

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Salt Lake City.—Invitations are out announcing the reception to be given to the assembly of the museum building next Friday evening, by President and Mrs. Kingsbury, in honor of the graduating classes and the college junior class. The reception will be informal and will last until eight o'clock. Refreshments will be served from the gymnasium rooms. The musical program will be conducted by Organist John J. McClellan, who has secured some of the best artists of the state for the occasion. Those holding invitations are asked to present them at the door.

Mrs. Jessie L. Newlin, one of the special lecturers of the state summer normal institute, has been employed as teacher of reading and elocution in the university summer school, which begins at the close of the institute. She will offer two courses. The first deals with how to read, and how to teach reading; the second will be interpretation of literature, and vocal expression of literature. Mrs. Newlin is Prof. S. H. Clarke's assistant at the University of Chicago, and is one of the best practical teachers of reading in the United States.

The detailed announcements of the state summer normal institute were issued yesterday. Those wishing copies or information can communicate with Secy. J. Fred Anderson, University of Utah.

The regular university summer school announcement will be sent out next week by Miss Esther Nelson, secretary of the summer school.

Prof. Stewart went to Provo Thursday, where he addressed the public school graduates in the evening. Yesterday and today, he, Miss Yi Mont and Mr. Tipton of the university training school, with Supt. A. C. Nelson, President Brimhall, Ella Larson, Mr. Doxey and Mr. Campbell, are exhibiting in the Utah county exhibit of school work.

Yesterday afternoon Professor Marshall delivered a lecture on "The Greek Tragedy" before the "Ladies' Literary Club." Today he addressed the Cache county teachers at Logan.

At the faculty meeting on Monday the alumni scholarship for this year was given to Edgar Angell. Mr. Angell will be graduated from the four years normal course in June. His salary is at $41.25. His salary is at $41.25. His salary is at $41.25.

Atty. C. B. Stewart addressed the students on Wednesday at the general assembly on "School Patriotism." He spoke in interest of the recent debate and was enthusiastically received by the students. After the lecture Oscar Carlson led the students in practicing yells.

Dr. Talmage has been out of school all the week on account of illness. His former illness has returned this time attacking his throat. He is scarcely able to speak. Mr. Pack is conducting his classes.

On Wednesday, May 4, there will be a general election of college student body officers for next year.

Yesterday at noon the students held an enthusiastic meeting practicing yells and college songs for the debate last night.

The program for commencement week is as follows: Saturday evening, May 28, business meeting Alumni association.

Sunday evening, May 29, Baccalaureate sermon, Assembly hall by President Nephi L. Morris of the Salt Lake stake.

Monday, May 30, faculty reception to graduates, 4:30 at normal class exercises 2 p. m., Theater.

Tuesday evening, Alumni reunion, at university.

Wednesday evening, June 1, Commencement exercises.

Thursday, May 21, field day Saltair beach. The commencement committee consists of Professors Roylance, Bradford, Babcock and Arnoldson.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

Contrary to all expectations of the most hopeful teachers, Salt Lake City is to be represented at the coming exposition in the educational department. Reports to the effect that no space would be given the schools, and that again that no effort would be put forth by the schools on account of a lack of time to make a desirable display, all have tended to dampen the ardor of the most enthusiastic. Now comes the official announcement that Utah schools will have a space at the fair and may have until May 12, in which to make preparations. Superintendent Christensen has asked that the principals secure work from their best teachers, and that members of their corps who have shown exceptional proficiency in any one branch be employed to advantage in the preparation of material for the exhibit. What promises to be a drawing card is the manual training display. Mr. Doxey with his aids has the work well under way of completion, and expects to utilize the 100 square feet of space which has been allotted this department. This will be Utah's initial manual training exhibit at any international exposition.

A committee has been appointed by the principal body to manage their display at the next state fair. Principal Haleck is chairman. Supervisors Wetzell, secretary, and Supervisor Doxey, treasurer.

Owing to the frequent applications from teachers for leave of absence from their positions in the schools for a term of one year, and owing to the impossibility of the board's determining in advance the matter of vacancies fitted to the experience and ability of such applicants, it has been found practicable to engage no teachers prior to the general election of teachers. Furthermore, a "leave of absence" will not be considered by the board of education, but that if they are again employed, they will be restored to the same classification in the salary schedule that they previously occupied.

The dedicatory services of the "Model hall" in the Washatch school were held last Wednesday. The students met in the spacious hall, Mrs. Martha B. Jennings representing the educational section of the local Woman's Literary club, addressed the school on the purpose of installing such artistic decorations in the school buildings. This is the third school building which has become the happy recipient of the club's gift.

Mrs. Gillman's "Something Usual" talk at the principal's meeting was a plea for the use of the globe and the abolishment of the flat map from the school room until, at least, a correct conception of direction and relative distances has been formed by the pupil.

Miss Kelsey of the Uintah was on the absent list this week.

L. S. D. UNIVERSITY.

Salt Lake City.—The last of the series of lectures by Prof. Mills of the Latter-day Saints' university will be given next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Barratt hall. The subject is, "The Period Between the Close of the Book of Mormon to the Conquest of Mexico by Cortez." All are invited to attend.

Two excellent singers visited at morning exercises this week—a real prima donna and a magnificent tenor. Miss Emily Larson, the soprano soloist, delighted the general assembly on Thursday morning by singing "O Dry Those Tears" and "With You Beasts." On Friday morning Mr. Joseph Poll sang for us the old time song, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and it was declared to be a rare rendition of a good song.

The chairman of the athletic committee of the faculty is looking up the scholarship of those who expect to compete in the dual meet with Provo. Just before each public contest the committee has looked up each man's record and if he was doing unsatisfactory work, he was prohibited from taking part. The same care is still to be taken. The policy is that no one enter who does not enter primarily as a student. Athletic loafers need not apply. No athlete is so good but what the school will drop him as soon as his class record drops. In two instances we have seen that the faculty means business.

President Paul's class in economic problems of today has been considering lately the development of commerce in this country. The statistical abstracts of the United States and the reports of the labor bureau form the basis of most of the research work of the class. The last report by the students showed, for example, that the progress on exports in the United States on merchandise in 1903 was as follows: In 1900 the exports amounted to $79,971,780. In 1903 was $1,394,463,982, an increase of $1,323,512,202. The per capita exports of merchandise were $13.37; in 1900, $17.56 per capita, an increase of $4.19 per capita.

Echoes of the doings of Arbor day continue to be heard among the classes. An idea of all the speeches, at the six different lunch tables and at the general meeting, may be formed from that given by Maude Baxter, president of the seniors. She said: "Today we have planted two emblems, the white rose and the pine. They are now subject to the elements of sunshine, the winds, the rain, the storms. Will they withstand them all and grow and flourish, or will they shrivel up and die because obstacles stand in the way of their growth? None can say, but time will tell. In a few weeks, we '04s are to leave our much loved school to battle with the problems of life and the temptations of failure. Shall we succeed or fail? We always through life bear in mind the motto suggested by our class emblem, the purity, the truth, the simplicity, the devotion of the rose, feeling that every act of our lives goes to make up a perfect whole, just as the individual petals of the rose combine to make its beauty complete."

"Tree of our love
Grow thou and flourish long.
Ever our grateful song
Shall its glad love prolong
To God above."

The pledge tells its own story of uprightness, steadfastness, firmness; representing a never changing, but progressive, ever upward life, never throwing off the goodly accumulations of its youth, but ever adding thereto as each succeeding spring offers new beauty. Let us combine in our lives the beauty of the rose and the strength of the pine, seeking useful careers rather than brilliant ones, and proving by lives of purity and uprightness our devotion to our Alma Mater."

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY.

Provo.—On account of state conference the usual Sunday meetings in the university were not held.

The school is likely to close this year with a larger number in attendance than ever before in its history.

Prof. Osmond's 15-minute address on, "To will, to work, and to wait," before the M. L. A. conference last Sunday night occasioned many compliments.

The missionary students recently paid their instructor, Prof. O. W. Jarvis, a compliment in the presentation to him of a large framed photograph of this year's class.

President Brimhall spent last Thursday in Salt Lake City in a meeting with the church board of examiners on business relative to church schools next year.

In the late state conference, teachers and students as well as the people of Utah stake, enjoyed especially President Lyman's glowing tribute to the work of the Brigham Young university.

The reader will understand that as these notes must be mailed on Wednesday evening some allowance must be made to the prophet should events later than that date each week not come off as per schedule.

The lecture of Mr. Byron W. King's, poet, editor, and statesman, was thoroughly liked last Thursday evening that arrangements were made for a recital by him the following evening.

At a recent meeting of the board it was decided to offer two new lines of work, a course in iron work and a course in millinery. These departments will belong to the new school of arts and trades, which will be opened next year.

Mr. Francis Shelton, president of the high school '05's, has undoubtedly been called away from his studies. His fellow classmates the other night gave him a rousing farewell, and took occasion also to elect his successor, Mr. A. T. Rasmussen.

A feature of the work in English D that is attracting unusual attention just now is the study of toasts and toasting. Students are divided into sections of 10 to 12, and under a toast-master, and thus the class is being trained in what constitutes excellence in both of these functions.

The two athletic events just now arousing more interest than any other are respectively, the meet with the L. D. S. U. on April 29, and with the U.

of U., on May 7. By the outcome in these two contests, it will be pretty well seen who are to be victorious in the inter-collegiate meet to be held in the season.

Prof. Court assisted by Mr. Mosher Pack did the work of surveying and grading the new campus grounds. The work was fully completed Tuesday afternoon. Gangs of students have been at work nearly every day with picks and shovels, leveling the inequalities and laying out the race courses.

It is with sorrow that we record the death of Miss Asynath Passey, a most exemplary student of the Preparatory school. She had been ill several months of diabetes. Her funeral was held in the Fifth ward assembly hall on Friday of last week. The members of her school attended in a body, and there were present also the Arizona students and a number of the teachers.

Miss Arvilla Clark has consented to give a free concert on May 2, in aid of the movement to furnish and fit up the new quarters of the kindergarten. Her kindness is especially appreciated, being the fact that she gives up her date in Brigham City in order to make this contribution to aid her alma mater.

One of the most pleasing events in the literary society was enjoyed last Saturday evening, when Miss Annie Pike gave a recital, partly of her own composition and partly of well chosen selections. Miss Pike is one of the favorite alumni of the university, whose visits, like her own personality, are always charming and thoroughly enjoyed.

The Salt Lake High school has challenged the B. Y. U. for a meet on the baseball diamond. Owing to various circumstances, our baseball team has had little opportunity to get together and practice. It is therefore not certain that the challenge will be accepted. However, the fact that they have the opportunity to meet the state champions is enticing enough in itself.

Elder William Evans, son of Hon. A. J. Evans of Lehi, and a student of the academy two years ago, returned recently from a mission to the Southern states, and spent a day among his old class-mates. Elder Evans delivered an interesting discourse to the missionary students, especially pointing out to them the new conditions that they would meet when they go out into the world to preach the Gospel.

The new quarters of the kindergarten are now thoroughly fitted up. Artistic type portieres festoon the arches, between the suite of rooms, and the walls have been caulked in attractive colors. Yesterday and today the kindergarten girls served lunch to the visiting county teachers in these rooms, and received a lot of compliments respecting their artistic finish and adaptability.

Your reporter claims neither to be a prophet nor the son of a prophet. Therefore he does not feel charged that two of his prophecies set down in the last week's notes were not fulfilled. The inter-class athletic contest did not come off, owing to the fact that the campus was not in shape. As a consequence of this postponement the Mystery Girls were not on hand in picturesque costumes to furnish refreshments.

The first meeting of the faculty in institute capacity was held last Monday during theology hour. The students met in the various domestic stakes, and took care of themselves, while the teachers listened to a reading by Prof. Nelson of Dr. Starbuck's paper of "Religious Education in Primary Schools." The ideas set forth awakened unusual interest and led to some lively discussions. Meeting was adjourned for one week, when the subject will be taken up for further investigation.

Yesterday and today were great days in the history of the public citizens of Utah county. The second annual exhibition of work in art and manual training was held in the training school building of this institution. The Utah county institute was held yesterday and last night. This morning the school held a grand ball in the north and south, bringing hundreds of school children. Tonight there will be a grand ball in the gymnasium, the occasion being the inauguration of the new School of Trades and Arts in the Brigham Young university.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan, April 22.—Arbor day was celebrated at the college last Friday with a great deal of spirit and enthusiasm. In all, there were 13 trees added to the grounds by the various classes and the faculty. At the morning assembly students and friends assembled and listened to an excellent program of choice selections. This program was held just previous to the tree planting. In the afternoon, many students found pleasure in various athletic sports on the campus. The chief event of the afternoon was a game of ball played by the college team and the team from Hyde Park.

Danford Hickman of Paradise, a graduate from the college in 1897, visited on Tuesday and addressed the students in devotional exercises. Since leaving the college, Brother Hickman has fulfilled a successful mission in a foreign country and is now one of Cache county's most successful teachers. He expressed a hope to the students that he would sometime be able to return and do post graduate work in the college, and he advised them to stay with school as long as possible for their college days, he said, would not be regretted if they make use of their time. We were very glad of his visit and his very good advice.

It was expected that the trustees of the college would hold a session last night.

Thursday, but some of the members were unavoidably detained at home, and the meeting was postponed until Saturday evening, if nothing happens, they will meet and transact important business in the interest of the college.

President Linford went to Salt Lake last Saturday and met with the Church board of examiners.

It is believed here that about all the people of Logan appreciate the fact that the Deseret summer school will hold its first session at the Brigham Young college, this summer, and that the school will receive a very kind reception. Many have already expressed themselves as being very glad of the opportunity of attending the school, and it is quite probable that the attendance from this section will be very large.

Asa Bullen, '06 is now ill of typhoid fever at his brother Herchel's residence. All the students and faculty very much sympathize with Asa, and we all hope for his speedy recovery.

The April number of the Crimson has gone to press and will be out in a short time.

During the exercises on Arbor day, the students were all collected in a group on the college hill, and a photograph of the school was taken.

The Operetta company held a reunion in the gymnasium last night. All who were present report having had a very good time.

Professor Mosiah Hall left Wednesday morning for Garden City, where he will conduct an institute of the Rich county teachers during the remainder of the week.

The alumni officers will meet at the college on Friday night and begin arrangements for the annual reunion to be held in June.

The baseball game of our boys with the Hyde Park team last Friday, resulted in a victory for the visitors. We do not grieve very much, however, over the loss, as Hyde Park won the game through their excellent pitcher, who is a college student.

The second and third year played a match game of basketball in the gymnasium on Thursday afternoon.

WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

Ogden.—The class of 1904 gave one of the most successful banquets of the school year last Friday evening. The attendance was large, the music good, and all who attended had a very enjoyable time.

Prof. A. C. Nelson, superintendent of public instruction, dropped in upon us on a short visit Tuesday morning. At Ogden he addressed the students very impressively upon their present opportunities, and future responsibilities, and we were all deeply and well received by the school.

At a meeting of the "Acorn" staff, held Tuesday evening, the resignation of human spirit as second assistant business manager, was accepted, and Leuben Summers was elected to fill that position.

A great majority of our students this year have been converted to the practical fact that the school does not mean nearly so much as they need the school, and because of this fact, a great majority of the students will pursue their studies until the end of the school year.

The second meeting of a series that is being held for the purpose of giving our prospective missionaries a taste of the practical phase of missionary life, was held in the academy assembly hall shortly after school last Wednesday. A large audience, composed of teachers and students, was addressed by Elders Keuben Saunders, Michael Beus, the former handling the subject, "Faith and Works," and the latter discussing the "Spaulding Manuscript." One of the pleasing features of the meeting was the singing by the quartet, composed of Messrs. Lyons, Emmert, Combs and Lindsay.

A private meeting, consisting of President Shurtliff, Supt. Evans and Principal McKay, was held in the principal's office last Wednesday afternoon. Some in the school are anxiously waiting to know the result.

Students in classics have just completed a thorough study of the "Lady of the Lake." Their work in this has been very commendable.

BEAVER B. B. Y. UNIVERSITY.

Beaver, April 20.—Last Friday being Arbor day the teachers and young men of the school, assisted by some of the citizens of Beaver, set out trees on both sides of the road between here and Beaver. The young ladies of the school and members of the Y. L. M. I. A. of Beaver, prepared lunch for those who set out the trees. A party was given at the school for all who had assisted in the work.

A large audience gathered in the concert hall last Saturday evening to hear the debate between members of this school and members of the Fillmore high school. The judges rendered the decision in favor of the Fillmore students.

Owing to the debate being held Saturday night the Dramatic company did not play in Beaver as they had expected.

No services were held here Sunday. The teachers and many of the students attended conference in Beaver Saturday and Sunday.

Brother Lambert of Salt Lake City, spoke to us in devotional, Monday morning.

As the close of the school is near at hand and our work demands our entire attention we will not debate with Cedar this school year.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Logan.—Last Tuesday morning the Thatcher quartet entertained the students and faculty during the chapel hour. They sang with their usual excellence, and closed with a patriotic song, and closed with a patriotic song.

The members of the Ogden board of education, accompanied by Supt. Allison and Secy. Rolapp visited the college last Wednesday. President Des and Supt. Allison addressed the students at chapel. They all expressed themselves as much pleased with the work being done.

An excellent program by students and faculty was given in the chapel on Arbor day; in the afternoon trees were planted by the various classes and student organizations. Later in the afternoon the inter-school track meet for the Dunbar-Robinson cup, was held on the athletic field east of the college.

Prof. Ostien left for Millard county on Thursday morning to be present at the teachers' institute to be held there yesterday and today. He addressed the people in a mass meeting at evening and talks to the teachers today.

The band and orchestra gave excellent music on Arbor day. The orchestra has resumed its Wednesday matinees.

The matter for the annual catalogue is about completed and will go to the printer in a few days.

The board of trustees hold their annual meeting at the college today.

Prof. Ball, after addressing the Salt Lake Horticultural Society today, will go to Tooele county to investigate an outbreak of crickets there.

Misses Merrill and Lowe were the first of the high teas this afternoon to six guests. These are to continue during the year by different members of the third year manual training girls. The girls make out their own menus and have entire charge of the work; the only limitation is that the cost of the tea shall not exceed $2 for the table of six.

Spring work is progressing very satisfactorily on the college farm and on the dry farms in various parts of the state.

Mr. Horace Kerr, who is in Salt Lake for medical treatment, is improving. His many friends hope to see him back at an early date, in his usual good health.

The surveying class has made a plane table survey of the athletic grounds during the past week.

The junior engineers are studying water wheels and motors.

The Nebraska Library Commission donated 50 volumes of state publications to the college library recently. The Wisconsin State Historical society has also donated a fine collection of 250 volumes of reports.

STATE BRANCH NORMAL.

Cedar City.—Mr. Willard E. Corry, an alumnus of the Normal school, and Mr. Chas. Higgins of St. George, were visitors this week.

The '04 class had a splendid good time.

Friday evening after the dance. Lunch was served at the domicile of Miss Cora Lemmon.

English C is studying George Eliot's "Silas Marner."

The Social club will give a dance Friday.

Mr. Decker returned from a short visit to Salt Lake City Sunday.

Examination is the order of the day in the class room.

Principal Porter's pedagogy class visited the Cedar City public schools this week for the purpose of studying the recitation.

The advanced algebra class has finished its work in the text and is now taking up practical problems met in chemistry and physics.

A number of plays will be put on the stage in the auditorium before school closes. Among others will be a drama to be presented by the faculty.

A Mr. Webb of St. George is taking up the athletic work of the normal.

The Forensic club will not debate with the B. B. of the B. Y. U.; the Beaver academy does not wish to accept the challenge.

The pipe line from the main in the street facing the normal is being laid; the plumbers are also at work in the new building.

Prof. Cummings' lecture on "Greek Gods and Their Temples" were enjoyed very much by those present; the history students taking especial interest in his talks.
