LOCAL BRIEFS.

A son was born yesterday to the wife of ex-Governor H. M. Wells.

The Council of Jewish Women will hold a special meeting tonight after the lecture in the Jewish Temple.

Governor Cutler entertained the mem bers of his staff and officers of the Na-tional Guard at his residence on Thursday evening. Mesdames Waters and Hirshman and Miss Rose Levy will give a card party next Tuesday afternoon, in the B. and B. lodge rooms, Auerbach building.

The Federation of Labor will discuss at this evening's meeting, the proposi-tion to send three delegates to the Min-isterial association, and to admit three delegates to the Federation from the association.

tion showed that the doors had been tampered with. It is quite a mystery to those in charge of the office and also to the police officers, why any one should attempt to burglarize the office, A special meeting of members of the University club for the discussion of amendments to the by-faws, will be held next Saturday evening, at the club house. The proposed amendments pro-vide for a reclassification of member-ship.

Suit has been filed in the district court by Dr. J. Milliron against Rob-ert Siddoway, as administrator of the estate of John Siddoway, deceased, to recover $56 alleged to be due for medical and surgical services rendered by him for Mr. Siddoway during his last 11moss.

Rev. Lawrence R. Ridgley, formerly rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in this city, and of late rector at Los Angeles, will return next month to missionary work in China, where he was engaged after leaving his church in this city. Mr. Ridgley will teach in St. Paul's school at Shanghaf.

Judgment for plaintiff by default has been rendered by Judge Ritchie in the case of S. McDowall against the Bing-ham canyon Mining company for the sum of $3,656.53. The action was brought to recover for services rendered by plaintiff and John C. Dugan, whose claim was assumed to plaintiff claim was assigned to plaintiff.

Emms Brant was sentenced to 3 binning Brant was sentenced to so days in jail by Judge Diehl yesterday afternoon for vagrancy and drunken-ness, to which charges she pleaded guilty. Several years ago she was one of the prettiest young women in the city, but a desire for drink has brought her into disgrace. She belongs to a good family

Judge Diehl yesterday afternoon dis-charged James A. Luke after giving him a severe reprimend. Luke was ar-rested for leaving his horse untied on the city and county building grounds As he was leaving the court room Luke said he guessed he would have to buy a hitching strap now and the judge in-formed him that he would either have to do that or pay a fine. One of the depositors of the Commer-cial National bank of this city, brought in yesterday the remains of $150 in burnt bills, the result of an accidental fire where she had left the cash. The bank is sending the charred remains to the treasury department at Washington to have the destroyed money replaced by new bills. Citizens who have been in Denver report that the architects are fairly turning away business, and there is a taring away business, and there is a rapid building going on all over town that is astonishing visitors. One rea-son for so many new residences is the fact that new residents have an aver-sion to taking old houses for fear consumptives may have been living there. The big Raymond & Whitcomb excursion party of 100 members in this city, distinguished themselves by hiring 20 carriages and wagonets for driving about town at a dollar a head, instead of paironizing the "Seeing Sait Lake" cars. They claimed they could see more in carriages than when cooped up in street cars, and then carriages could take them where cars could not. Utah Lake continues to rise, and is reported as flooding considerable ter-ritory. It is claimed that there is near. It used as much water available at the present time for valley irrigation as there was a year ago at this time, and the canals are being cleaned out pre-paratory to filling them on April 15 next. So the Salf Lake valley will have a abundant surply of water the coman abundant supply of water the coming season.

The Salt Lake Temple will close on Wednesday evening, April 5, and open on Tuesday morning, April 11. That man Priest of the Salt Lake Heraid is a pretty smooth sort of a chap. When he comes around you, he takes right hold of you and places you just about where he wants you. To li-lustrate: He came to the Democrat of-fice the other day, having Manderfield, the San Pedro man with him, and im-mediately proceeded to get things a'-coming his way. He took possession of valuable space in the Democrat in which to say something about the big concert he is managing to come off in Landlord Fred Wey has been employ-ing two girls at the Wilson who looked so much alike that he found it impos-sible to distinguish between them. One was a stenographer, and the other pre-sided over the news stand. The ser-Vices of one were unsatisfactory and Mr. Wey determined to let her go, but as luck would have it, he discharged the wrong girl, and so had to let both out. It has left him in more or less of a maze ever since.

George Sayage has returned from six weeks' absence in the east. Mr. Savage returned from New York via Havana and Galveston. TRIP UP CANYON.

Members of City Council Inspected Water Rights of the Power Company.

The members of the city council and city officials returned last night from Big Cottonwood canyon where they inspected the water rights of the Utah Light & Railway company, which it proposes to exchange to the city for an extension of its franchises. The party was shown over the property by W. P. Read and Robert F. Hayward, representing the company. All of those who took the trip report as having had a very pleasant time, and a number of the councilmen expressed themselves as being convinced that the city should acquire the rights of the company.
