Where patients do not wait until bed-ridden probably three-fourths yield.

FOR HIG RUSINESS.

The newest thing required for the use of hig business is the moving pre-ture theater, all because the innovation of the Canadian Pacific railway at the of the Canadian Pacific intrody at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition in reproducing the great outdoors of western Canada in that way proved a triumph that wan a gold medal. Never before did a moving ricture machine reel off such a scope of outdoor-land as in this adaptation of an numericent as in this gdaptation of an amischent device to practical purpose. Leagues of rippling wheat fields crossed the acreen, fluttering as though the hot, August air was redoient with the fragrance of ripening grain at midday. The tarvesting scenes of Alberts, Salkatchowan, and Manitoba were depicted with such realism that the story is told of one old grizzled farmer from Illinois who involuntarily mouped his face as he watched the men sheek the bundles of grain, dusty, burried, sun-scorched, he as evidently keenly con-scious of heat and dust and hurry as the pictured men on the biograph screen. The wonderful scenery along the route also was depicted, mountains and prairie sweeding rost as though the route also was depicted, mountains and prairie speeding past as though seen through a cor window with wheels elicking out the miles, an occasional big-horn sheep seen for a moment, or a hear on a mountain side. The rest of the road's exhibit was arranged to lead the visitor from Quebec on the Atlantic end, through the wilds and orchards of Ontario, past the Great Lakes and the provinces of golden grain to the Pacific and by Canadian Pacific steamships to Hongkong and Australia.

The need of a postal depository syten to supplement present banking ra-cilities has been declared by a banker. John W. Steinhart of Nebraska City, Neb., who has joined the advisory board of the Postal Savings Buils league which has active headquarters in Chicago, Norwithstanding the open n Chicago. Notwithstanding the open iostility of the American Bankers' as-sociation to a postal system, Mr. Steinacciation to a postal system, Mr. Stein-hart's investigations have furnished data to support his views, which also are the views of the shrewder, hroeder-class of bankers. Mr. St. I hart de-clares: "The lesue is not between state activity and private competition but between the private philanthropy and the public philanthropy. Private philanthropy has been the controlling cause in the starting of all savings, banks but what can public philan-thropy offer instantly with the signing of the postal depository bill? Forty by efficient officers and cierks, requi-ing no special advertising us to their location. The announcement that the postoffice will receive savings deposits postoffice will receive savings deposits and will pay interest thereon will be sufficient. Absolute security for the faith and credit of our United States will stand pledges for the safe payment of every deposit. Is all this necessary for the cultivating, for the educating of a people in the art of saving? If the United States is to control the reserve or central interests of our country, why should it not be allowed to take charge at the beginning, why country, why should it not be allowed to take charge at the beginning, why should it not educate the beginner? We must change from a nation of spanders to a nation of savers. We must encourage thrift, we must offer opportunities to the children of today to save and we must by the payment of interest offer proof positive that a dollar earned and saved is an income producer."

DIVORCE CENTER.

The disputed fame of Chicago as a divorce center is revived by raging legal contests, that over the legality of the divorce secured in 1801 by Mrs. Grace B. Guggenheim from William Guggenheim, and that of Charlotte Mars. ith Bradway, daughter of J. W. Smith Bradway, daughter of J. W. Smith, a multimillionaire and one of the original discoverers of Goldfield. New, against William E. Bradway. A decree also has just been handed down in the case of Arline Peck Bien, daughter of Perdinand Peck, United States commissioner to the Paris exposition, from Robert T. Bien, known on the stage as Robert Warwick. The Gugsenheim decree that is under fire was one of 80.834 divorces granted in the year 1901, and according to the United States census reports this was a year that showed a gain in divorces granted of 5.223, the greatest increases of any 12 months for a period of 40 years, ending in 1906. The lowest increases were in 1894 which showed an augmentation of only 190, and in 1810 during which the Increase was only 23. Commercial crises are held a divorce deterrent, partially because fewer marriages occur during those periods, and again because more wives hesitate to undertake their own support at those times, and lawyers fees come high.

Nursing Mothers and Women Who Need More Strength Find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Perfectly Adapted to Their

Some women recover their strength very slowly after an acute illness, after child-birth and other conditions of extreme debility. What is needed to assist nature is a tonic and, especially in the case of the nursing mother, carmust be taken that it is a safe tonic, on from which the increased strength of the mother will be shared by the child Debilitated persons are very liable to have weak digestions and in such cases the tonic remedy must be one that is ac ceptable to the most delicate stomach.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give to the blood the elements necessary to make it pure and red. For this reason they are the best tonic for all run-down conditions of the body. The experience of Mrs. L. Davis, of No. 409 Park avenue, St. Paul, Minn., proves the worth of these pills. She says:

"For two years after the birth of my child I was in a greatly run-down condition. I was in a greatly run-down condition. I was too weak to do my work. I was very pale and thin and reduced in weight. It seemed as though there was no blood in my veins. I could not get rest at night as I was very nervous. I was subject to splitting headaches.

"The doctors said I was suffering with lack of blood and was all run down. They did not do me any good and I was discouraged. On one visit to the doctor he said that he would try one more thing and if that did not help me he did not know what to give me. When I left his office I tore up the prescription and went to a drug store where I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They seemed to help me and I soon began to have an appetite. I continued to improve antil I could do my work and was finally cured."

If you are interested in the remedy that cured Mrs. Davis, write today for our booklet, "Diseases of the Blood."

It is free and will be sent postpaid.
