Cannon-Ball Collision.

HUTCHINSON, Ks., 3.—The Cannonball train leaving here for the west at 5.20 to-night ran into passenger train No. 6, at Salem switch station, nine miles distant. No. 6 was on the side-track waiting for the Cannon-ball to pass, but the switch being misplaced the Cannon-ball ran into it, completely demolishing both engine and baggage cars. Several persons were seriously injured, but the details cannot be ascertained to-night. The Cannon-ball was running 40 miles an hour.

Topeka, Ks., 3.—A special to the Commonwealth concerning the collision on the railroad at Salem, briefly reported last night, says engineers Westlake and Fisher and their firemen, and baggageman Holliday, were killed, and four passengers seriously injured; names not reported. They are now at Nickerson, receiving the best attention possible. The locomotives of both trains are badly wrecked, but the passenger coaches are not much injured. Further particulars of the accident say the switch which was misplaced, was turned by a brakeman who disappeared immediately, but went to Nickerson three hours later and gave himself up. The engineer, fireman and baggageman were burned in the wreck, which soon ignited from the engine fire and was fed by fresh coal in the tender.

When taken from the ruins the bodies were scarcely recognizable. Road Carpenter Shafer, who was in the baggage car, has since died of his injuries, making six deaths by the accident. All of the dead men except Holliday, resided here.

Mineral Land Decision.

WASHINGTON, 3.—Secretary Teller to-day rendered a decision in respect to the right of mill owners and residents upon mineral lands to cut timber from such lands within the lands of mining claims regularly located, and which are possessed under local laws and customs and United States laws governing such claims. The Commissioner General of Land Office, in a letter, expressed the opinion that the locator upon such lands is unable to protect himself in the courts or otherwise, as he has only possessory right to said lands subject to certain subsequent conditions, but that he can obtain a patent and, although his title to the land is still good, the United States government cannot protect him. He based this opinion on the ground that the act of June, 1679, now in force, authorizes settlers and residents in mineral districts to cut and remove timber from public and mineral lands for any purpose except for export. He indicated, however, that a reservation might be made by the department, a regulation in favor of mining locations to timber growing upon their claims. In this opinion the Secretary does not concur. He says locators of mining claims, so long as they comply with the law governing their possession are invested by Congress with the exclusive right to the possession and enjoyment of all of the surface included within the lines of their location. This, he says, ought to amount to property capable of being enjoyed and transferred, and may be protected in the courts, and it is the duty of the possessor to care for his own if trespass be attempted, but, he adds, the duty is not imposed upon the government of intervening to save the timber of the individual occupant which it declares may be lawfully taken for the general interest of the neighborhood.

Treason.

DAYTON, O., 3.—Intelligence is received here that Dr. Wm. Egry, formerly a well known physician of this city but now living at Oberkerchen, Germany, has been sentenced to four years imprisonment in that country for alleged treasonable utterances against the policy of Emperor William. Dr. Egry went to Germany a year ago but claimed while there to be an American citizen.

Thrown 50 Feet Over an Embankment.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., 3.—Concerning the accident on the Memphis & Charleston, near Decatur: The train was moving at a rapid rate, when the sleeper and a first class coach were thrown from the track by a broken rail and sent rolling down the embankment 50 feet. The sleeper rolled over twice and the coach three times. There were 22 passengers in the two cars and all except five were more or less seriously injured. Sleeping car conductor Bangham, and conductor Muller were dangerously hurt.

A Mississippi Mission.

NEW YORK, 3.—A Washington special says: The special congressional commission, to examine the work in progress for the improvement of the Mississippi River under the last appropriation bill, will start on its tour in about three weeks, and it promises to be a second Yorktown junketing. The special commission will go by train to St. Louis, where a swift river steamer is fitting out for it. Curious stories are told concerning some of the stores to be carried by it.

A Precocious Murderer.

CHICAGO, 3.—At Norwood Park, northern suburb, this morning, Rudolph Krick, aged eight years, killed a domestic in a neighbor's family with an Enfield rifle loaded with slugs. The killing arose out of a quarrel because the girl drew water from his father's well.

Struck.

DAYTON, 3.—Two hundred and fifty cartmen and general laborers in the coal mines and iron furnaces at Wellston, Jackson County, struck this morning, closing the mines generally. The cause of the strike is a refusal of the operators to pay the same wages as at Colton.

A Cow on the Track.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., 3.—A passenger train on the Mont Alto road struck a cow, and one coach was thrown from the track and nine passengers injured. Mrs. Ditlow, of Huntingdon, Dr. Hocas, of Shippensburg, J. G. Hess, of Quincy, and Conductor Fahnstock seriously.

The Poisoned Flowers.

WASHINGTON, 3.—Professor Falden has submitted to District Attorney Corkhill a report of the chemical examination just concluded of a poisoned bouquet given to Guiteau by his sister Mrs. Scoville, the day before his execution. The report says a large but half opened flower contained over five grains of white arsenic, not only sufficient to cause death, had it been swallowed, but largely in excess of a fatal dose. The intent to poison by the person who prepared the flowers would have been defeated by an emetic. The original amount of arsenic was greater than that found, as the petals failed to retain in a dry state some which adhered when moist. Corkhill says he is trying to discover who poisoned the flowers, and if found he will be held to answer.

Democratic Gain.

HARTFORD, Conn., 3.—Most of the towns in the State held elections for town officers to-day. The vote generally was very light. In Hartford the democrats elected all of the town officers except the treasurer, who is a republican, Middletown and Bloomfield went democratic; Waterbury republican, and West Hartford, Windsor, Glastonbury and Suffield also elect republicans for the town officers. In Hartford last year the republicans elected the majority of the town officers, but this year they are democratic.

THE POLITICAL POT.

Judge Folger Accepts.

NEW YORK, 3.—Judge Folger, the nominee of the recent republican convention for governor of this State, has written a long letter accepting the nomination.

Hepburn Declines.

A. P. Hepburn, nominated by the recent republican convention held at Saratoga, for the office of Congressman at large, writes as follows:

New York, October 2d.

To Hon. John E. Smith, Chairman of the Republican State Central Convention:

Dear Sir—Having received no formal notice of my nomination for the office of Congressman at large by the recent republican convention, I address this communication to you. It is quite apparent that owing to the unfortunate circumstances that have come to light since the adjournment of the convention a very large portion of the republicans of the State are not disposed to accept its conclusions as the authorative utterance of the party. Nothing, however, should be left undone to secure unity and harmony in the party, and I don't think it right to enter upon a canvass without an earnest effort in that direction. It seems to me that for the purpose of attaining such a result all questions should be submitted anew to representatives of the party assembled for such purpose, and in furtherance of that object, while fully appreciating the high compliment paid me by the convention and returning my sincere thanks for the same, I deem it my duty to acquaint you with my declination of said nomination. Very respectfully,

A. P. HEPBURN.

Comments of the Press.

The Herald says: The letter would have been shorter if Mr. Folger had not felt it necessary to attempt to justify himself and to his friends, as well as he could, his acceptance of the nomination, which he admits persons of "good standing in the community, and some holding official relations with the Republican party" urged him to decline. Instead of taking their sound and honest advice, Mr. Folger has chosen to accept the nomination. A large part of his present letter is naturally taken up with a discussion of the question whether the receiver is really as bad as the thief. We wish, for his own sake, that he had taken their advice and declined the nomination which, as they saw, as he sees, and as everyone in the State sees, was procured for him by the most contemptible fraud and forgery. One wrong necessitates another, and the men who compassed Mr. Folger's nomination against the will of the convention, will not stop at trifles to secure his election against the voters.

The World says: Mr. Folger invites the Republicans of New York to move on to battle under his banner to the inspiring strains of the Dead March in Saul. Three points of State policy on which Folger dwells most earnestly and intelligently in his remarkable letter are the necessity of local self-government in our cities, towns and villages; the importance of remitting to primary meetings of the people for a choice of delegates who are to represent the people in the organization of political parties and the duty of economy in the administration of our State and local affair. As those three points happen to be cardinal features of the Democratic policy, which Grover Cleveland stands pledged to carry into effect, respectible Republicans may contemplate with equanimity the gloomy party prospects which their candidate unfolds to them.

New York, 3.—The newspapers comment upon the letters of Folger and Hepburn as follows: The Tribune says: The man on the Saratoga ticket whom nobody objected to, and with whose nomination everybody is satisfied, finds the scandals of the convention too heavy a burden, and he refused to stand under them. He prints a letter, modest, manly and consistent. He makes no reflections upon the convention that nominated him for Congressman at large, but frankly says that circumstances have come to light since which prevent the republicans from regarding its action as authoritative. He is unwilling to hold the nomination under such circumstance, and so withdraws. He stands all the stronger for this with a great majority of republicans. Mr. Folger is not unwilling to hold the nomination under such circumstances. He accepts and writes two or three columns to tell why. A case entirely clear could have been told in shorter space.

FOREIGN.

The Conquest of Egypt—They Fall to See It.

CAIRO, 3.—A separate building is being fitted up for the reception of prisoners to be tried by the court martial, including Arabi Pasha and Toulba Pasha. The court will sit on the same premises as that in which the prisoners are confined in order to obviate the necessity of conveying them to and fro.

The lower classes fail to realize the defeat of Arabi Pasha and the national cause, but amongst the commercial section and the middle class a better feeling prevails. In influential native circles it is not expected that respect for the Khedive can be restored.

The Pope's Fault.

London, 3. — Paris Figaro publishes a report that the Pope, while walking in the gardns of the Vatican, was fired at by a soldier, but not hit. The report has not been confirmed and is discredited at the Italian embassy in London.
