

Sister Ellen Clawson, of the Primary Associations, made a report.

In general, these associations are in a prosperous condition, seeking to meet the legitimate ends of their organization and accomplishing much good in their spheres.

Elder Joseph H. Felt read the following report of the Y. M. M. I. A. of this Stake:

SALT LAKE CITY, February 28, 1891.
Presidency Salt Lake Stake of Zion:

Dear Brethren—We take much pleasure in submitting to you a brief report of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Associations of this Stake of Zion. With the assistance of a few brethren, who kindly consented to aid us in our labors, we have visited all the associations in this Stake and find that they are generally in a flourishing condition. While the attendance in some cases could have been larger, yet in the main it has been good, and what is of far more importance, there seems to prevail a spirit of genuine and active interest among both members and officers.

The number of associations in the Stake is forty-three. There is no organization in the Nineteenth Ward, as, at present, they have no house to hold meetings in. The presiding authorities in each ward have rendered us all the assistance in their power, evincing thereby a full appreciation of the work carried on by these organizations.

At the Y. M. M. I. A. conference in June we will have a full report of the condition of the association, a copy of which we shall take pleasure in submitting to your attention.

Respectfully, your brethren,
JOSEPH H. FELT,
ROYAL B. YOUNG,
JAMES W. EARDLEY.

Elder Joseph H. Parry, stake secretary of the sabbath schools, Salt Lake County, reported that there were forty-seven sabbath schools organized, with an enrollment of ten thousand children; an average attendance of nearly six thousand, or a little less than fifty per cent. of the children of the Latter-day Saints residing in this stake.

There are one thousand officers and teachers, with an average attendance of six hundred and fifty.

A few of the schools are thoroughly graded from the primary to the highest theological classes, and they are carried on with a great deal of success and satisfaction.

Most of the schools are using the leaflet lessons prepared by the Deseret Sunday School Union Board. These leaflets have proved better aids to the Sunday school work than anything ever before devised; and "their discontinuance," he said, "is very much regretted by every school which has used them."

There is an active missionary committee of 11 who also visits all the Sunday schools in the Stake, and their labors are attended with good effects; but better results would follow if these brethren were so situated as to visit each school once a month.

Counselor C. W. Penrose read the report of fast offerings of this Stake, which made a good showing.

President Angus M. Cannon said it would be well for each organization in this Stake in making out reports, to make a condensed one of the totals of numbers and important matters, etc., to be read before the conference, and in addition to send in a complete statistical report for filing.

He said that reports were received from fourteen quorums of Elders, all of which were represented in good working order. Much interest was taken by the brethren in their meetings, although the attendance was not as large as it should be. Lectures were delivered which were very profitable to the members. Occasionally the time was occupied bearing testimonies.

The Tenth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Eighteenth quorums of Elders failed to submit any reports.

Latter-day Saints' College students and members of the Tabernacle choir sang:

"The Students' Morning Ramble."

Adjourned until 2 p. m.
Benediction by Elder Seymour B. Young.

Afternoon Session.

Singing:

Lord accept our true devotion.

Prayer by Patriarch Jos. C. Kingsbury.

Singing:

Happy the children who constantly pray.

Counselor C. W. Penrose then presented the General Authorities of the Church as sustained at the last General Semi-Annual Conference of the Church in October.
