sheep have been killed and a party of men has gone out to hunt the marauders. The herd boys were scared out of their wits. It is not known if the animals are wolves or mountain lions.—Ogden Herald.

INFORMATION wanted concerning the whereabouts of Mrs. Lydia Hudson formerly from Long Eaton, Derbyshire, England, who went direct from there to Utah, also Ephraim Smith, bricklayer, son in-law of the above named lady. Peter Hudson, (son of Mrs. Hudson and brother of Mrs. Smith) of 546 Woodbridge St., West, Detroit, Mich., would like to hear of or from either party named above.

Information Wanted—Joseph S. Wing, of Fairview, Utah, is desirous of getting the address of any person by the name of Pettis.

Contempt of Court.—This morning Deputy Sprague arrested John D. Graham on the charge of contempt of Court. The arrest was made at the instance of Graham's former wife, and the contempt is alleged to consist in Mr. Graham's failure to pay the alimony allowed Mrs. Graham at the time the divorce was granted

The People vs. J. H. Gibbons et al.; grand larceny; set for Thursday at 10 a.m.

Cories, E. Brain and C. Knight. A large concourse of relatives and friends followed the remains to the cemetery. Sister Worthen was the daughter of Mary E. and John Worthen, and was born in Salt Lake City, February 12, 1868, and died on Saturday, May 14th, 1887.

She bore an excellent character among her associates and was a faithful Latter-day Saint.

Probate Court.—The following business was transacted yesterday in the Salt Lake County Probate Court;

In the matter of the estate of Wm. C. Browe, deceased; order of publication of notice to creditors.

Estate of J. M. Williamson; order of sale of real estate; appraisers appointed.

Estate of Elizabeth A. Whitney, deceased; appointment and oath of appraisers, inventory and appraisement filed. William Fuller, Robert T. McEwan, Charles M. Evans, appraisers.

Justice Pyper performed the marriage ceremony last evening between Perry I. Hanks and Levina Henson, both of Tooele City, and filed the certificate with the court.

Great Organ Recitals.—There has been an oft-expressed wish to hear, periodically, the qualities of the Tabernacle organ displayed at other times than on Sunday, when only sacred music is permissible. This desire is shared alike by the local public and by tourists, and it has drawn forth from Prof. J. J. Daynes, the following. All who attend should be there promptly or they will miss part of the music:

In response to an oft-expressed desire on the part of resident music lovers, that they, as well as tourists, be privileged to hear the Tabernacle organ in some other style of music than that given during worship, I take pleasure in naming Friday next, at 4 p.m., as the time when I will give a few selections for the benefit of those who choose to attend.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH J. DAYNES,
Organist.

An Educated Bird.—It is a well known ornithological fact that the magpie (pica caudata) can be taught to speak. It is also known that the American species of that chattering and mischievous family is common to this territory, but it remained for Mr. John Mellen, of the Sixteenth Ward of this city, to make the combination and locally demonstrate these facts by capturing a magpie and teaching it to talk. It is a merry bird, although it has been valiantly wrestling with our vernacular for upwards of seven years. It laughs, calls the chickens, and members of the family by name, and is polite to visitors, wishing them good morning and bidding them good bye It is withal convivial in its habits and not other particular as to itsdiet. In fact nothing seems to suit it better than to sit down quietly with the family and join in the festivities of the social board.

A Remedy for Diphtheria.—The following has been handed to us by a young gentleman who desires, in public interest, that it be published. It was translated by him from the Danish, and it is certainly to be hoped that the remedy may justify the claims made in its behalf:

There are a large number of remedies for diphtheria, not only those prescribed by physicians but general household remedies as well. In cases of this malignant disease, however, all have proven more or less ineffective. It is, nevertheless, the testimony of a large number of experienced physicians, that the remedy which constantly proves itself to be the best is mercur cyanatus. It has been proven, however, that this remedy and preventative has the best effect when strongly diluted. Some time ago a philanthropist in Silesia, Count Recke Vollmerstein, through a number of Silesian papers, published his experience concerning this remedy, as he considered that its merits should be made known as far as possible. He claims for it a certain cure, and that it makes all other treatment superfluous. Those claims are corroborated by hundreds of cases. The treatment is as follows: From twenty to thirty pills of mercur cyanatus of thirty potents are put in a cup of pure, boiled, cold water, and as soon as the pills have dissolved, the patient is given a teaspoonful every ten or fifteen minutes. The cup is kept covered with a book or saucer, and the medicine should be stirred before given. If the patient grows quiet and perspiration sets in, that is to say, when he is improving, the dose should be given at longer intervals, say half an hour or an hour, and later two hours. Mercur cyanatus can be obtained at all homeopathic drug stores, but should only be obtained from a reliable source. Dr. V. Villiers, who was the first one to use mercur cyanatus for this horrible disease, has, in the course of eighteen years, treated over 200 diphtheria patients without the use of gargle or brush, and of those but two died from the disease.

Painful Accident.—J. T. Mitchell, an employe of W. C. Morris, the painter, had a blow on the head this morning which it seemed for a time must be fatal, but he speedily rallied and is now doing very well. The Deseret National Bank is being retouched outside, and to get at the upper part of the building a swinging cage was used; this was sent up and Mr. Mitchell went to work at a window immediately under it. The cage had got up about twenty feet when it was caught by the telephone wires running into the second story windows, and one of the end braces pulled from beneath the plank, causing it to fall to the sidewalk. The end of the plank, which was of course a very heavy one because of the purpose for which it was used, struck Mr. Mitchell on the head and grazed and cut a deep gash in his left cheek as it went on to the ground; he was stunned, and everybody who saw the proceeding thought he was surely killed, but he soon rallied, was taken to the Godbe Pitts drug store and properly cared for. At latest advices he was doing finely, but he had a very narrow escape.

This reminds us that these swinging cages sometimes injure people who don't go near them—those who are very nervous. They look like set traps for those who occupy and those who pass beneath them. It is a great pity if no safer practicable means of going aloft can be devised.

The Minstrels.—Halliday's Georgia Minstrels were out in force to-day, marching through the principal streets to the tuneful accompaniment of a brass band. Two major domos led the way, and handled their staffs with considerable dexterity. The company have been here before and gave very good entertainments; with the intervening experience and the greater fund of merriment to draw upon, they should be even better now. They appear at the Theatre this evening.

RAIDING RENEWED.

ANOTHER SPURT FOR PROSECUTIONS UNDER THE EDMUNDS LAW.

The renewal of the crusade against the "Mormons" under the Edmunds law in this district has been inaugurated with increased vigor, as recent occurrences give evidence.

In Commissioner McKay's court at 4 o'clock yesterday, no new witnesses were produced in the proceedings against R. J. Caffall, of the Twenty-first Ward, and he was accordingly dismissed on the charge of unlawful cohabitation.

In the case against Thomas C. Griggs, of the Fifteenth Ward, the Commissioner gave his decision. He considered the matter doubtful, but gave the prosecution the benefit of the doubt by holding Mr. Griggs to answer to the grand jury.

Last evening two more arrests were made, one at East Mill Creek and the other at Granger. Mr. Turpine was the victim at the latter place, and it being too late to secure bondsmen, he was sent to the penitentiary till this morning.

To-day the proceedings in Commissioner McKay's court commenced by calling the case against

of East Mill Creek. Four witnesses, Carl Capson, Mrs. Sarah A. Chapman, Mrs. Edith Fisher and Mrs. Lydia A. Fisher, were subpœnaed. The defendant was arraigned on a complaint made by D. W. Rench last October, charging him with unlawful cohabitation with Mrs. Edith and Mrs. Ellen Fisher. He pleaded not guilty, and stated through his attorney, Mr. Moyle, that he desired to waive examination.

Mr. Varian remarked that he didn't care, but would call Mrs. Edith Fisher, who was sworn and testified she was married to the defendant 30 years ago; he had no other wife at that time and she had never been divorced. She declined to answer any further questions on the ground that she was the legal wife, and was excused.

The defendant was then required to furnish $1,500 bail, and each of the witnesses were placed under bonds of $200.

The case of the United States vs.

R. J. TURPIN,

of Granger, was then called. Mr Turpin pleaded not guilty to a complaint made by E. A. Franks, charging him with unlawful cohabitation with Mrs. R. J. Turpin and Mrs. Maria Decker Turpin. He desired to waive examination, and this being permitted, bail was fixed at $1,500 for him and $200 for each of the witnesses.

The Brown Case.—The proceedings against Alexander Brown, of this city, for a violation of the Edmunds law, and which were set for 5 p. m. yesterday, were continued to 10 o'clock this morning. At that hour the defendant made application, through Mr. Critchlow, for a further continuance to Friday, in order that his counsel, Mr. Arthur Brown, who was engaged in the District Court, could be present. The application was granted.

Mrs. Winegar, who resides in this city, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, the defendant's wife, who lives at E. T. City, Mrs. Phœbe Rodeback and E. W. Rodeback, witnesses in the case, were notified to return at the date named.

Police Pickings.—Wm. Peterson was gathered in last night for discharging his pistol in the street.

Eph. Kelly, an old-time offender, was before Justice Pyper this morning for drunkenness. He will remain in the chain gang twenty-five days in default of $25 fine.

Wm. Evans, the paluter, created a disturbance in Dinwoodey's restaurant last night, and his spree cost him $10. He will serve it out and then answer to a charge of destroying property in Youngberg's saloon by hurling a spirit lamp across the room.

John Foth was in a restaurant last night, and after getting supper refused to pay for it. Some high words ensued, and the police were sent for. Foth's companion, Dan Jones, interfered with the officers and was also arrested. Foth was fined $10 and Jones $15.

A drunken woman, Mrs. Levere, was lodged in jail this afternoon.

Important for Teachers.—The National Education] Association meets in Chicago this year, beginning on the evening of July 12th, and continuing until the 15th. The sessions of the regular association will convene in the Central Music Hall, and the sessions of the various departments will be held in the different halls and theatres. It is expected that the railroads will sell tickets to Chicago at one fare for the round trip.

The programme is the most interesting that has yet been announced. Teachers and superintendents who wish to acquaint themselves personally with the progress of education in this country will find all that they can ask or desire in the programme, as well as in the great displays in the Kindergarten, Art, Industrial and General School work exhibits from all parts of the nation, which will be open from July 7th to 16th, in the Exhibition Buildings, Chicago. To the observing, live teacher it will be an experience better than any school could give. Every teacher who can should attend; it will be one of the great epochs in his life.

Further information may be had from any of the county superintendents of this Territory, from Commissioner Williams and I. Huse, Jr., and Supt. Wm. M. Stewart, Salt Lake City, or from E. H. Anderson, Ogden.

The Museum.—This institution has materially improved in appearance under the supervision of the present curator, Mr. Ford, and many new and interesting specimens are constantly coming in from all parts of the world. Among the numerous objects of interest to visitors we recently observed the unagre verdadaro, or what is commonly called the black scorpion, a recent acquisition from Southern Arizona, and a formidable and repulsive looking creature whose poison is so virulent that $1,000 has been offered for an antidote that will save the life of its victims. Perhaps one of the most singular specimens on exhibition, however, is the vegetable caterpillar—a combination of the vegetable and animal kingdoms that might fairly answer for the "missing link." It consists of a large worm with an embryo tree growing out of his mouth. It is said that this caterpillar swallows the seed, and burrows in the ground; the seed germinates in its stomach and the root grows out of its month and forms a tree four inches in diameter and from five to seven feet in height. The monster Indian fish hook recently contributed by Mr. Jas. A. Little, on his return from the Territory of Alaska, is one of the most extraordinary devices for capturing leviathans of the deep that can well be imagined.

Of course these are but isolated selections from the vast collection of curiosities visible in the Museum.

—The Electric Light Company have got their poles set, and in a few days Boise City will be illuminated with electricity.

REGISTRATION

DRAGGING SLOWLY ALONG—THE TIME LIMITED.

Owing to the few applicants for registration at the office of Mr. Duncan Noble, registrar of the Fourth precinct, in the Hooper & Eldredge block, he will discontinue holding that office open. He will, however, be at the Twentieth Ward schoolhouse to-night from 7 o'clock until 9, when voters may visit him and be registered, and he will also be there to-morrow night at the same hours.

We are informed that only about half of the people in the Fourth precinct entitled to vote, have so far registered. It seems impossible that people can be indifferent to a matter of such great importance. If, as stated, the Commission will permit no payment for registering to be done after this week, and but one half the legal voters have registered, there will have to be active work done for the next four days, or there will be lamentations and regrets when the time comes for voting, and men, who have interests in the city, whose taxes depend upon honest government by the people, find themselves, by their own negligence, in a position where they cannot defend their rights nor protect their neighbors from dishonest government. Every true man in a position to do so will make every effort possible to have his name put on the list, to see it is kept there, and to cast his vote when the time comes.

A Wrecked Train.—An accident occurred on the Utah & Northern on Friday night between Dell and Crabtree switches. A freight train broke in two and the hind part dashed down the grade. Five cars were reduced almost to match wood. An Indian and a squaw were in the wreck. The latter had to be freed by an axe and her piteous cries for help were heartrending. She had both legs broken and sustained internal injuries from which it is thought she cannot recover. The buck was bruised but not very seriously. He was mad, however, and expressed his disgust for white men in general, who he said were no good and ran trains too fast. The passenger train was delayed two and a half hours by the accident.—Ogden Herald, May 16.

Court at Ogden.—In the First District Court at Ogden, yesterday, D. B. Rawson was arraigned on the charge of unlawful cohabitation, and pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced May 28th.

Mark Lindsey; unlawful cohabitation, three counts; plea of not guilty.

Hans Herstead; unlawful cohabitation; plea of guilty; sentence May 28.

Hans J. Peterson, Joseph Wadsworth, P. J. Lammers, John Martin and Willard Bingham, all indicted for unlawful cohabitation, took the statutory time to plead.

The New Apportionment.—The apportionment made for the next Legislature will be found in another part of to-day's paper. By examination it will appear that out of the twenty-four Representative districts, ten are solid "Mormon," twelve mixed, with a majority "Mormon," one doubtful and one "Liberal." Of the Council districts, three are solid "Mormon," eight mixed, with a "Mormon" majority of voters, and one doubtful.

Arrested.—Hans Hansen and Gustave Anderson, of Hyrum, were arrested on Saturday by Marshal Exum. Both were taken before Commissioner Rozers, on charges of unlawful cohabitation. The former gentleman was examined and held to await the action of the grand jury; the latter waived examination and went before that body forthwith. Both were placed under bonds to appear when wanted.—Ogden Herald, May 16.
