

DAY BEFORE

THE STATE FAIR

Everything in Readiness for the Opening at Noon Tomorrow.

HOLIDAY IN THE AFTERNOON

Exposition Management is Confident of a Record Breaking Attendance at the New Fair Grounds.

The management of the twenty-fifth annual exhibition of the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing company, better known as the state fair, this morning announced that by 12 o'clock noon tomorrow every exhibit would be in place and everything in readiness for the general public.

All day long the sound of the hammer has been heard in the land, and towards afternoon order became apparent out of the prevailing chaos. Since early morning exhibits have been arriving in wagonloads, live stock have been led or chased to their pens and stalls, white steam rollers, sprinkling carts and loads of lumber have kept the pedestrian busy dodging impending disaster.

While this year the D. A. & M. society is only occupying 46 out of its 57 acres of land on the banks of the Jordan river, it is a safe proposition to say that if the interest keeps up which has been manifested so far this season that the area will be increased next year.

Upon leaving the car at the loop at the intersection of North Temple and Ninth West the stranger is decidedly interested in the changes that have sprung up during the past year, or for that matter during the past three days. This morning a force of men were put to work tearing down the blank lumber fence facing the main building and substituting in its place a high picket fence through which it was possible to get a good idea of the fair grounds without entering. Immediately in front of the tansy treeproof building the state fish exhibit was being put into place under the directions of Fish Commissioner Sharp. Above this display of fish, which promises decidedly to eclipse the showing made in the same department last year, a number of artificial palms are being placed on the roof of the portico, which in conjunction with the liberal display of bunting combine to make a very attractive picture. In the north portico other good attractions will be in place in time for the opening.

Following the announcement by the management the exhibitors inside the main building are straining every nerve in the direction of finishing up by tonight, even if they have to work until daybreak. The idea being that by the time the opening exercises commence that there will not be any distracting noise of hammers that has marked almost every other opening day in the past.

The exposition hall, which runs diagonally across the southeast corner of the fair grounds, it has already been demonstrated, is not large enough to accommodate the would-be exhibitors, the consequence being that while there are several new exhibitors this year that there are also a number who have entered in the past conspicuously by their absence. Notably are the beautiful displays of J. F. McDonald Candy Company, Hewlett Bros., the Salt Lake Brewing company and several other firms missed.

The principal entrance is from the southeast side. There is no gallery to the new building, making the floor space somewhat limited.

At the right hand upon entering is situated the school exhibit, which, judging from the money which has been spent in artistic railings and the general arrangement of such exhibits that have already been put in place, will be better than hitherto. Following the aisle round the art exhibit occupies the entire north wall. On the west side are situated the women's department, the band stand over the entrance is occupied by floral displays and dainty projects. In the center of the hall are the ambitious stalls of the Ogden Woolen mills, a new display for Salt Lake, immediately adjacent is the booth of the Bear brand company and the Utah Sugar company. This conjoint display ranks foremost, with its general artistic effect in cereals, fruits and sugar beets. The Z. C. M. L. across the aisle also will attract considerable attention as soon as the booth is completed. Among other ambitious displays, which this morning were in embryo, are those of the Stenzel Fur company, Cutler Bros., John Paulson, John Bach, Palace Meat Market, Acetylene Gas Co., Salt Lake Valley Canning company, Deseret News, Brewford of Ogden, Beveridge and several displays of art china.

Immediately outside the big hall at the rear is situated a large marquee wherein will be given a $1,000 vaudeville performance free twice daily to the general public. It is the idea that if the weather remains fine and warm to remove the cattle stalls so that the big show will be able to be seen by all. Just north of this tent the various attractions of the midway have today been rearranged in anticipation of prospective business.

In the direction of livestock the fair this year will surpass all previous efforts when it comes to a congress of thoroughbred. "We have now $30,000 worth of cattle on the grounds," said Mr. John H. White this morning. "I have seen all the largest cattle exhibits in the country and I have no hesitancy in saying that I could go round the grounds and by taking one animal here and another there could make a herd of pedigree cattle that could beat anything in America today."

What is worrying Mr. White is where he will put all the livestock. "I have given orders," he said, "to build 50 additional pens for sheep, 25 stalls for horses, and I guess we will have to have accommodations for more cattle. She is going to be a hummer."

Taken all in all there are over 1,000 exhibits in the various departments and still more coming in.

Outside of the regular attractions of the fair the management looks for big crowds to be a feature every afternoon during the balance of the week. The track is now in perfect condition and commencing every morning at 1:30 the horsemen have been trying out their steeds for some time past.

WHAT THE OFFICERS SAY.

Secy. Sears—"I never have been so busy before in my life. I have been the past two weeks. You can say that this fair this year will so far eclipse previous efforts in the same direction in every department that it will look like $1,000,000 against 50 cents."

J. G. McDonald, chairman of the amusement committee—"Don't talk about previous fairs to me, for this one will be so far ahead of others in the past. In the amusements alone we have some of the best attractions going that are worth twice the price of admission. Then, too, we have made a vow that the fair will be complete by noon tomorrow so as not to disappoint the public."

John H. White, supervisor of cattle department—"We have $30,000 worth of cattle on the ground right now. I think that covers the situation."

SOUTHERN UTAH

President Smith and Party Return To Salt Lake This Morning.

HAD AN ENJOYABLE TIME

Found Conditions Generally Prosperous and the People in Good Spirits - Observations En Route.

President Joseph P. Smith and party returned from southern Utah at 9:40 this morning. When seen by a "News" reporter President Smith stated that the trip had been a most enjoyable one and one which every member of the party had appreciated to the fullest.

The Washington county fair was a very creditable one indeed and the silk display was excellent and demonstrated to a marked degree the possibilities of that section for the development of this industry. In its travels the party visited all the towns from St. George to Minersville, holding meetings with the Saints and meeting with the children, who turned out in large numbers to greet them as they entered the sections visited. The meetings were so well attended that in nearly every instance extra seats had to be provided in order to make room for those who had gathered together. The party visited the St. George school building and saw the children at their lessons. This was a magnificent spectacle. They also paid a visit to the new schoolhouse at Panguitch, a well built, commodious structure, but lacking in one respect, in that there is no provision for deadening the sound between the upper and lower floors. They found the people generally in good spirits, although in some sections they were somewhat depressed on account of the drought which had affected the crops quite materially. The fruit crop, however, was never better and were there a market for it the people would be much encouraged in their efforts in this direction. On Saturday night last the Beaver branch of the Brigham Young academy was visited, at which time a meeting was held with the students and a large number of the citizens. The brethren took upon this as an ideal location for a school and very creditable work is being done. Yesterday two meetings were held at Beaver, and in the evening one was held at Minersville, after which the party drove to Miffland and took the train.

President Smith was much pleased with his observations en route. He deplored, however, the tendency among some to rush into mining to the utter neglect of their homes, and expressed the belief that better results would follow closer attention to their farms. This, he believed, was demonstrated among those who had done so. The party returned in good health.

MILLING PLANT BURNED.

South Jordan Company's Property Destroyed Saturday Night.

The South Jordan company's milling plant near Sandy was destroyed by fire Saturday night, with 700 bushels of wheat and 50,000 pounds of flour; nothing being saved. The loss is $17,000, with insurance of $6,500 in the Home Fire Insurance Co. The fire started suddenly in the rear of the grinding room where the night miller, William Sheppick was working, and he and two assistants had barely time to escape from the burning building. In three hours the entire place was in ruins. As the mill was operated by water power there was no fire in the building so that the cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion.

The South Jordan mill was built five

Cured of Asthma

After 35 years of Suffering.

It will be gratifying to Asthmatic readers to learn that an absolute cure has at last been discovered by Dr. Schiffmann. That the remedy is an effective one cannot be doubted after perusal of such testimony as that of C. W. Van Antwerp, Fulton, N. Y., who says: "Your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure) is the best I ever used. I bought a package of our druggist and tried it and one box entirely cured me of Asthma, and I have not had it since. I can now go to bed and sleep all night with perfect comfort, which I have not done before for 35 years and I thank you for the health that I now enjoy. I hope that you will publish this letter, that others may learn of its wonderful virtues." Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 50, St. Paul, Minn., for a free sample package.

AMUSEMENTS.

The far famed Tivoli opera company from San Francisco opens its engagement at the Theatre tonight in an opera new to Salt Lake, entitled "The Toy Maker."

"Thelma" begins a three night's engagement at the Grand Theatre tonight. A school matinee will be given Wednesday at 3 p. m.

The Tribune of Sunday was somewhat belated in its notice of J. H. Stoddard and his company, its statement that Harold Russell, husband of the Salt Lake actress Ada Dwyer Russell, is a member of the company, is an error. It probably had in mind R. C. Easton, the well known singer, husband of Mrs. Jeanette Young Easton, who is a Salt Lake lady, but not an actress.

MRS. NEWHOUSE.

Tells London Society Her Happiest Days Were When in Salt Lake.

(Special to the "News.") London, Sept. 28.—London society is greatly pleased by the frank avowal of Mrs. Samuel Newhouse, a great favorite, when she said loudly enough for all to hear, "Do you know, I think that the happiest days of my life were spent in Salt Lake City, where I was book-keeper at $10 a week." Mr. Newhouse is now many times millionaire.

LAID TO REST.

Funeral Services Over Remains of Mrs. Eddie Rich.

The funeral yesterday of Mrs. Eddie E. Rich at the Third ward meeting-house was attended by a host of mourning friends, who packed the auditorium to the street. Dr. Talmage presided, and made an excellent address, and there were appropriate remarks from Bishop Iverson, V. L. Hallday, and others. There was also excellent singing, and a profusion of floral tributes from grieving relatives and friends. The funeral procession to the city cemetery was two blocks long. The afflicted husband has been very ill in consequence of his loss, so that his father's family have been much alarmed about him. But the young man is now convalescent, and will take a trip up north for a short time to recuperate amid entirely new surroundings. Mr. Rich feels very grateful for the sympathy and kindness extended him in the hour of his distress.

ROY KAICHN HAD

VERY CLOSE CALL

On First Ballot Seven Jurors Voted For Murder in First Degree.

NINE FOR SECOND DEGREE.

Vote for Murder in First Degree Was With Recommendation to Mercy - Second Without Mercy.

Various statements as to how the jury in the Kaichn murder case voted, have been published, but none of them were right. The "News" learned this morning, upon the highest authority, as to how the 12 men stood upon the first, second and final ballot.

On the first ballot, seven jurors voted for conviction of murder in the first degree with a recommendation for mercy. Finding they could not agree upon that verdict after hours of deliberation, the second ballot was taken with the result that nine stood for conviction of murder in the second degree without mercy, and one stood for conviction of another long discussion when the jurors finally compromised upon the verdict rendered, voluntary manslaughter. This statement came from a member of the jury, and it goes to show how close the boy came to conviction of the gravest crime known to law.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

The county commissioners today appointed Julius Goldberg as registrar of election district 52, in the place of Fred T. McGurran, who failed to qualify; and W. S. Halsey as registrar of district 51 at Bingham in the place of W. H. Wilson, who was unable to get.

WITH MILITARY HONORS.

Funeral of Color Sergeant Carroll at Fort Douglas Yesterday.

The tragedy, which occurred at Fort Douglas Saturday, has had a deep impression on the men, and Chaplains Marvin and Axton have not failed to avail themselves of the opportunity to warn the soldiers of the dangers attending the use of strong drink. The funeral of Color Bearer Carroll was held Sunday at the post, with services at the hospital, conducted by Chaplain Axton and at the grave conducted by Chaplain Marvin. The entire battalion of the Twelfth Infantry, including the commissioned officers, turned out, the commissioned officers marching by themselves at the head of the column behind the band, which played appropriate airs. The casket containing the remains was placed on a gun carriage and covered with the national emblem, and in addition to the body bearers, there were honorary pallbearers composed of non-commissioned officers. A number of artillerymen also joined the procession, and the procession was an impressive one. There was the regular firing party detailed, and the deceased was given the burial of a soldier.

At the regular religious services of the day, the chaplains made the sad event the point of philippics against intoxicating drink, and the commissioned officers marching by themselves at the head of the column behind the band, which played appropriate airs.
