Baseball players, at least for soven nonths of the seasen, are almost as much Honized as actors. Indeed, some of them more flattered and sought after than matines heroes, and the number of their "personal friends" is astemishing.

After some player has distinguished himself on the field it seems that he was a boyhood chum, a schoolmate, or a bosom friend of almost everyone down-Fans who never have seen the town. Fans who never have seen the man except on the fleid claim that they know him initimately, and the indicrons results sometimes make amends for the abnovance, writes hugh S. Fullerton. This winter Frank Chance met an old friend. He lives at Ocean Fark, near Los Angeles, in winter, and one day he hap-pened to drop in at the butcher snop to order something. The meat chopper had in some way heard that his customer was a member of the Chicago club, but had not caught his name. This was the conversation: "You play with the Cubs?" "Yes."

Ever meet Frank Chance?"

Chance was surprised, but he did his gran and replied that he had enjoyed that

"Charge this, will you please, marked. "Certainly, certainly," said the butcher "What name?" Chunce drew out a card and tossed it across and walked out with the meat, while the butcher stared unhapply at the bit of pasteboard on which was printed: "FRANK L. CHANCE, "Chicago National League Baseball Club."

Checko Mattheat League Baseball Club." Some of those who claim acquaintance with ball players have an unhappy habit of telling about what "grand times" they had the previous night with ball players. Usually they give graphic descriptions of how late they were out and how much they drank. There was one of this species of crank on a Wentworth avenue street car last fall who suffered a shock and got a call-down which will last him for years. It was during the crisis of the fight for the American league pennant, and Comis-key's team was suffering through the iny out to the game with a triend, and standing behind us, were three cranks, one of whom was telling the others with great enthusiasm that the Sox were up against it because White was dinking. He was telling them what a shame it was that White should drink that way and de-seribing graphically how he and White were together all the night before and how White solid drink that he man was lying outrageously, and added cas-sponsible poole in public places, often hydrined, who is a tall, thin telegraph opalation.

My friend, who is a tail, thin telegraph operator, suddenly rose up in his seat and said: "Here, you cheap skunk. I don't know you, but I'm White, and every word you have uttered is a blim blammed He." In two minutes the fellow was slinking to the back platform, with my cadaverous friend after him, and he jumped off the edr in mortal terror of being thrashed. Everybody in the car was overjoyed, especially three or four of us, who knew that it wasn't White at all. "Jimmy Ryan was a great hand at kid-ding along those "friends" who having seen him on the field, persisted in claim-ing acquatainceship. He got hold of a fine specimen one day on a train going east. The man, cydently a traveling man, probably was lonesome and wanted to get acquainted with a ball player-though for what reason few findlers will understand-so be dropped down beside Ryan and remarked: "This is Mr. Ryan, isn't it? I think I met you---," etc. "This is Mr. Ryan, isn't it? I think I met you---," etc. "The traveler evidently had a slight-hearsay knowledge of baseball and a dim recollection of certain players, who once were famous. "I don't get to see much ball nowa-days, when you were a youngster, I was a great erank." "By the way, what has become of my of friend Al Spalding." "By the way, what has become of my of friend Al Spalding." "By the way, what has become of my of friend Al Spalding." "Du have, what has become of my of friend Al Spalding." ## BASEBALL MEETING.

One Held Last Night and League Question Came up for Discussion.

Question Came up for Discussion. Undenutedly Salt Lake will have base-ball during the coming summer. John Du-bei will put a fast team in the field. Eureka, Logan, Park City, Murray and probably Provo will have teams besides other teams which are likely to be or-ganized in Salt Lake. But the question of whether or not there will be a league is still unsettled. Dubei does not favor the league scheme. He wants independent baseball but the trouble is that unless there is some kind of an agreence how are the various teams and the public to be protected? A schedule of some sort must be agreed upon and certain rules adopted to prevent

The Pain Family

You know them; they are numerous, and make their presence felt everywhere. The names of the family are Headache, Toothache, Earache, Backache, Stomach ache, Neuralgia, etc. They are sentinels that warn you of any derangement of your system. When the brain nerves become exhausted or irritated, Headache makes you miserable; if the stomach nerves are weak, indigestion results, and you double up with pain, and if the more prominent nerves are affected, Neuralgia simply makes life unendurable. The way to stop pain is to soothe and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this. The whole Pain family yield to their influence. Harmless if taken as directed.

"T find Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Fills an ercellent remedy for overcoming head-ache, neuraisis and distressing pains of all corts. I have used them for the past seven years in this capacity with the best of results." MRS. JOE MERRILL, Peru, Ind.

Form of Athletics. Too heavy to venture any longer in pole vaulting. Cuddy Russell has decided to abandon the practice. His quitting that particular field will be a distinct loss to the U. of U. as he was for a long time the champion in that line. The only man that has worsted Russell is Morgan Adams, and to do it Adams had to come close to the world's record. Russell now weights 200 pounds, a weight too great to insure any degree of safety with the pole. He has already had narrow es-capes, and has now determined not to en-danger himself further. Russell is captain of the University's football team, and will take part in the "weight" exercises of the season. west.

PREPARING FOR MEET.

PREPARING FOR MEET. The U of U. and the B. Y. University of Provo will meet on April 27 in a spirit-ed athletic contest. The boys of the Uni-versity are busy these days preparing for the event, and are able to report good progress. A quarter of a mile in 34, against a wind, was the record made by Sam Brinton. That was going some. Conch Maddock will endeavor to get the Provo school to add a half-mile relay to the schedule of events, to count five points for the winner.

ATHLETIC ENTERTAINMENT.

An exhibition in schletics was given by the boys of All Hallows, Tuesday even-ing, in honor of Very Rev. J. M. Portal, provincial of the Marist Frahers of Amer-ica. Hogan, McNeil and Bassett engaged in appartus work, torch club swinging by Galligan. Eassett and Kane and other lines by Kane, Galligan, Griffin, Hogan and McNeil, Calligan made a speech of welcome and a response was given by Provincial Portal.

UNIVERSITY TEAM WON. Testerday afternoon there was an inter-sting ball game between the University of Utah and All Hallows reams on the lat-ter's grounds and the boys from the bench won by a score of 15 to 1. The game was of seven inclugs and during six of them hational game. The Oreworks started in the seventh when the University boys got decidedly busy and the All Hallows hall tossers went to pleces. The U. players sent il men around the sacks in this inclug. Houstan for the University pitched good ball throughout the game, and Quinn for the other side did some fine work in the box with the exception of the bast inning when he was clouted unmercifully. The teams lined up as follows: University. All Hallows.
