MAY SUE IN DISTRICT COURT.

Complaints Declare City Was Negligent in Not Keeping High Water From the Homes.

Twenty-five property owners in the neighborhood of Eighth West and Ninth South streets appeared before the claims committee of the city council last night to take up their claims for damages caused by the high water in the spring which flooded their property. The aggregate claims amounted to $2,125.50, but the committee took no action on the matter and it is probable that the residents will bring suits against the city in the Third district court.

The damage was done, the property owners declare, on account of the negligence of the city. The Ninth South canal was allowed to overflow its banks and no effort was made to relieve the situation. The street supervisor had a small force of men banking up the stream but their work was not effective, it is alleged.

The San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road is also blamed for some of the damage. When a franchise was given the railroad company it was agreed that the railroad would keep its ditches in good order and the water flowing near the house for culminal purposes.
