They held meeting at Brigham City last evening, which was numerously attended, quite a sprinkling people being present from neighboring settlements, and a good time was enjoyed.

THE WOMEN.—"Summit" writes from Cedar City the winter apparently has been very severe there, the hills being still dull because the coal roads are not built enough, that there is plenty of good coal in that neighborhood, and no one seems to care, in some others, that the Summit Co. R.R. was progressing slowly until temporarily stopped, that the health of the place is good with not much horse disease, and that Coalville boasts three blacksmiths and two wagon shapers, and a new bell on the meeting house.

THE WOMEN.—A new four-page weekly paper, published in New York by working men, and devoted to the interests of labor.

UNION DIRECTOR.—We have received a complimentary invitation to the Grand Opening Party of the Union Hotel, Ogden, Meads, Erb & Nella, proprietors, Feb. 5.

TEMPERANCE.—A temperance meeting will be held in the Methodist Church this evening, February 5th. After the public installation of the officers of the Salt Lake Lodge of Good Templars, the meeting will be addressed by Dr. C. D. Haskell. The Doctor is the gentleman who organized the Lodge. The public are cordially invited to attend the lecture, which will be free.

Those desirous of being admitted into the order as charter members, by deposit, card, or invitation are requested to present at the church parlor at 7 o'clock, to complete the election of officers and attend to some other necessary business before the commencement of the public exercises, which will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

SIXTY-FIVE.—Elder George S. Miller writes from Clarkston, Cache Co., where date of Jan. 25th, that he arrived at this place two days previous to the middle of a terrific snow and wind storm, which had raged with great fury up to date of writing. The snow drifts around that locality were from three to six feet deep, and the residents of Clarkston had to leave out and break a road through the drifts of the settlement. The only way to travel was anything like certainty between settlements was by horseback, and that was dangerous, from the horses getting into the drifts. Some uneasiness was felt on account of a Clarkston man who was known to have been out in the storm and had not returned, and a party was sent out to hunt for him. The late storm in the region of Cache Valley may account for the cessation of the dates of our latest communications from that vicinity.

IN TOWN.—Judge Wilson, formerly chief Justice of Utah, is in town.

WANTED A POST OFFICE.—Sugar House Ward, a few miles distant from this City, is a tolerably large and is fast becoming a thickly populated district; yet the officers of the city have had any privilege in the shape of a post office, and are therefore a source of great inconvenience to them. Subscribers to City newspapers not in the habit of coming to town themselves have had to depend upon chance opportunity of getting their papers, and the subscribers of this have been to subscribers to the Salt Lake City papers, and have obtained copies far more regularly and at much shorter intervals than the people of Sugar House, who are yet distant a few miles from the office of publication. The irregular manner in which other mail matter, such as letters, &c., has been received here, is a matter of course about the same. A post office was recently drawn up by the postmaster of Salt Lake City, and was duly signed by him, for presentation to Col. Wickizer, mail agent for Utah, for the establishment of a post office in that place. There can be no doubt that so reasonable a request will be granted, especially when it is considered that Sugar House is now on a direct mail route, that between this City and Wanship.
