

LOOKS LIKE SPLIT IN CITY COUNCIL

Effort Made to Have Conduit
Matter go to Special Committee.

HAD LENGTHY DISCUSSION.

The Resolution Was Finally Referred To the Waterworks Committee
For Consideration.

The appointment of a special committee on water supply and conduit to be composed of five members of the city council and the employment of a competent consulting engineer who will be a disinterested party in the great water improvements for Salt Lake City, were the recommendations proposed by Councilman Hobday at the meeting of the council last night. The resolution containing the suggestions was discussed at some length and was finally referred to the waterworks committee for consideration. Following is the full text of the resolution:

THE RESOLUTION.

Whereas conditions have arisen making necessary changes in the line and construction of the conduit, now being built from Big Cottonwood, and whereas, the interests of the people, whom we represent demand that this work shall be carried on to a successful completion.

Therefore be it Resolved, That the president of the city council be and he is hereby instructed to appoint a special committee consisting of five members of the council, which committee shall be known as the committee on water supply and conduit, and be it further resolved, That this committee, with the mayor and city engineer associated, shall have the authority and power to employ, at a cost not to exceed $2,500 a competent and disinterested engineer as consulting engineer on this work.

OPPOSED SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

As soon as it was read Hobday moved that it be adopted. Mulvey then took the floor and strongly opposed the matter. He made an amendment to Hobday's motion to the effect that the resolution be referred to the waterworks committee and in explaining his position he said that the waterworks committee of the council was perfectly able to handle the water question especially with the assistance of the members of the council. He said that he wanted the whole council to act as a committee on the water problem and opposed the creation of any special committee to handle the matter.

Perfection of the resolution and stated that in his opinion a special committee would not help matters any. He suggested that the council go into executive session at once and consider the conduit matter, as there has already been a delay of two weeks in the work, which means that the contractor will not have to complete the job until August.

MARTIN MADE OBJECTION.

Martin made a strenuous objection to hiring a consulting engineer as contemplated in the resolution by Hobday. He said that the city had paid out thousands of dollars for expert assistance in the past and he was paying the proper officials for doing such work. After the conclusion of his talk, President Davis announced that the resolution would be referred to the committee on water supply and conduit on Thursday evening.

SUNDAY THEATER ORDINANCE.

Another Sunday theater ordinance was introduced by Councilman Wells and was referred to the committee on municipal laws with the city attorney associated. The ordinance prohibits the performance of plays on Sunday, but allows sacred concerts.

After some discussion the council granted the petition of the Utah Light & Railway company to install an electrical display at 27 east First South street during conference week in April.

The council adopted Black's resolution, asking the board of education to furnish a teacher and equipment for a school room in the new detention home. The city will furnish the heat and other necessities for the room.

An appropriation of $72 was made to contract a new patrol wagon to accommodate the patrol wagon, which will be covered.

SALARY INCREASE OPPOSED.

Health Commissioner Stewart submitted a communication recommending that the salary of Miss Theresa Wein-

FREE BOOKLET ON BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND DIABETES.

We desire to place in the hands of those afflicted with Bright's Disease or Diabetes a 25-page pamphlet that is saving lives. It is not an ordinary pamphlet, but is principally made up of reports of scientifically conducted tests in a large variety of cases, showing 87 per cent of recoveries in these hitherto incurable diseases.

This booklet is for thoughtful people—people who can discriminate between common patent medicine literature and a carefully prepared report of a patient, serious and profoundly important investigation.

The specific employed in these tests are known as the Fulton Compounds and the results obtained prove conclusively that these dreaded diseases so long fatal have at last yielded to medical science. The pamphlet is free. P. J. Hill Drug Co., Local Agent, Salt Lake.

Weakness or stupor; Bright's Disease—hands or eyelids; kidney trouble after eating rich food; urine may show sediment; falling vision; drowsiness; one or more of these.

Diabetes the distinguishing feature is weakness with great thirst and at times voracious appetite.

hold, nurse at the quarantine hospital, be increased from $75 to $100 per month. Mulvey at once opposed the proposed increase, and his stand in the matter brought Black to his feet with the remark that there are now 25 patients in the hospital and the salary should be increased.

"I don't care if there are a hundred patients," retorted Mulvey. "I am against any increase in salary."

DAVIS TAKES A HAND.

President Davis put a stop to the approaching hostilities between the two "American" councilmen by ordering the matter referred to the sanitary committee, and thus cutting off any further debate.

City Recorder Moreton submitted the appointment of Gavin C. Andrews as deputy clerk of the juvenile court, and the same was confirmed by a unanimous vote.

SPECIAL POLICEMEN.

Upon request of Health Commissioner Stewart, the following employees of the health department were appointed by Chief of Police Sheets as special policemen to act without pay from the City: Dr. S. G. Paul, W. O. Norwood, W. G. Markette, F. L. Hunsing, R. G. Woodard and Frank Raleigh. The appointments were confirmed.

PROTECT PROPRIETARY MEDICINES.

Did ever occur to you that proprietary medicines are a blessing to mankind generally? The good ones have long continued sale; the poor ones have short life and soon leave this market.

If we had to depend entirely upon physicians and druggists it would be expensive and very inconvenient at times, especially in the country at night when neither could be conveniently reached. For nearly forty years Rosche's German Syrup has been used in many families, and thousands of lives of adults and children have been saved by its use, when it was impossible to reach a physician. German Syrup is the best household remedy for cough, colds, throat and lung trouble. It quickly relieves the hacking cough, loosens the phlegm, and brings sound and refreshing sleep. Twenty-five and seventy-five cents. Get a copy of Green's Prize Almanac. At all druggists.

FROM CALDWELL TO BOISE.

Proposed to Build Trolley Line Between Two Points.

Engineer D. W. Ross, superintendent of the reclamation bureau for Idaho, says that the water will be turned out $6000 in connection with the Minidoka project by June 1 and the Payette-Rose project will be in operation by October.

A trolley line is to be built from Caldwell to Boise, and it is proposed to inaugurate an irrigation scheme whereby Dr. Platts will be watered to the extent of 12,000 acres, at a cost of $80,000. Land is rising in value at Caldwell where it is as high now as $50 per acre.

GOT OFF CHEAP.

He may well think, he has got off cheap, who, after having contracted constipation or indigestion, is still able to perfectly restore his health. Nothing will do this but Dr. King's New Life Pills. TIME TO CONSIDER.

Secretary of State Will Carefully Review Insurance Report.

In regard to what action will be taken against the Continental Life Insurance & Investment company, if any at all, Sec. of State Thirney stated that he will first carefully review the report made by his assistant, Col. George B. Squires, and State Bank Examiner Glazier before making any move in the matter. The report is a very lengthy one and will require considerable time for consideration. The secretary of state as insurance commissioner is authorized by law to revoke the license of any company doing business in the state when he deems it to be in the interests of the public to do so. The section of the statutes giving him that authority follows:

"Whenever the secretary of state shall deem it best for the interests of the public so to do, he shall publish the result of such investigation in one or more newspapers of this state; and whenever it shall appear to the said secretary of state, from such examination, that the assets and funds of any company are reduced or impaired by the liabilities of said company to an unsafe extent, or that it is conducting its business illegally or in violation of its articles of incorporation or by-laws, or is practicing deception upon its members or the public, or is pursuing a plan that is injurious to the interests of the public, he shall notify its directors or managers, and if it shall not immediately amend its course or put its affairs upon a safe basis, he shall revoke the certificate of authority granted to the agents of such company, and shall cause a notification thereof to be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the state, and the agent or agents of such company, after such notice, prohibited from the issuance of any new policy or the renewal of any policy previously issued. In the case of a corporation organized or existing under the laws of this state which shall fail to comply with the demand of the secretary of state as aforesaid, it shall also be the duty of the secretary of state to communicate the fact to the attorney general, whose duty it shall then become to apply to the district court or to one of the judges thereof for an order requiring said company to show cause why its business should not be closed, and the court or judge as the case may be, shall thereupon proceed to hear the allegations and proofs of the respective parties; and in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of said court or judge that the assets and funds of said company are not sufficient as aforesaid, or that the interests of the public require it, the said court or judge shall decree a dissolution of said company and a distribution of its effects; the said court or judge shall have power to refer the application of the attorney general to a referee, to inquire into and report upon the facts stated therein."

ALWAYS KEEPS CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY IN HIS HOUSE.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our house," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowell, Mass. "It is the best remedy I have ever used for my children, and I have used it many times. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for cough in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the coughy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by all druggists."

MAKING A HARD FIGHT.

Dr. Maxwell Again Released and is Again Arrested.

Judge Armstrong late yesterday afternoon again discharged Dr. D. P. Maxwell under a second writ of habeas corpus, and shortly after the physician left the city and county building he was again arrested by Chief of Police Sheets upon a complaint charging him with attempting to bribe a person who will be his witness in the case. He was taken back to the city jail to await further developments.

Dr. Maxwell is wanted in Cleveland, Ohio, on the charge of performing a criminal operation on a young woman and thereby causing her death. His attorneys, A. L. Hopbough and Brigham Clegg, filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in order to secure his release. On Saturday afternoon Judge Armstrong granted the writ and discharged the prisoner. He was arrested again just as he left the city and county building, and on Saturday night another petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed by his attorneys.

While this second petition was pending, the police officials arrested Dr. Maxwell upon the attempted bribery charge, and thereby laid themselves liable to a charge of contempt. County Attorney Christensen, who appeared for the police officials yesterday, admitted that this third arrest of Dr. Maxwell was illegal. Hence it was not considered at the habeas corpus hearing.

Judge Armstrong again decided that the requisition papers were defective and again discharged Dr. Maxwell. He intimated, however, that there would be nothing to prevent the doctor's arrest upon the bribery charge after he had left the court room. This suggestion was acted upon, and the man is again in custody. The attorneys for Dr. Maxwell will let the matter rest for a few days until the amended requisition papers arrive from Ohio. Then it is stated that they will endeavor to prevent the removal of their client from the state as long as there is a criminal charge against him in this state.

THE CARELESS GROCER

Blundered, and Great Good Came of It.

A careless grocer left the wrong package at a Michigan home one day and thereby brought a great blessing to the household.

"Two years ago I was a sufferer from stomach trouble, so acute that the effort to digest ordinary food gave me great pain, and brought on a condition of such extreme nervousness that I could not be left alone. I thought I should certainly become insane. I was so reduced in flesh that I was like a skeleton. The doctors failed to give me relief and I despaired of recovery."

"One day our groceryman left a package of Grape-Nuts food by mistake, so I tried a dish for dinner. I was surprised to find that it satisfied my appetite and gave me no distress whatever. The next meal I ate of it again, and to my great joy I have lived for the past year almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. It has proved to be a most healthy and appetizing food, perfectly adapted to the requirements of my system."

"It is not only easily digested and assimilated itself, but I find that since I have been using it I am able to eat anything else my appetite fancies without trouble from indigestion. The stomach trouble and nervousness have left me. I have regained my plumpness and my views of life are no longer dark and gloomy. Other members of my family, especially my husband, (whose old enemy the 'heartburn' has been vanquished) have also derived great benefit from the use of Grape-Nuts food and we think no morning meal complete without it." McPARLAND'S FINE DETECTIVE WORK

His Methods Are Said to be of Sherlock Holmes Order.

MOLLY MAGUIRES IN IDAHO.

Claimed that Fugitive Ones Are in Control of "Inner Circle"—Officers Still on Their Trail.

James McParland of Denver is the greatest detective in America, says the Seattle Times. The Pinkertons say he is the greatest in the world. His work is of the Sherlock Holmes order. More than a quarter of a century ago in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania he ran down the Molly Maguires—the worst band of murderers that ever existed in this country. He sent some to the gallows, many more to the penitentiary, some escaped and fled to the west. McParland always declared he would be happy if he could see these fugitive Mollys in prison. His day of happiness has come. Part of the Lamo band responsible for the assassination of the late Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho, with the punishment of these murderers and the inevitable annihilation of the "inner circle," McParland will have destroyed the last root and branch of the infamous Molly Maguires—his life's work, commenced a third of a century ago.

This opinion is expressed by S. C. John, a Seattle resident, who personally saw McParland at work in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania, saw him there though he did not hang or imprison, and later felt the aid he rendered when Mr. John was assisting in the suppression of the Coeur d'Alene rebellion and murderous acts of the miners in 1892.

MOLLYS IN "BULL PEN."

In 1892 Mr. John, judge of the probate court at Idaho, defied his enemies and accompanied the regiment comprising the state militia, as ranking major, to the Coeur d'Alene district. With the declaration of martial law, seeking a relief from the terrifying conditions and a punishment for the offenders, dynamiters and murderers, Judge John was assigned to Warden, and as assistant chief of the military police, sat in judgment on 129 accused miners. The famous "Bull Pen" later held the majority of these men committed by Judge John.

Among the inmates of that "Bull Pen" and the host of hangers-on, and later, when as a county official, he was thrown among these miners during their renewed activity in the late '90s, he met many miners whose names stood prominently in the doings of Pennsylvania Molly Maguireism, but who disappeared from their haunts when McParland commenced his grand search for the band of outlaws.

In circulating among them, Judge John threw these words into their teeth: "I knew you and your kind back east, and McParland knew you better. You're not managers of a dirty work; and let me tell you, that McParland, whom you knew as McKenna, will surely get you before this is over." His words were prophetic.

Although McParland was practically in hiding after his work was done in Pennsylvania, it is established that he came west with the avowed purpose of riding the country of the last trace of Molly Maguireism. The west was the only haven for the scattered Mollys, and like the bloodhound, and with all its tenacity of purpose, McParland followed to make his life's work a fact for posterity to view.

KNELL OF "INNER CIRCLE."

Mr. John continued: "I was in my 'bull pen' when the Mollys killed the portals of my home town, and every act of that reign of terror is a vivid memory, as are the names of nearly all of them. I recognized many by their names, and a few by their faces among the federation men during my residence in Idaho. I found that their methods were identical in the use of explosives for the destruction of life and property as were employed in Pennsylvania in the seventies. The same cunning cruelty marked every step of their bloody course, with but one distinct difference. They planned as of old, but the ignorant foreigners were their tools in the execution."

"Around the tragedy of poor Steunenberg, McParland has written the last chapter in his great work for humanity. The murder of the ex-governor was but an opportunity. No sane man would believe that McParland assembled all his facts, and the celebrity that has marked results in the rapidly moving incidents in the apprehension of the murderers. The mine was sprung by the murderer. McParland has been 'out' for years."

"And now that McParland has all his characters ready, the stage set and the curtain about to go up in the Steunenberg tragedy, let me predict that there will be unfurled a story in which the dominant note of villainy will be sounded by Molly Maguireism: the murder but an incident, the main one, the power of the Mollys, the triumph of the man-hunter, James McParland."

"With the passage of the tragedy from the boards, public sentiment will sound the knell of the Mollys, and they will be gone forever. It may be that some of them will suffer for crimes that are forgotten by all but McParland. The work of McParland, detective, carried on across the American continent to a great success, stamps him in all detective history as the greatest of his kind."

WERE BADLY FRIGHTENED.

Fire in Barber Shop Causes Alarm in Rooming-house.

The first serious fire that has occurred in Salt Lake for some time started in the Jenkins block, corner of Second South and State streets, shortly before 11 o'clock last night. The fire department made a quick response to the alarm sent in, and through efficient work confined the flames to the immediate vicinity of their origin.

An overheated water jacket in the basement occupied by J. L. Kart, a barber, was the cause of the fire. Here the most damage was done, the loss being estimated at $500, fully covered by insurance. The flames made their way through the partition into the storehouse of J. W. Jenkins, the saddler, where goods were damaged to the amount of perhaps $250.

There was considerable excitement among the people residing in the upper part of the building. Some of them were in bed at the time, and these quickly donned sufficient clothing to cover them and with what valuables they could carry made their way to safety. One man climbed out upon an adjoining roof, where he proceeded to dress, and then called for a ladder. He was advised to try the fire escape, which he did, his peril not being imminent at any time.

At the end of half an hour the flames were entirely under control, the loss, as stated, not exceeding $1,000.

WOMEN'S KIDNEYS.

Women are more often afflicted with kidney disorders than men, but attribute the symptoms to diseases peculiar to their sex, while in reality the kidneys are damaged. Nervousness, headache, puffiness of the face, and aching in the back, are signs of kidney trouble that must not be ignored, or a serious malady will result. Foley's Kidney Cure has restored the health of thousands of weak, nervous, broken-down women. It stops irregularity of the menstrual system, purifies the blood and benefits the whole system. INDIANS ARE CITIZENS.

So Declared Attorneys in Denmur to Complain in Federal Court.

An interesting question was argued yesterday in the United States district court, before Judge John A. Marshall. The case at bar was that of Jessup Thomas and A. B. Smith, indicted for having driven sheep onto the Uintah reservation, which is alleged was in violation of the federal statutes. A day of murder was held against the complaint, and it was argued yesterday before the court.

The contention of defendants' attorneys, Judge A. C. Hatch and Attorney Wedgewood, is that the lands in question are strictly speaking no longer Indian lands; that the redmen in that locality having been removed to the reservation in several acts, are no longer wards of the government, but are citizens of the United States. As such they stand as do other citizens in the matters of rights and privileges. If their rights are invaded, they may sue in a federal court, and if these defendants are guilty of wrongdoing in the premises, they are liable in civil action for damages and not in criminal prosecution.

The points involved in this case are of wide scope in other directions than the issues of the case now being tried. The status of the Indians who have received and in several instances have been granted wide divergence of opinion, and the decision in the case now pending will be looked for with much interest on the part of the public generally. It is expected that the opinion of Judge Marshall will be handed down in the course of a few days.
