North Yakima, Wush., Sept. 7.—Chief Illowahe, an aged medicine man and chief of the Yučima tribe, has been brutally stoned to leath in his tent by an Indian named John. The murdered Indian was 80 years of age and had accompanied a band of about 50 to the hop fields below Klona. He had been called on by John to save his child, which was sizk. The old doctor went through the usual barbaric formalities as best he could, yet the child died. The father then went to the medicine trip. Gentlemen :-- I have examined the formula of De Lacy's French Hair Tonic, and it appeals to me as the best I ever saw. It is entirely different from the general run of them and even if I had not seen cases among my patients where I knew it did the work. I would say that your formula is good and scientific, and should give general satisfaction for everything you claim for it.

I see people almost daily who show me their hair and I can say from personal observation that I know of many cases where it has restored gray hair and stopped the hair falling. I can't say that I ever run across a case where it failed, in fact. Very respectfully yours,
