The First Methodists are encouraged at the progress made in the new church, which is now all under roof, so that the lathers and plasterers can begin work at any time.

The sale was recorded yesterday afternoon of 520 rods on Third South street, between Third and Fourth West streets, from Moses Evans to J. J. Conroy for $17,000. This property fronts on the proposed site of the Rio Grande depot.

Seven thousand families established homes in Idaho last year, but R. W. Faris of Boise, now in this city, says that record will be surpassed the current year. The Twin Falls and Minidoka projects are proving the drawing cards in the Gem state.

The Mexican government has extended the time in which wheat may be shipped into the republic from the United States from Jan. 1 to June 1, and it is well as the railroads fell down on getting the 15 cars from Idaho Falls over the Mexican border within the stipulated time.

W. H. Bell, an old time printer from San Francisco, and representing a Linotype manufacturing establishment there, is in town, and says that the factory cannot keep up with the orders. He says there are 43 machines in this state, and that the railroads fell down on getting the 15 cars from Idaho Falls over the Mexican border within the stipulated time.

The rise of $1 a pound went into effect yesterday, and the local lumber yards have been shipping in at a lively rate stock ordered before the rise. The Salt Lake yards are pretty well supplied with lumber of all kinds preparatory to filling heavy orders as soon as spring opens, as contractors and builders are anticipated to rush in building operations with the advent of pleasant weather.

A Yuletide dance was given last evening, under the auspices of the Unitarian society, when 200 Unitarians and their friends were entertained, and music was furnished by Christensen's orchestra. The decorations were very handsome, including numerous forms of evergreen with Christmas suggestions predominating. The next entertainment will be given the first Tuesday in February.

The story is going around that a citizen made the remark recently to a former United States official resident in this city, that he could not afford to wait around like Wilkins Mica for something to turn up. "Wilkins Mica? Who is he?" was the reply. "The first party was much taken aback for an instant, but collected himself and said, 'Why, Mica is a man who lives in Coalville.' 'Ah, yes,' replied the former governmental dignitary, 'I think I know him.'"

WAS MARRIAGE LEGAL?

This is Question Spokane Man Asks of Deputy Clerk Smith.

It is not often that a person who performs a marriage ceremony is called upon to certify as to the legality of the transaction, but such a case arose yesterday when Deputy County Clerk David A. Smith received a letter from John Allen of Spokane, Wash., wanting an assurance that his marriage to Miss Anna Bell Martin was perfectly legal. It appears from the letter that some one has been trying to make Allen believe that his marriage was illegal. The letter follows:

"Spokane, Wash., Dec. 23, 1905. Mr. Smith: Clerk's Office. Dear Sir—I was married in your city several weeks ago and I believe you were the Mr. Smith who performed the ceremony at the courthouse on a Saturday night. A cur's trick has been played on me by someone, saying that our marriage was not legal. I married one Anna Belle Martin after a courtship of three years. Kindly let me know by return mail if I am not legally married. Yours respectfully, mail if I am not legally married. Yours respectfully,

"JOHN ALLEN."

Mr. Smith looked up the records in regard to the matter yesterday and found that he married the couple in the clerk's office on Oct. 19, 1905. The certificate has been duly recorded according to law and there is no question as to the legality of the entire transaction. The deputy has written Mr. Allen and assured him that he was legally married.

A Jamaican Lady Speaks Highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

WHAT THE GOVERNORS SAY.

Western States Heartily in Sympathy With "See America First" Movement.

Governors of various western commonwealths have written the Commercial club of this city, relative to the "See America First" movement, as follows:

Miguel A. Otero, governor of New Mexico—"I heartily agree with you in every particular (referring to the 'See America First' movement). I will name two delegates to your convention of Jan. 25. I would have named them before, but wished to first ascertain if they would attend."

Gov. Frank E. Gooding of Idaho—"I desire to accept the invitation to be present on Jan. 25 and to assure you that I am heartily in favor of the movement and discussion. Idaho is one of the most attractive Western states, from the tourists' standpoint, and it is pleasing to note a recognition of the importance of the work that the Salt Lake Commercial club has undertaken."

Gov. B. B. Brooks of Wyoming—"I heartily endorse the enterprise undertaken by the Commercial club for the exploitation of this western country, and will not only take pleasure in appointing delegates as requested, but if possible will accept your cordial invitation to attend your deliberations on Jan. 25."

Gov. Jesse F. McDonald of Colorado—"I beg to assure you of my hearty co-operation in this matter. I shall be pleased to be present if at all possible. I will within a short time appoint delegates for the state."

Gov. Pardee of California—"The subject to which you call the new church an important one, that justifies the calling of an interstate conference. I trust that the session will prove to be a success. The attention of the press and the commercial bodies of California will be called to your letter urging their co-operation."

Gov. J. H. Johnson of Minnesota—"I am in sympathy with any movement which will tend to promote the welfare and prosperity of the trans-Mississippi region, and sincerely trust that your conference will be productive of much good."

Gov. N. C. Blanchard of Louisiana—"The matter is an important one. I intend to place it before the people by the publication of your letter in the New Orleans papers and the other papers of this state. I am fully in accord with you to divert this travel in the summer from Europe to the Western section of the country." Gov. Blanchard also says that he believes much of this travel can and should be diverted to the south in the winter season, and assures the committee that he will take pleasure in appointing two delegates at large to attend the conference here on Jan. 25.

Folk of Missouri is in hearty sympathy with the movement and states that while it is difficult at the present time for him to fill engagements outside the state, he is anxious to attend, and will do so should it be possible.

Gov. Chamberlain of Oregon—"It follows, therefore, from this expression of view that I heartily endorse every effort being made by the Commercial club of your city to foster and encourage a desire to visit the western country, that for magnificence and grandeur of scenery is unequalled by any part of the civilized globe. I therefore wish you success in your efforts looking to a conference of trans-Mississippi delegates, and if I can possibly do so will take pleasure in being with you at the date named in your letter."

Gov. E. Y. Saries of North Dakota—"I am most heartily in accord with the movement inaugurated by the Commercial club of your city as outlined in your letter of the 5th. I have often expressed the conviction that Americans should see America first, then Europe. I hope that I will be able to be present and take part in your deliberations."

EPH KELLY IS DEAD.

Familiar Character Passed Away at The Police Station Last Night.

"Young Corbett," the prize fighter, was once asked: "What is the hardest punch a man can receive?" His reply was: "The whiskey punch." The statement was brought to mind last evening when Eph Kelly, familiarly known as "Col. Kelly," passed away at the police station.

Although Kelly was but 40 years of age, he was regarded as an old man. "Poor old Eph," was the remark heard about police headquarters, and on the streets last night when it was learned that he was dead.

Kelly was born in this city 49 years ago. He was a bookbinder by trade and it is claimed that he was a good one. When a young man he acquired the drinking habit and could not shake it off.

A few years ago a kind hearted citizen tried to help Eph. He told Kelly that he would send him to the Keely to be cured. Eph's reply was: "No, Mr. ———. You're good to offer it, but I'm having too much fun."

Kelly died about 5 o'clock last evening. City Physician Wilcox had been at the old man's bedside repeatedly and did all he could for him. When Kelly realized that the end was near, he said a "goodbye" to those standing around him, and when he breathed his last many eyes were dimmed with tears.

Arrangements for his funeral have not been completed as yet, but it is understood that relatives will take care of the remains.

The Grip.

"We fore we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by all druggists.

1780—Benedit Arnold born in Norwich, Conn.; died 1861. Arnold's military career was a glorious one up to the date of his treason at West Point. He fought with great skill on Lake Champlain while in command of the flotilla. At Ben's Heights he commanded the left wing of the American army and a few days later defeated the British at Stillwater, where he was again wounded. After his desertion to the British he engaged in a warfare of burning and pillage in Virginia.
