Frederick the Great wrote to one of his Generals: "I send you with 60,000 men against the enemy. On numbering the troops, it was found there were but 50,000. The officer expressed his surprise at such a mistake on the part of his sovereign. Frederick's reply was, 'I counted you for 10,000 men.'"

Some absurd people will not believe the assertion, but it is nevertheless true, that the most valuable as well as the most useful stone the world knows anything of, is the grindstone. It is worth to man all the diamonds the world possesses.

A married lady who was in the habit of spending most of her time in the society of her neighbors, happened one day to be ill, and sent her husband in great haste for a physician. The husband ran a short distance and then returned, exclaiming: "My dear, where shall I find you when I return?"
