SPEECHES AT SUGAR CITY.

Prest. los. F. Smith Lays the Corner Stone-Mayor Jamesons' Bounty Resolutions Adopted.

The party of Fait Lake people who went to Idaho on Monday night to articipate in the sugar day energiasa it Idobe Walls and Sugar City yesterreturned this morning-all except Attorney Elchard W. Young, who went to Boise on legal husiness. The visit was full of interest from first to last. all the party were delighted not only with their reception by the state officlais of Idaho, and the citizens generally, but especially pleased with the ompleted sugar plant at Idaho Falls. which is now in full blast, and with the prospects of the twin factory, the corner stone of which was laid yesterday, As stated in last night's "News," the As stated in last highes lices, the Utah people were joined at Pocatelio by Governor Morrison, Secretary of state Gibson. Attorney-General Bag-ley, and Superintendent of Schools, Miss May Scott, all of whom took prominent parts in the day's exercises.

AT IDAHO FALLS.

The party arrived at Idaho Falls at The party investigation of the factor bout 11:53, having made a brief stop Elackfoot to take on passengers, are from the windows of the cars, as seen standing upon the track, the freight car containing the first car of sugar turned out by the Idaho comight furned out by the sign, "First car i sugar from the Idaho factory, con-gned to Brown & Eldredge, Black-ot." The run to the factory was signer foot." The run to the factory was made in a few minutes over the rail-toad spur, and here a perfect wilder-ness of vehicles was lined up around the mill to greet the guests. While the procession wound through the big plant, the Rexburg brass band station-ed outside, kept up a lively accompani-ment. Lunch was provided for the visitors at the boardinghouse of the commany, and then the train, augmentvisitors at the boardinghouse of the company, and then the train, augment-ed by excursion cars, pulled out for Sugar City townsite. It was all the engine could do to pull its load of ve cars, and the arrival at the bry site was delayed till far in the noon. The weather, while pleas-was quite cold, but it not sufficient do diminish interest of the throng of throng of stood about had he foundation walls of the new facall day, and who greeted the par-yistors with a cheer as they came halt on the spot where a derrick, c, and tackle held in position the c of stone which was to be the centhe afternoon's ceremonies. 2,000 people assembled around and crowded close about perched upon hay stacks, greatest, if not the greatest, best sugar states of the Uhion, a sentiment which was greeted with hearty cheers by the crowd. He closed by congratulating those who had shown their faith by putting their capital into this great en-terprise, and he congratulated equally the people of Idaho on what had been accomplished. (Hearty applause.) Governor Moritson then announced that Mr. H. G. Whitney, secretary of the Idaho Sugar company, had been appointed secretary of the meeting, at-ter which he introduced ed as he took his stand alongside Gov Morrison. He said: "I am glad to Morrison. He said: "I am glad to meet again with the people of Fremont county." (A voice in the crowd "And we're always glad to meet you." Laugh-ter and applause.) "We all know the saying of the blessings that attend there who cause two spears of grass to grow where only one grew before. What then must be said for those who have brought out of the earth that 36,000 tons of beets we have just in-spected over the neighboring county?" (A voice in the crowd, "They're all right." Laughter.) "Yes, they're all right, and I want to praise the gov-ernor and the people of idaho for the part they played in encouraging the planting of such an industry in this state. The benefits that will follow to you and your children cannot be esti-mated. I pray for the blessings of God ATTORNEY GENERAL BAGLEY. who made a five-minute speech which was enthusistically received. He said that the year 1903 had witnessed two that the year 1903 had witnessed two events which were among the biggest in the history of Idaho. One was the laying of the corner stone of Idaho's first sugar factory last April. The other was this day and this occasion, when we were performing the laying of the corner stone of a second plant. spread interest that was felt in the industry. For years they had all been preaching the development of Idaho, and it seemed impossible to realize that it was only ten months ago since the first thought of building a sugar fac-tory in this state had been started, and now they had one factory in full operation and another about to be in-augurated. He pledged the adminis-textion of Idaho as well as her people yould now perform the ceremony of laying the corner stone. The sun was just setting behind the western horizon, when at 20 minutes to 5, President Smith took the trowel in hand, loaded it with mortar, the men in charge of the derrick lowered the stone, and the the derrick lowered the stone, and the finishing touch was given to the cere-mony. It was performed in the midst of breathless silence, and the scene was an impressive one. Then turning to face the assemblage, President Smith tration of Idaho as well as her people the hearty support to the promoters of this industry. (Cheers.) Not only this industry. (Cheers.) Hearty applause greeted President Smith's closing remarks. He was fol-lowed immediately, by something not down on the program. Mayor M. E. Mounting the foundation, he read the following the foundation, he read the following and moved their adoption by this meeting of citizens. The general theme of the day aside from the exercises, was the question of the bounty, and what effect State Audithe bounty, and what enect state Audi-tor Turner's attitude would have upon its payment. It can be said at once that Mr. Turner's action in no way re-flects the views of his associates. Gov-ernor Morrison, who was asked by the "News" representative for his views upo nthe subject, said:

"My fellow officials of the state and myself form our official family, and on all matters pertaining to state affairs, we act after consultation together; but I am forced to say that Auditor Tur-ner's action regarding the payment of the bounty was without the knowledge or sanction of the rest of us. We knew absolutely nothing of his intention, and s is needless to say we do not approve Others of the Boise officers were even more outspoken, and Attorney-General Bagley, who is the official the auditor should have consulted for an opinion before taking any such step, spoke caustically of Mr. Turner's precipitate action, which he said represented neith-er the sentiment of the Republicans of er the sentiment of the Republicans of the state, who had won their victory in the last campaign with sugar bounties as one of the main planks of the plat-form (a platform for which Mr. Turner had himself stumped the state), nor the best sentiment of the people of the state mean-flages of politics.

Mr. Bagley showed the record of the two last Legislatures on the question, that of 1901 which was overwhelmingly Democratic and that of this year, which was equal-ly overwhelmingly Republican. In 1901 ly overwheimingly Republican. In 1991 the Democrats proposed to give a bounty of one cent a pound for four years, on all sugar produced in the state; such a bill passed the house un-animously, 41 ayes to not a single no, and by a large majority in the senate, but Gov. Hunt, who held the bill till for the adjancement killed it. Mr after the adjournment, killed It. Mr Turner, by the way, was then a member of the legislature, and he voted in favor of the bill. The Republican legislature, two years later, changed the bounty to one cent a pound for one year and half a cent a pound for the second, limiting it to the years 1903 and 1904.
