

BOXING CONTEST GOES THE LIMIT.

Clever Exhibition by Jack O'Keefe And Jimmy Gardner Last Night.

BEAN CALLED OUT A DRAW.

Gardner Proved to be the More Clever Of the Two But O'Keefe Had Best Of the Last Round.

Before a crowd of about 3,000 fight fans at the saunter track last night Jimmy Gardner of Lowell, Mass., and Jack O'Keefe of Chicago, boxed twenty rounds to a draw.

From a standpoint of cleverness and speed, it was one of the very best exhibitions of the kind ever seen in this city, and while both boys tried hard for a knockout, none was forthcoming—not even a knockdown—and Referee Bean's decision was just and fair. At the end of the contest Bean said:

"Gentlemen, both men are strong. Neither man has scored a knockdown, and while one of them has had a slight advantage, Mr. O'Keefe is but just getting a draw." And draw it was. But the chances of O'Keefe winning were his own, for Gardner, who was his more powerful opponent, Gardner was put in a bit groove in the first round, but in the previous round he had all the better of the mixing, doing a great deal of work. In the last round, however, O'Keefe went in for a lunge and was felled by Gardner's blow to the head. Gardner made a most clumsy attempt to fall unconscious. Of course, Bean was deceived.

"NO RADICAL CHANGES IN Football Rules for the Coming Gridiron Season."

New York, June 13.—No radical changes in the prevailing rules for gridiron football will be made by the American Intercollegiate Association which has been in session here. As to the proposed change permitting the forward pass, no motion was made, and the old rule will stand unchanged.

One of the cardinal points considered by the seven men who attended the meeting was the question of whether a foul was detected if the ball carrier, after being tackled, went off his feet and lay on the ground.

The audience was a noisy, orderly one, and there was not a hitch in the program or a hint of anything unfair or obnoxious.

As we said before, the men fought a careful fight. Both depended upon left jaw to the face and right counter to the head, and the result was that the home town hero won. Gardner jabbed O'Keefe repeatedly with his lightning-like left while O'Keefe sawing his mace for head and body, and the blood gushing from the blow from O'Keefe's nose toward the close of the contest, and in the last round O'Keefe cut Gardner's head. There were the same number of blows exchanged on their arms where most of the blows were blocked.

Gardner did some very clever ducking, and never once made O'Keefe miss him. In several rounds the Chicago lad was forced around the ring, but he was a wise game and ready to do his part.

There was a slight foul committed, un-

RACES AT OGDEN.

E. B. Heagren smashed a World's Record on the Saucer last night.

The record of the last evening's half race at Ogden was the breaking of the five mile record during the open race for motorcycles. E. B. Heagren smashed the world's mark, going the distance in 37 minutes, 40 seconds, and breaking the record held by W. H. Heagren last night by covering the distance in nearly 24 seconds faster. The other events were as follows:

The one-mile amateur, the winners were: Larson, 85 yards, first; Tate, 75 yards, second; Farn, 40 yards, third.

The audience was a noisy, orderly one, and there was not a hitch in the program or a hint of anything unfair or obnoxious.

There was a slight foul committed, unintentional, however, by O'Keefe, but immediately apologized for it. Later O'Keefe slipped to the floor. Gardner at once assisted him to his feet, and O'Keefe got up again from the crowd, because it showed a generous spirit.

In summing up the contest it is only natural to say that both men were fighting all the time for a chance to land a decisive blow, but the opportunity never came. Gardner jabbed with his left and O'Keefe with his right, and the two fought for head or body. Gardner tried a few upper cuts, and did the better lightning, but both were afraid to throw them, so much so that they gained nothing from expressions from the spectators as they left the arena. The contest may be pronounced a draw, but it was most exciting, even though it was not a knockout.
