

M. Sullivan, an Irish patriot, his fellow countrymen that "if emigration were brought to the point as it ought to be, Ireland would be free in five years." We might doubt it if it would be free from English rule, but if every man in Ireland were to become a total abstainer, the country would be freed from one of the greatest weights which is pressing it down. This is the testimony of many of Ireland's best and truest friends.

In August Nordenskjöld, the Swedish navigator, will start on an expedition for Greenland. He proposes to make a complete exploration of the interior of that country. A comparatively but little is now known of Greenland, and, as it is among the possibilities that information so obtained may be of some practical value, it would seem that an exploration is worthy of more encouragement than the many fruitless and fatal efforts to reach the North Pole.

Captain Carey, who, it may be remembered, acquired unhappy notoriety and obloquy from riding off and leaving the Prince Imperial in a moment of peril, has just died of a broken spirit, at Kurrachee, in the Bombay Presidency, where he has served the last three years with his regiment, the Ninety-eighth. He is the nephew of a distinguished officer, General Jackson Carey, and one of a Guernsey family which contributed many gallant soldiers and sailors.

A bill has been introduced into the Pennsylvania Legislature to make the manufacture and sale of infernal machines and other devices to destroy life and property a crime punishable by fine and imprisonment, when criminal intent is shown on the part of the manufacturer. This is a step in the right direction which might be followed with profit by other States. The "criminal intent," however, will be rather a difficult thing to prove against the makers of infernal machines.

Haggai, Zachariah and Malachi, prophets of the Old Testament times, were buried in the city of Jerusalem. The ground in which their remains were laid belongs to the Turkish government, and negotiations are now on foot for its purchase by "Christians," in order that a Christian church may be erected on the spot. The Jewish inhabitants of Jerusalem are much exercised about this, but the Turkish representatives say that their only way to prevent the ground from passing into the hands of the Christians is to buy it themselves and pay down the cash.

The Mark Lane London Express says of English agricultural prospects: "The past winter has been most disastrous. * * * The general outlook is more gloomy than in years. * * * Since October there has been scarcely one week's interval of fair weather, and while the autumn-sown wheat has been either washed out of the ground or irremediably damaged, but little opportunity has been afforded for the ordinary operations of the late winter or early spring. In seven years there has only been one winter with heavier rainfall—1876-77."

The Star-spangled banner was carried in Jerusalem on the occasion of a recent visit of General Lew Wallace, the American Ambassador at Constantinople. All the Americans in the city came out to meet him at the Joppa gate. The Star-spangled banner was carried by the Jews, and a leading rabbi made an address of welcome and led the crowd in giving three cheers. General Wallace jumped down from his horse, thanked the rabbi in appropriate terms and shook hands all around. Afterwards he was given a reception at the Consulate. The Sultan had telegraphed orders in advance as to General Wallace's lodgings and entertainment by the city officers, which was an unprecedented attention.

THE BEE-KEEPERS CONVENTION.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 10th, 1893.

Editor Deseret News:

The Territorial Bee-keepers Convention met at the Council House, Salt Lake City, April 5th, at 7 p.m. President A. M. Muzzey, presiding. Prayer was offered by Mr. Franklin Spencer, of Sevier County. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Messrs. Stevenson and Egan, committee appointed at last meeting to prepare blanks to be filled out by branch associations, reported that they had printed one thousand and distributed some of them. The report was accepted and the committee discharged. Some reports from various organizations were read.

Spanish Fork was represented by Mr. Chas. Monk, who said that there are 32 bee-keepers and 412 swarms of bees in that place, probably 50 swarms not reported. They have taken 15,608 pounds of honey, and 197 pounds beeswax. Losses during winter are 188 swarms. All wintered on summer stands.

Mr. Henry Wagner, of Salt Lake City, has 43 stands, and has taken 1,100 pounds of honey, 10 pounds beeswax, and 200 pounds honey in comb. No losses.

Jens Olson and B. Judson, Salt Lake County, have 48 colonies, and have taken 2,000 pounds honey. Wintered on summer stands, with no losses.

Henry Tanfree, Salt Lake County, has 10 hives; has taken 300 pounds honey, 5 pounds beeswax, and 50 pounds honey in the comb.

Mr. C. Conoly, of Box Elder, reports 267 colonies of bees in that county. Losses during winter, 110 swarms; affected by foul brood 11. Could not report in full. He had, after sales last fall, 73 swarms; has now 57. Lost 4 from starvation. He wintered successfully in chaff hives with upper ventilation. He uses two-story hives. By ventilation he prevents dampness and mould, also sour honey, thus keeping off dysentery and procuring healthy colonies.

Sevier County was represented by Mr. Franklin Spencer. He said that Mr. Thurber had five swarms and Mr. Martin four, all of which died during the winter. Mr. Vanluvin has ten or twelve. Although 5,000 feet above sea level, the people hope to make a success of this important industry.

Mrs. Helena Madsen, reports five bee-keepers with good prospects in Gunnison, Sanpete County.

Utah County was represented by Mr. Parley M. Driggs, president of Payson branch association. He says that there are 789 swarms of bees in that county. Losses during past winter 183, mostly wintered on summer stands. He believes the weak swarms and small stores are the causes of such heavy losses.

Wm. Leary, Jr., of Harrisburg, Southern Utah, writes that he and Mr. O. B. Adams are trying to do something in the bee business. He started one year ago with ten swarms, in old-fashioned hives, the cracks of which were calked with rage, etc., and has taken 500 lbs. of honey. Although it has been the severest winter for twenty years the bees have been flying almost every week, and Mr. Adams had a swarm come in in January. He hived them and they lived.

Vice-President McKay said that he had lost 17 swarms during the winter. He has at present 35. He had discovered no foul brood, and thinks that when discovered it should be immediately destroyed.

Mr. T. W. Lee said that bees are doing well in Tooele County. By a vote of the convention, he was authorized to organize a branch association in Grantsville, Tooele County.

Mr. C. O. Folkman, of Plain City, Weber County, said that they increase their bees by natural swarming, do not use the extractor, and doing well at the business.

Mr. William Egan, of Salt Lake County, had four swarms last fall, has lost three; thinks that, if from now on, a frame of honey be given to weak swarms, that it will stimulate them to brooding.

On account of the secretary being unable to attend, T. W. Lee acted as secretary pro tem.

Convention adjourned sine die. EDWARD STEVENSON, Secretary.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Mexico, 10.—The government denies the report circulated that United States capitalists cannot acquire land in this country.

Madison, Wis., 16.—Articles of association are filed for the Oregon Land and Mining Company of Milwaukee; capital, one million. They will operate in Oregon and Nevada.

Toronto, 16.—Eight more policemen leave to-night for Ottawa. The probable reason is to strengthen the force there upon the arrival of the Prince of Wales.

San Francisco, 17.—Archibald Cary Peachy, a pioneer lawyer, late of the firm of Halleck, Peachy & Tribune.

Billings, died to-day of heart disease, aged 62.

Columbus, Ohio, 17.—The Scott bill has become a law, taxing each liquor dealer in the State $200 per year; those selling only beer and wine, $100.

Minneapolis, Minn., 17.—The Minneapolis license law upon saloons has heretofore been $100. The City Council last night raised it to $1,500. The saloon men are using every effort to induce Mayor Ames to veto the bill.

New York, 17.—The Senate, 19 to 8, rejected a motion to pay $15,000 to Mrs. Martha Washington, widow of Dr. Lawrence A. Washington, Denison City, Texas, for the purchase of certain relics of George Washington.

It is officially stated that the Chicago & Northern R.R. Co. will issue $10,000,000 5 per cent. debenture sinking fund bonds, to provide the necessary funds for the acquisition of St. Paul and Omaha stock.

No action has been taken yet by the trunk lines to stop cutting east-bound grain rates by the western roads. The receipts of grain at New York are showing a steady increase from the amount received a few weeks ago, but the Erie continues to carry more grain into the city than the New York Central brings.

Louisville, 17.—The suggestion has been made to convert the Louisville Industrial Exposition building into a hotel for the accommodation of the Louisville Southern Exposition this year. The building is a large brick, substantial and imposing in appearance. The structure can readily be arranged to comfortably accommodate 2,000 guests.

Mexico, 17.—It is determined here to have the postal service keep pace with that of the United States. It is hoped that an international money order system will be established.

The Mexican laborers on the Mexican Central have struck for a dollar a day.

Buffalo, 17.—The President of the American National Land League cables Parnell: "The Philadelphia convention cannot be postponed; we regret you cannot be with us, but everything indicates that the convention will be the largest and most important ever held by Irish Americans."

Minneapolis, Minn., 17.—A fire broke out in the Model flouring-mill of this city, owned by R. P. Russell & Co., valued at $40,000, at 9 o'clock this evening, destroying that structure. It is certain that the Dakota mill, adjoining, valued at $25,000, owned by H. B. Brown & Co., will go, and other more valuable mills in proximity may follow the Model and Dakota mills. Each had a capacity of 250 barrels.

The Dakota mill was saved. Total loss, $60,000; total insurance on mill, machinery and stock, $51,000, all in the Mutual Company.

Ottawa, 17.—Eight policemen from Toronto remain here a month on special duty in connection with the Government House and Parliament buildings. An extra guard is placed at Rideau Hall to-night. Fifteen officers from Toronto in citizen's dress mingled with the 2,000 people assembled at the depot to greet the Princess.

Private detectives patrol the Parliament grounds and search Parliament buildings; they are very reticent. Many anonymous letters reached Rideau Hall this evening. It is reported a detective has a clue which may lead to the identification of the author of at least one of the documents. The guard to-night at the Government House is doubled.

Deservedly Popular.

Unless it had great merit Parker's Ginger Tonic could not be so popular. Its sale has spread remarkably everywhere, because invalids find it gives them new life and vigor when other medicines fail entirely.—Ohio Farmer.
