Before the department arrived the fire was extinguished with practically no damage to the bridge.

Upon investigation it was found that a number of gunny sacks and other inflammable material had been piled against one of the abutments of the bridge and ignited, proving conclusively that the fire was of incendiary origin, and evidently by fire bugs—probably tramps who had been ejected from the trains.

PROVO. SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY. Looks Blue for Holliman et al.—Letter From Cotter Head.

Special Correspondence. Provo, March 18.—R. Ross, postmaster of Lehi, testified yesterday in the Jennings-Cotter preliminary examination that he had held an option on about four-fifths of the capital stock of the creamery, while Cotter was the lessee at 50 cents a share. The total capital stock was about $4,170. He was to pay Cotter $250 in addition for his lease. If he purchased the property under the option, Mr. Ross said that Cotter did not appear anxious to sell his stock, and refused to give witness an option on his stock till all the other directors had given options on theirs.

Frank Wilson, the man who has confessed, in connection with Holliman, to setting fire to the Highland Boy boarding house at the instigation of Jennings, was the next witness. He told practically the same story as Holliman, about Jennings' superintending the incendiary. All the money he had secured for his work was the $250 he had obtained from William. He also said that if he had been released from custody on bail and given $100, as Jennings promised would be done, if he and Holliman were arrested, he would not have confessed.

Albert Snyder of American Fork testified to Holliman boarding with him, and that Holliman received the "board contract" letters from Jennings, which were read by witness, wife, who also wrote letters for Holliman to Jennings. He stated that Holliman had told him that Cotter had arranged with Jennings to have the creamery set on fire. On cross-examination he had to admit that he and Henry Lee had attempted to extort money from Cotter, claiming that they had proof that he caused the fire to be set, and that Cotter refused to pay them anything, but instead of paying them had them arrested for attempted extortion. Defendant had been permitted to go on his own recognizance pending an examination, but he denied that there was any understanding with the officers that if he would testify in this case that he would be prosecuted. The letter to Cotter, telling him that the writer had evidence implicating him in the incendiary was read to the witness. He said that he had not seen it before, and that Henry Lee had told him he was going to write a letter to Cotter, and that might be it.

Deputy Sheriff Graham, who arrested Cotter, testified that when he had told Cotter that Holliman had confessed everything, Cotter seemed agitated. Sheriff Hornum testified that it was through Cotter that he received information which caused the arrest of Holliman, Wilson and Jennings. That is, Mr. Cotter wrote a letter to the sheriff, telling him that Holliman, Lee and Snyder, which first put him on track of the incendiaries.

The following is the letter which was written by Mr. Cotter last February:

"Mr. Hornum, Sheriff, Provo. "Dear Sir—I have some very important work for you to do. I want you to call on me as soon as you can. I had a letter, also a man called and saw me later. Said he knew the man that set the Lehi creamery on fire, and that he had a letter which told him to do the job. Very truly, "J. E. COTTER."

Henry Lewis, secretary of the Lehi Creamery company, testified that the company owned 521 shares stock; that the total capital stock of the company was $4,170. The company had received $250,000 in insurance from Mr. Cotter received $303.44. Cotter also had personal property to the value of $150 to $200, consumed by the fire. The lock on the east door of the creamery was broken after the fire.

Cashier Farrer of the Provo Commercial and Savings bank, testified as an expert that he did not believe the letter written to Cotter by Henry Lee and the one which the prosecution claims was written by Jennings to Holliman were written by the same party. This testimony was introduced to counteract a theory, which it is believed will be attacked by the defense, that the letters were written by the same person, and that the Jennings letter was not written by him at all.

SALINA. A POLITICAL SENSATION. A Triumvirate Executes a "Coup" That Stirs Up the Caldon. Special Correspondence. Salina, March 15.—Quite a sensation prevails in our otherwise peaceful valley of "Saltville" over the political "coup" of last Saturday's special town board meeting. Atty. J. M. Combs, a "n" attorney for the past four years, and recently hired for the ensuing two years, was summarily dismissed from the grounds for the action not being stated. The town president (a Republican), a Democrat and another Republican, have formed a triumvirate, to whose "engineering" the others must submit. The judge is out after someone's scalp, and we may look for tropical time. Of course there is a political ax to grind.

DEMISE OF A PROMISING YOUTH. A telegram was received here today from Idaho Falls conveying the sad tidings of the sudden death of Harold Brandt, the 16-year-old son of G. A. Brandt, at one time superintendent of the Salina Cattle Co., but now the manager of the Z. C. M. L. at Idaho Falls. He died of acute pneumonia while attending school at the academy in Rexburg, Idaho. The body will be brought here for interment, arriving on tomorrow's train. The heartfelt sympathy of our citizens goes out to the bereaved in this hour of their deep affliction.

PLAIN CITY. Religion Classes Hold Convention—Pastor Daily Down. Special Correspondence. Plain City, Utah, March 13.—A conference of the religion classes of Plain City, was held at this place on Sunday, March 13. It being the first conference of the school to convene here, but one session only was held.

The different class exercises were well rendered and demonstrated the importance of this organization as a factor in the training of the youth of Zion in the principles of the Gospel. Elders David Langlois and William Parker of the stake board, were in attendance and both spoke encouragingly to parents, teachers and pupils, and urged the former to see that their children were regular attendants to the classes and thus assist in making the Religion class work a success in this vicinity.

The superintendency of the Plain City Sunday school have almost completed the work of organizing Parents' classes throughout the settlement, these, when completed, are expected to prove very beneficial in making the Sunday school work thorough.

The Pastor Daily has been obliged to submit to its fate and discontinue its business here a few days ago. The stock owners are sending their milk to the Slaterville creamery.
