

FROM OGDEN TO BALTIMORE

Gould Will Make One Big System Of His Roads.

UTAH ACROSS TO MARYLAND

Will Develop Baltimore and Make It The Atlantic Coast Washash Port—Railroad News.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 12.—George Gould, with a party of Washash and Missouri Pacific officials spent the time here today in inspecting the Washash extension to this city, in an interview said:

"It is our purpose to weld the Washash roads into one grand system before long that will reach from Ogdan, Utah, and El Paso to the Mexican border, thence to Kansas City, St. Louis and Baltimore. We intend to make the latter city our export on the Atlantic. It is a magnificent one, but has been neglected. We propose to develop and make it a great port. We do not intend to go to New York. There is more elan in a trunk line into the metropolis, of course, but it is too expensive. Freight exporting terminal, Baltimore is the best port on the Atlantic for the exporting of such commodities as will make up our tonnage—oil, grain and packing house products."

Y. M. C. A. AT HELPER.

Railroad Institution to be Erected For D. & R. G. Employees.

Through the generosity of George Foster Peabody and Gen. Palmer, who upon retiring from the Rio Grande Western when the property was sold to George J. Gould, set aside $10,000 for the purpose, the miners at Clear Creek, Castle Gate, Sunnyside and Winter Quarters will shortly have hospitals at the points named. Work has been started upon these and it is well under way at each place. While the structures will be lumber buildings, nevertheless they will be fitted with the most modern appliances and will be up to date. This step will be a great boon, as when a man is injured in the mines it will be no longer necessary to bring him into Salt Lake for attention and treatment.

In addition these gentlemen are responsible for a handsome building of brick for the Y. M. C. A. at Helper, which is to be erected at the railroad Y. M. C. A. site. The site of the building has been secured. In connection with the building there will be sleeping quarters for transient. The railroad company has for years provided a free library and billiard rooms above the depot. These are to be merged into the Y. M. C. A. property and the road will be given over to the train dispatchers and other officials of the Rio Grande.

ON TO ST. GEORGE.

Electric Line from Milford to Washington County Via Cedar.

Milford and Dixie are to be connected by an electric railroad, according to the plan of George E. Lane, the Milford mining operator, who says he has secured ample capital for the enterprise and that work will be commenced in 90 days. The line will be 130 miles long and will go by way of Beaver and Parowan, running four miles west of Cedar, and on to St. George.

Eight thousand horsepower will be developed in the Beaver canyon, at Parowan and the trip from Milford to St. George will be made in 10 hours. Much of this line will be through comparatively level valleys, but in some places switch-backs will be necessary and the grade will be heavier than could be possibly handled by a steam road.

The estimated cost of the project is three and a half millions and the company will be incorporated with a capital of seven and a half millions. Mr. Lane states that one of the parties to the enterprise is the Utah Electric & Light Co., which will be made up of $750,000 for it within 60 days, and the syndicate has guaranteed that the entire amount will be forthcoming.

Mr. Lane recently returned from a trip through the territory to be penetrated by the new road, and is very enthusiastic over the prospects. The line will reach the iron and coal fields of Iron county and open a market for some of the finest coal in the west. There are also quantities of splendid marble and building stone, a flourishing brick industry at Parowan, fine lumber belt and a most promising oil field in Washington county. The road will also reach the mineral belt near St. George, where rich copper mines have been opened up and a smelter is in operation. Then there are thousands of acres of semi-tropical fruit in the Dixie country, which will be landed at Salt Lake in 24 hours after it is picked.

Mr. Lane and his associates are confident that the road will soon develop sufficient traffic to pay handsome returns upon the investment.—Milford Times.

HOLDUPS REBORN AGAIN.

Four Masked Men Rob Freight Train Tourists on Short Line.

The holdup industry on freight trains is still in full swing on the Utah division of the Short Line, and if this thing continues the victims will possibly come to the conclusion that it is cheaper to buy a ticket in the long run. Yesterday afternoon four masked men went through a southbound freight train shortly after the train left Ogden. The robbers secured two silver watches and the magnificent sum of $1,500 in cash. This haul was made by the train as it was being taken by four miners from De Lamar. The men, whose names were J. Keating, R. Bonds, Henry Kuebe and Richard Younan, were stealing a ride in an empty coal car when four masked men climbed over the end and thrusting as many revolvers under their respective noses ordered "hands up." All four complied. The robbers then left the car and started hunting for more easy things. They were seen to jump from the train as the freight entered the city limits. The victims reported the matter to the police and they spent a couple of hours last night in finding up the saloons in the hope of locating the men. They did not, however.

DAVID ECCLES BUYS A CAR.

Utah Lumber Magnate Gets a Private Office on Wheels.

David Eccles this morning received from the Oregon Short Line the old "Two Spot," formerly the private car of the Superintendent of the Idaho Division. The car is now No. 1 of the Sumpter Valley railroad and would not be recognized in its new paint, upholstery and spic and span

J. A. CAMPBELL GETS IT.

Auditor Rate Secures O. S. L. Man For San Pedro Passengers Accounts.

J. A. Campbell, recently of the Oregon Short Line auditing department prior to which time he was connected with the local freight office of the Rio Grande Western, this morning was appointed to a position under Local Auditor Case of the Salt Lake Route. Mr. Campbell will have charge of the passenger accounts at this end of the line. With this appointment the local force of the auditing department is for the present complete.

Rio Grande Annual Report.

The annual financial statement of the Denver & Rio Grande railway, including the Rio Grande Western, has been made public. The net earnings for the year were $1,013,500, compared with $1,748,200 for the preceding year, an increase of 1985.300.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

Dr. D. A. Turner has been appointed local surgeon for the Salt Lake Route with headquarters including all the time from June 1 to October 1 at Tooele.

The Rio Grande yesterday took out heavy train loaded with plinkers for Parley's and Provo canyon resorts.

S. V. Derrah, assistant general freight agent for the Rio Grande, returned from Denver this morning.

C. A. Davidson, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Rio Grande at Butte, returned home last night.

Dining Car Superintendent Lewis of the Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific is in Salt Lake today.

Traveling Agent L. L. Downing of the Hartman line received a letter from Pendleton, Ore., this morning containing the information that George Abbott, a well known wool buyer here, who lost his foot three weeks ago at Biggs, Ore., is getting along very well.

Superintendent Kier of the Sanpete Valley road is in the city today.

BRAKEMAN LOSES A FOOT.

Thomas Perkins, a brakeman on the Oregon Short Line, was brought down from Pocatello last night and taken to St. Mark's hospital, where his left foot was amputated at the ankle. The member was badly mangled while Mr. Perkins was driving trucks from his train, the unfortunate man slipped and his foot came under the wheels. The operation was successful and Mr. Perkins is doing nicely.

AMUSEMENTS.

Manager Myers offers a vaudeville performance never before equaled in the city for the money. The hit which Harvey and Doane made last week is responsible for their re-engagement. They appear in a rag time comedy of their own creation, which is clever and decidedly original. It includes a triple piano solo by Miss Doane that is unique in the extreme.

Prof. Cunningham will be seen for the last time this week. His magnum work will include the growing of flowers before the audience, which comes with the greatest of the district. The ladies, Andrew Martin and Nellie Ridgway are scheduled for a double bill. In one they present "The Double Bill," a vaudeville comedy. In the other the couple give a very clever tight-rope performance. The Apollo Comedy quartet, which made such a favorable impression last week, are on the program for new popular, funny songs. Miss Millie Williams is to be seen in new illustrated songs, and Frank Wilson will make his first appearance in the latest eastern successes in the vocal line.

At the Palace of Illusions the attraction for the week guarantee a show which cannot fail to please. Miss Devere is to be seen as "Lanette, Angel of the Air," in a spectacular performance never before equaled in the city. Miss Fabrique, the "Child Patri," who has a remarkably sweet voice, will be seen in a number of new illustrated songs.

HENRY WAGENER CALLED HENCE

Old Resident and Well Known Business Man Crosses Dark River.

HAD SUFFERED FOR YEARS

From Complication of Diseases—Was a Man of Generous Nature and Many Good Traits.

Henry Wagener, an old-time resident of Salt Lake City, familiarly known throughout Utah and surrounding states as the founder and president of the Wagener Brewing company, and associated from early days with the business interests of this state, died at the family residence about 8 o'clock last night after a lingering illness covering nearly seven years, from a complication of dropsy and Bright's disease. The deceased was 65 years of age, and leaves a wife and seven children, all of whom were at the bedside when the final summons came.

SUFFERED WITH FORTITUDE.

In the early part of his business career Mr. Wagener was quite successful and amassed a comfortable fortune, but in 1896 he met with heavy financial reverses, which seemed to weigh him down. Soon after his health began to break, first from an attack of rheumatism, which was followed by Bright's disease, from which he has suffered more or less ever since. To a man of such push and activity as he, the long illness which practically retired him from business life, was very trying, but he bore it with that resignation and cheerfulness for which he was noted.

A short time previous to his death he appeared to be much improved and family and friends hoped that he would yet be spared many years. But in this they were doomed to disappointment, for a turn for the worse soon followed, and he grew steadily weaker until the end came, as stated above.

BIOGRAPHICAL.

Henry Wagener was born Aug. 30, 1838, in Elmhorn, Holstein, Germany. When 20 years of age he emigrated to America, settling first at Colona, Cal., where he engaged in the brewery business. He came to Utah in 1864 and soon after he established a brewery at the mouth of Emigration canyon, which he conducted successfully for more than thirty years, or until 1896, when he retired from active business life.

Mr. Wagener was married on June 27, 1863, at Carson City, Nev., to Margaret Engbrecht, and to their union nine children were born. Two of the children, Henry and Pauline, died in 1878, aged 10 and 5 years respectively. An interesting fact in this connection is that the last words spoken by Mr. Wagener before he died were in relation to the little ones who had gone before twenty-five years ago. The children now living are Mrs. Kate Wagener King, Misses Margaret, Bertha, Lena, Ida and Idrina and Chris Wagener.

Wagener was prominent as a Mason in Utah, having been a Knight Templar and a Shriner. He was made a Mason by Mount Moriah lodge No. 2 in the spring of 1868, and served as treasurer of this lodge from 1870 to 1878. He was also an honored member of the A. O. U. W. lodge. The funeral will be under the auspices of the Knights Templar.

Although Mr. Wagener is best known as the founder of the famous brewery bearing his name, he was a public spirited man and interested in many enterprises. He had an enviable reputation for his liberality and generosity, and his memory will be long cherished not only by his family but by many people who were in his days of prosperity the recipients of substantial acts of kindness at his hands. Those who were intimately acquainted with Mr. Wagener in his life time will agree with the following tribute by Mr. Christopher Diehl, an old-time friend of the deceased:

"Henry Wagener in the early days was one of the most charitable and progressive business men I ever knew. He was an enterprising citizen in every respect. His money was equally free for charity or for any enterprise or improvement calculated to benefit the community. He was never a better man with a warmer heart. He was a true citizen in every sense, liberal even to a fault. I never knew a man who had so many friends and many of them so much and asked so little in return."

A FRIEND'S TRIBUTE.

MRS. PITCHER'S ANSWER.

Admits Entering Into Ante-Nuptial Contract With Husband.

Charlotte J. Pitcher, who some time ago filed a separate maintenance suit against her husband, Frederick W. Pitcher, this afternoon filed an answer to the cross-complaint of her husband, which she admitted that she entered into an ante-nuptial contract with her husband the day before they were married, in which contract she agreed to relinquish all of her rights in his estate in case of his death or any right to sue in case of a separation for the consideration of $3,000, and her husband agreed to relinquish all his rights to her estate in case of her death or for 36 years has been secretary and treasurer of his state. He also is secretary and treasurer of the national Republican association, and of the Republican association of New York. He began as a printer's devil 50 years ago at the age of 15 years.

J. Irvine Steel of Ashland, Pa., is also a veteran, and is connected prominently in both the national and state associations.

Among the party is a genuine Utah pioneer in the person of J. C. Coulson of La Harpe, who came to this state in 1852, and remained until 1857, when he moved to California.

His father died at Council Bluffs on the way west. Mr. Coulson is accompanied by his wife, who will show the house he built at Ogden, which he left 46 years ago.

The party will visit Park City and after some of its great mines tomorrow afternoon they will go to the town of Panguitch and return by the way of the Black Hills.

MANY VISITING QUAIL DRIVERS.

Nearly Two Hundred of Them Are Now in the City of the Saints.

THE "SEEING CAR" TODAY.

Salute to Engaging Their Attention This Afternoon—Choir and Organ Recital Tonight.

Representatives of the National Editorial association, with members of their families to the number of considerable, nearly 200 are in Salt Lake today. They came from Omaha in two sections, the first arriving yesterday and the second this morning.

The entire party is chaperoned by W. J. Kline of the Amsterdam (N. Y.) Daily Recorder, who came in with yesterday's arrivals. Mr. Kline was former president of the New York State association and in that capacity visited the national association at the Buffalo exposition two years ago.

He looks after all matters of transportation and his frank on telegrams is well known over the Western Union system. The two cars that came in this morning were under the direct superintendency of C. B. McCoy of the Cashhook (O. C.) Age. 1. E. Diehl of the Mammoth Record, the only representative of the Utah Press association at Omaha came in with the last section.

The visitors are mostly quartered at the Knutsford, Kenyon, and Wilson hotels. They are a fine looking body of intelligent men and women and represent 27 states of the Union. They were tendered an informal reception at the Kenyon this morning by President Felt and other members of the Utah association and various representatives of the city press. Shortly after 11 o'clock they started about the city in an observation or Salt Lake Seeing car, the trip lasting over two hours. At 2:30 this morning they took the train for Saltair, where they will remain for the balance of the day returned for the choir and organ recital at the Tabernacle at 5:30 to night. Judge W. H. King will deliver an address on Utah.

Noted persons among the visitors is A. O. Bunnell of the Danville (N. Y.) Advertiser. Mr. Bunnell is both a veteran and an important factor in editorial circles of the nation. At the recent meeting he read a paper on "Fifty Years in a Printing Office," as this is his jubilee at the business. He has been president of the National Association, and for 36 years has been secretary and treasurer of his state. He also is secretary and treasurer of the national Republican association, and of the Republican association of New York. He began as a printer's devil 50 years ago at the age of 15 years.

J. Irvine Steel of Ashland, Pa., is also a veteran, and is connected prominently in both the national and state associations.
