Observation and facts gained from conversation with men engaged in taking out logs, convinced us that the timber is proctically inextanutible. The endeavor to obtain the passage of a most unrighteous and proscriptive bill subversive of the common rights and privileges of American citizens, and specially intended for the afflic-tion of the inhabitants of this fair and prosperous Territory. To hear the ravings of the almost frantic promoters of that bill, one might logs, convinced us that the timber is practically inexhaustible. The canyon is an unusually long one, and the guiches tributary to it, many of which contain millions of feet of timber, are numerous. The timber is of durable quality, and is well adapted for building. All the woodwork of the new Co-op. at Lo-gan was taken from the canyon, and orders from all parts of the val-ley are being filled by those engag-ed in the business. The facilities for getting the wood out of the have supposed that anarchy would have reigned in Utah within a week after the close of Congress, if that ous features intact. But Congress did not scare much, nor was it to be driven by petty political hacks, for getting the wood out of the for getting the wood out of the canyon are as good now as they will ever be, and as lumber cannot be delivered at Logan at less than 380 per thousand feet, no town along the C. P. will ever find it to their interest to deal in it. At present the rapid growth of young timber more than makes up for what is taken out. So the bill did not become law, and day one of the most peaceable and prosperous commonwealths in the Union, not even half so badly pinch-

Attorney-General Williams has received a letter from Mrs. Alice H. Crawford, widow of Judge Crawford, (murdered lately in Louisians,) under recent date from Columbia, Caldwell Parish, La., in which she says: "You are doubtless aware of the deliberate and cold blooded murder of Judge T. G. Crawford and District Attorney A. H. Harris, of the 12th judicial district, of the State of Louisiana. That cruel and horrible deed which has left two widows and nine orphans desolate, has also thrown the whole country in such a state of trepidation and fear that I cannot forbear stating the fact to you. It is perfectly terrible to be compelled to live in this country now, people are afraid terrible to be compelled to live in this country now, people are afraid of one another, afraid to say what they think, it is even worse taan during the war, for then if men would make a pretense of patriotism to the south they were safe. Now, no one knows he is safe. Sir, if the President does not send us protec-tion and that speedily, the best men in our community will be murder ed. Threats are abroad against our parish judge, or sheriff, and several of our most prominent citizens, because they have felt some interest in tracing up these assassins. Self-
