PORTLAND, Oregon, Jan. 30.—The Oregonian's Colfax, Washington Territory, special: Dan Conroy, foreman of tracklaying on the Spokane & Palouse Railway, called upon a Miss Hughes, daughter of I. I. Hughes, editor of the Palouse News, to attend a dance to be given at Gardfield. While in a buggy he managed to drug her in some way, then placed her in a box car near Palouse City, and ravished her. Not satisfied with his own guilt, he induced ten of his gang to do likewise. The girl is about 18 years of age and of prepossessing appearance. She is not expected to live. She was kept a prisoner in the car for 22 hours. The wretch was caught in Spokane Falls, and Sheriff Berry will bring him by tomorrow's train, provided he is not lynched.

BLOODY MURDER.

Finally William drew his pistol and shot Blakely through the jaw. Blakely then drew his weapon, but the old man had drawn his by this time and shot him in the forehead. BALTIMORE, Jan. 30.—The correspondent of the Sun in Rome has furnished an interesting description of the gifts to Pope Leo on the occasion of his jubilee. He says the gifts have come in so rapidly that two additions have already been made to the building in which they are to be exposed. So far 7000 cases of articles have been handled, and the end is not yet. Up to January 13 presents to the value of ten millions of dollars have passed through the hands of the Vatican inspector. Even that sum has been exceeded in money. The United States has out-stripped every other country in her cash donations. The of the whole money gift cannot be ascertained, all the contributions not being in hand. This manner of testifying to Pope Leo the fealty of the Catholics of the United States was strongly recommended by the American bishops, who gave their attention to it principally, though many exquisite presents from their dioceses will be received. It has won the admiration of the Pope, who is more pleased with it than that of any other country since it furnishes him with ready means to spread the Catholic church through Europe and parts of the far east, an enterprise into which he has thrown his heartiest energies. In proportion to the number of Catholics in the various countries, Belgium and Hungary have sent the most gifts. Everything used in Catholic service is there in profusion. The besides their heavy money contributions, are represented by rolls of Irish laces, cases of vestments, golden altar vessels and ornaments in abundance, and the finest exhibition of porcelain in the exposition. Patriotism and religion have been prettily blended by them in this portion of their offerings, as instanced in the beautiful oval mirror, surmounted by a tiara and the Keys of Peter. At the base is a harp of Erin resting on a bed of shamrocks. Many of the tributes from Ireland remain unpacked.

It is reasonable to suppose that the time is near at hand when I shall go hence forever, and I would be glad, personally, to know the men of the present generation, to whom the destiny of Mississippi is to be confided. Mississippi from the time of her territorial existence has borne an honorable part in the affairs of the country, and has shrunk from no sacrifices which patriotism has demanded. Bearing a testimony as one who comes down to you from a past age, I can applaud the chivalry and integrity of old Mississippi, and my highest wish is that her future record may be worthy of her past."

Already several barges have been sunk and the steamers Tamm, Mattie Belle and Hayes have been sunk. The Hayes was valued at $80,000. The Mattie Belle was also a fine steamer; the Tamm was a ferry boat. The wharf boat of the Harto & Gratton Railroad was swept away at 11 o'clock. The steamer City of Monroe snapped her lines at noon and is a wreck. The ice has stopped running and there is little chance for thousands of dollars' worth of property still below the gorge.

FROZEN SOLID, and passenger steamers have been unable to reach Martha's Vineyard for JERSEY CITY, Jan. 31.—In a glove contest tonight between Dominick McCaffrey and Jack Dempsey, the latter won in ten rounds. Dempsey did nearly all the leading and scored three points to McCaffrey's one. Jere Dunn was referee.

The contest was given under the auspices of the Warren Athletic Association. An elevated stage, 26 feet square, had been erected in the centre of the floor. At 11:30 Dempsey and McCaffrey entered the ring, the early part of the evening having been monopolized by lesser lights.

THE FIGHT.

taken as a whole, was a very tame affair. There was much dissatisfaction over Referee Dunn, he being considered a friend of Dempsey's. The crowd called for Harry Hill, Charley Jouson and several others. Dempsey weighed 153 pounds, McCaffrey, 168.

In the first round McCaffrey cut Dempsey on the forehead.

In the second round Dempsey struck McCaffrey on the right eye.

Dempsey was aggressive in the first part of the battle, trying to settle his opponent in short order. In the last five rounds he acted on the defensive, and McCaffrey had to follow him all over the ring, several times begging him to stand up and fight.

McCaffrey tried his best to knock Dempsey out, but the Nonpareil always cleverly avoided the punishment. Several times McCaffrey tried to swing his right, but Dempsey cleverly dodged.

In the third round Dempsey struck McCaffrey in the right eye.

In the fourth round, Dempsey caught McCaffrey on the right temple, causing an ugly mark.

In the fifth round, Dempsey struck McCaffrey but did not draw blood.

In the sixth round, McCaffrey tried to put Dempsey over the ropes but Dempsey got away.

The seventh round was all in Dempsey's favor, he doing all the leading and planting blow after blow on McCaffrey's ribs and shoulders.

In the closing round, there were four blows given by Dempsey.

Three gloves were worn. Dempsey, at the end of the exhibition, appeared very fresh, and said he was able to go ten more rounds.

McCaffrey took his defeat very sorely. He was also in good condition with the exception of his bruised eye and forehead. There were nearly 100 police present during the contest, but there was no interference. There was no protest by spectators against the decision. The contest lasted 45 minutes. Thirty-five hundred spectators attended.

SHARON, Penna., Feb. 1.—Dr. J. T. Kugler arrived yesterday with the body of his son Charles, who perished during the blizzard in Jerold County, Dakota. The doctor reports a terrible state of affairs existing in that territory within the track of the recent blizzard. The total number of deaths will exceed one thousand, although the papers of that section are trying to suppress the fact. He has seen a list of 500 who had perished, and for miles inland, beyond the reach of railways and telegraphs, there are people about whom nothing is yet known and whose end will probably always be a mystery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—The chamber of commerce recently appointed a committee to consider the subject of tariff as affecting the sugar interests on the Pacific coast. The committee have prepared two reports, which will be submitted to the chamber of commerce tomorrow. The majority report advocates that the present tariff be maintained and a strong protection plank is included in a resolution which will be presented. The minority report proposes that the duty on raw sugar be partially or entirely taken off and that a compensating bounty be paid for domestic sugar, claiming that this would afford protection to producers in California and elsewhere in the United States.

Raw sugar declined in price today to 5½ cents per pound, and the cause of the reduction is said to be that a surplus is expected on the coast during the coming year. Much sugar is being imported from Manila and Central America to compete with the Hawaiian trade. It is thought that the refineries in this city will have a surplus of 50,000 tons, which will probably be sent to New York in a raw state.

A prominent sugar dealer said today the Hawaiian crop is estimated to be at least 125,000 tons, while the importations from other sources will amount to 35,000 tons, making the total receipts 160,000 tons. The consumption of the whole Pacific Coast is but 75,000 tons, while 25,000 tons of refined sugars are shipped annually to points as far east as the Missouri River. This will leave a surplus of 60,000 tons for the year, all of which will no doubt be shipped around the Horn to New York.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 1.—The convention of the Southwestern Immigration Association was held here today, 400 delegates being present. Colonel Elliott, secretary of the State Immigration Committee, delivered the address of the day. In Kansas and Nebraska lands at $50 per acre are too high for emigrants, when Texas soils, unrivalled in richness, are freely offered at from $5 to $10.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—John L. Sullivan, replying to the proposals of Fleming, manager of Jem Smith, says he would prefer to fight Smith in a prize ring with bare knuckles, and the number of spectators be limited to ten on each side, and the battle to take place a fortnight after his meeting with Mitchell.

BOSTON, Feb. 1.—Mike Daly of Bangor and Jimmy Carroll of Holyoke, well-known light-weights, fought 15 rounds tonight for a purse of $500. For the next twelve rounds both men did some savage work, although Daly seemed to be the favorite. In the 15th round the two men gathered themselves for a hard fight, when the police stopped the fight, which was called a draw.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—For some time past rumors of a disagreeable nature have been disturbing the minds of the congregation of Ada Street Methodist Episcopal Church, and they have at last culminated in a scandal that has caused unprecedented excitement among that quiet and religious community. The alleged culprit is Rev. J. P. Buckingham, pastor of the above-named church. He was arrested this evening on a warrant charging illegitimate parentage, sworn out by Miss Eva Parker, a young lady of 18 who has recently become a mother. Buckingham's legal adviser said to a reporter that his client had never heard of the charge until the child was born. He then immediately called a meeting of the official board of the church which, after due deliberation, passed a resolution expressing belief in his innocence, and a determination to stand by him. The lawyer charges that the whole thing is an attempt at blackmail. Mr. Buckingham gave bonds in $800 to appear before the circuit court. He will also have a church trial, which will take place soon, and in the meantime will suspend his labors as pastor.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—A telegram from Constantinople regarding the arrest at Damascus by a Turkish soldier of an Algerian alleged to have been under French protection, says: "The arrested Algerian was charged with fourteen offenses.
