SCHOOL ELECTION RETURNS.

The board of county commissioners canvassed the returns of votes cast on the recent school election. The results on the consolidation of certain districts. The official count showed the same returns as published. The commissioners received the right to hold the election, to either grant or refuse the consolidation, and only held the election that they might know what the majority of the taxpayers felt on the proposition. It is understood that some of the taxpayers have objected to the consolidation from the first, will be every possible effort to have the board refuse to grant the request and should the board announce its intention of consolidating they will test the legality of the law under which they act in the case.

FUNERAL OF ELDER J. J. FIFE.

The Clinton, Davis county, meeting-house was crowded to overflowing yesterday afternoon when the funeral services over the remains of Elder John J. Fife, who died in the Southern States mission, June 6, 1931, were held. There were present sympathizing friends from both Davis and Weber counties. The large attendance evidenced the high esteem in which the deceased was held in the community. Many beautiful floral tributes were left on his casket and a very large funeral home was in attendance. The funeral services were held in the meeting-house, where they were laid to rest in the family burial ground.

The funeral services were presided over by Bishop O. D. Hadlock. The Hooper ward choir furnished some excellent music. The speakers were Bishop Hadlock, Elders George C. Child, William E. Stokes, President Raymond B. Young, of Salt Lake, and President Joseph H. Grant. Each spoke of the excellent life of the deceased, of his life's service for the cause of the great reward which awaits such as give their all for the cause of Christ. Their remarks were of a comforting nature to the family and friends. A letter from President Hest, of the Davis state expressing his condolence was read. The grave was dedicated by Bishop Hadlock.

COUNTERFEIT COIN.

Considerable counterfeit money is in circulation in the city, especially 25 cent pieces. Much of this money has been used in playing the slot machines. In one machine last evening the proprietor found no less than six counterfeit 25 cent pieces. Some of the business houses have also received some of the worthless coin. The 25 cent pieces are of excellent workmanship and show that the counterfeiters are experts at the business. The making of counterfeit money is a crime and the efforts to find the men who are passing the worthless coins.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

The business houses and private residences are being prettily decorated for the occasion of President Roosevelt's visit to Ogden Friday.

Unique and Unusual Program—Hansen Wedding—Rough Riders—To Meet President Roosevelt.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah, May 27.—The graduating class of the Brigham Young academy high school gave their exercises in the college hall last evening. Although unique and unusual for a commencement program it was nevertheless entertaining. Heretofore classes have been organized for a six-year course, four-year high school and two-year college. The college course has been increased one year and the classes necessarily have been renamed. The '06s on leaving the high school assume a new name and bury the organization that was killed by the rearrangement. The program bore out this thought.

The entrance of the graduates was a surprise. Eight pall-bearers carried a long coffin and placed it in front of the decorated stand. The class members collected in the rear procession and quietly took their places. The president's address served as the opening remarks in a funeral service. The ceremony was given by T. E. Bennett was frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause. In that the class had an opportunity to make the score over with the school. The cause of death was numerous and the all the class rivalries and feuds were reviewed in a most amusing tragic light.

W. A. Cotton gave reminiscences of the deceased thereby giving the class history. Miss George Hoagland made the dramatic and prophesied a most brilliant future for the graduates. The last will and testament was read by O. W. Jarvis bequeathing to junior class members his collection of books and to the academy a valuable library on American antiquities. The library is valued at over $500. As usual the class sang "O. N. Kelly" and certainly had to please, for nothing was free from fault in his opinion. E. D. Woolley, the valedictorian delivered the valedictory address. After the presentation of the Irish wake was held in the gymnasium.

"I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in every respect. I have done wonders for me. I was a soldier in the late war and am subject to and have my share of the aches and pains from an army campaign. In all such cases the nerves are affected so seriously to hurt themselves, and prompt treatment is necessary. The best treatment consists of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, which restores vitality to the nerves and helps them to throw off various disorders which bring about pain and suffering. There is nothing so good for the stomach and bowels as Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. It acts directly upon the nerves of the digestive organs, speedily restoring them to normal activity.
