

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

SABBATH SERVICES.—In the morning most of the time was occupied by returned missionaries, who related some of their experience while in the East. The service was closed by Elder Geo. Q. Cannon.

In the afternoon Elder Orson Pratt preached a discourse upon the divine authenticity of the Bible and the Book of Mormon, showing that so far as it rested upon human evidence, the preponderance was greatly in favor of the latter. The original manuscripts of the Old and New Testaments were never seen by any now living, and we have only the testimony of about four, Matthew, John, Paul and Peter, in proof of the truth of the New Testament. There are a dozen in favor of the Book of Mormon, and these witnesses lived in and were known by the present generation; and they solemnly testify that they not only know that the Book of Mormon is a divine record, but they also saw and handled the original records from which it was translated.

The discourse of Elder Pratt was very interesting, and was reported.

ARRIVED.—Elders N. H. Felt and Thos. Jackson arrived at Ogden, on Saturday, from missions in the East. They brought with them a company of sixteen Saints, from New York State, as part of the fruits of their labors there, who reached this city on Saturday evening. They were to have been joined by others, from other sections of the country, but owing to some unexplained cause, probably a misunderstanding as to the time of departure, the latter company was missed; but will probably arrive in a day or two. Elders Felt and Jackson are well.

ADVERTISING.—It would have paid the business men of this city, who were not present at the Theatre on Saturday night, to have attended and heard Barum's hints, views and facts on the use of printer's ink. The value of advertising, of striking out of the beaten path in seeking to attract public attention through the columns of the newspapers, and of persistently keeping before the people the value of special articles offered for sale, were pertinently set forth, and illustrated by various telling anecdotes that carried with them a convincing force. The manner in which one New York man made a fortune by the sale of cough-candy, and the way in which Barum himself made his Museum a center of attraction and gave it a world-wide notoriety, and this by a judicious and liberal employment of printer's ink, were not the least attractive portions of his lecture. It pays to advertise liberally.

BEAUTIFUL SPECIMEN OF HOME MANUFACTURE.—On Saturday we were shown a lady's hat, of gimp straw, manufactured by Mrs. Nancy H. Rockwood, of this city. The preparation of the straw as well as the manufacture of the hat, was the work of Mrs. R., and it was quite as elegant, light and tasteful as any article of the kind which we have seen imported. With skill like this in our midst it is simply an indication of foolish extravagance and waste to import hats or bonnets for ladies, gentlemen's or children's wear. If Mrs. Rockwood would only initiate a few young women into the mysteries of this art we think it would pay her and them, and might be made a great saving of means to the Territory.

MURDERERS ARRESTED.—Morgan Day and Thomas Knapp, the two men who recently murdered Susan Jones, the negro woman, at Ogden, after undergoing an examination there before his Honor Judge Richards, were brought from that city to this on Saturday last, and placed in safe keeping. One or both of them has made a confession of his guilt.

BARNUM'S LECTURE.—For shrewd, practical suggestions, concentrated business admonitions, hard sense, admirable advice and sound reasoning, we have heard few efforts from traveling lecturers that would begin to compare with that delivered by Mr. P. T. Barnum on Saturday night. While making an attempt at ornate oratorical display, he kept his audience closely attentive and keenly interested during the entire time of delivery. To young men starting out in life the dollars paid to hear the lecture would be one of the best investments they could make; while the sound advice and wisdom, backed up by earnestness and apt, often amusing, illustrative anecdotes, made it valuable, pleasing and instructive to all who heard it.

REACHED HOME.—A paragraph received this morning, from Chicago, per W. U. Telegraph line, says:

"Governor Shaffer, of Utah, arrived at his home in Freeport, Ill., this evening, having been summoned on account of the serious illness of his wife. He reports everything quiet in the Territory and expects to return in a few days."

DRUNKEN.—The Ogden Junction of Saturday says, "Last evening the youngest child of Joseph and Mary Harris, aged 16 months, fell into the Ogden Canal and was drowned."

The same paper, under the head "Spiritual Progress" says: "Ogden is looking up. Civilization is advancing. There has been a 'drunk' brought up before the Alderman's Court nearly every day this week. Let our Christian friends who long for the regeneration of Utah rejoice and be encouraged."

NOT VERY FAVORABLE.—The Colorado Chief, of the 12th inst., in noticing a "sort of pamphlet" on "Mormonism," written by a fellow who formerly followed the profession of an editor in this Territory, says he is dubious as to the value of the publication, and that the public has been bored with cheap publications on "Mormonism" for twenty years past, without any more real good resulting than from the publication of the Police Gazette, the Daily Doings, or any other semi-bawdy publication, or those of the type of the paper which was thrown at the "Mormons" from Washington by ambitious law-makers. The Chief thinks it would be as profitable to write an occasional pamphlet concerning the mysteries and secrets of Washington City, female clerks, Congressional harpings and other pleasures of orthodox virtue on the Atlantic slope.

We think it probable that the editor of the Chief is acquainted with this petty parish officer and would-be author, and knowing him to be anything but a credit to the professions of author or journalist, and that his fabrications about "Mormonism," as well as everything else proceeding from the same source, would be characterized by "Munchausenisms," has wisely refrained from saying a word, by way of a puff, in respect to his trashy pamphlet. If others in the profession would take a similar course the public mind would not become so abused in respect to the people of Utah, and the pecuniary harvests of such miserable penny-a-liners, as the author of the pamphlet, under review by the Chief, would be very slim, as they ought to be.
