

MONTANA'S GREAT RAILROAD TIE-UP

Helena's Streets Streams of Water While Tracks Are Washed Out on All Sides.

NOTHING LIKE IT EVER KNOWN

Beaverhead River Higher Than at Any Time Within Recollection Of Oldest Inhabitant.

Helena, Mont., June 4.—The greatest railroad tie-up in Montana in its history is now on as a result of the rainfall of the last week, and especially a heavy rainstorm this afternoon, in which it is estimated two inches of rain fell. Tonight the streets of Helena are streams of water and on every side of the city the railroad tracks are washed out, and it is doubtful when trains will be running again.

Reports received tonight at the Western Union telegraph office stated that the Great Northern tracks are out at Wolf creek, about 30 miles from here, and three inches of water are over them. No trains will be able to pass tonight and the railroad officials said that they did not know when it would be possible to get trains through again. The night manager of the Western Union here reports a landslide at White Fish, in Flathead county, which has stalled the nine Northern Pacific trains which came in last night and early today and were sent west on the Great Northern tracks. Several thousand passengers are on the trains and it is said there is small prospect of the trains getting by the landslide for at least 48 hours. The Western Union also reports that the Great Northern tracks tonight were washed out both north and south of Helena.

THE BEAVERHEAD HIGH.

Butte, Mont., June 4.—A special to the Miner from Dillon says: "The Beaverhead river went several inches higher last night. It is now several feet higher than at any time in the recollection of any old-timer. It is within a foot of flowing over the railings of the Oregon Short Line bridge, a mile north of the city, and the railroad company has a work train here dumping rock into the river to stop the cutting at either end of the bridge. places along the valley the river is several miles wide and farmers along the stream have moved out and are camping in tents on higher ground. "A Ricker, Mont. rancher, named Morrissey, while crossing a Silver Bow creek bridge at that point at 11 o'clock today, was swept into the creek and drowned. The body has not been recovered."

THE FERRIS TRIAL.

State's Attorney Now Putting the Case Before the Jury.

Butte, Mont., June 4.—A local brewer, who witnessed the explosion; a photographer, who took pictures of the wrecked train the next day, and several railway employees, testified today in the Ferris trial. This earlier testimony by the state, is merely to put the case before the jury. The battle will come over expert testimony as to the use of dynamite and its effects, since it is incumbent upon the state to prove the wreck was caused by a dynamite explosion and not by a defect in the boiler.

The testimony thus far has thrown no fresh light on the case. A saloonkeeper, who told of Ferris entering his place, a few blocks from the scene of the wreck, half an hour after the shock, created the only ripple today, since his evidence, if not shaken, will kill Ferris' alibi.

Interrupted at every turn by objections of the defense, the state's attorneys are slowly getting the evidence in the Ferris case before the jury. The testimony regarding the details of the dynamiting of the Burlington train was nearly completed today and that part of the evidence connecting Ferris with the wreck will be presented probably tomorrow afternoon.

The defense apparently is laying the foundation for a denial that the train was wrecked by dynamite at all, and the theory that a defective rail threw the second engine of the wrecked train from the track. A number of miners were put on the stand today to testify to the action of dynamite. They were cross-examined minutely.

Deputy Sheriff Richards took the stand for the state, testifying to having picked up a splintered rail at the scene of the wreck. The officer could not swear positively that the piece of rail figured in the explosion, and on objection of the defense, the court refused to permit the introduction of the evidence of rail evidence. This was a point scored by the defense, as the splintered rail was relied on to show that the steel had been splintered by the force of dynamite.

HOUSE OF HOPE SWINDLE SCHEME

Syndicate of Alms Gatherers Said To Have Taken in Hundreds Of Thousands of Dollars.

NOW WORKING IN CHICAGO.

Secured About $1,200 First Day—Addresses of Houses in Grand Island And Denver Pictious.

Chicago, June 5.—A syndicate of alms gatherers, said to have collected hundreds of thousands of dollars on the plea that the money would be used for the care of feeble old men and women in a series of alleged fictitious houses of hope, in the various cities of the United States, is being investigated by detectives of the Chicago police department.

Last night it was discovered that the syndicate had launched a campaign of soliciting in Chicago, with crews of 100 men and women operating a house to house canvass, wearing the Red Cross symbol of mercy, and collecting contributions that pour into the coffers of the syndicate $1,200 a day. The syndicate is said to have operated in various parts of the United States for the past six years.

The police expect to take action against the concern today. A woman in charge of the Chicago headquarters, said the money collected would be used in supporting the following named institutions:

The house of hope, Grand Island, Neb., eight inmates.

The Benish home for aged, 3333 Curtis street, Denver, Colo., 70 inmates.

The house of hope, Northwest Tract, Shreveport, La., 25 inmates.

Telegrams received last night indicated that the house at Grand Island, Neb., was a cottage, in which lived a railway mail carrier and his family, and there was no such institution as the house of hope in Grand Island.

Another telegram from Denver stated that the house at 3333 Curtis street, Denver, was a vacant dwelling.

A third telegram from Shreveport declared that there was no house of hope on the northwest tract or within the limits of the city of Shreveport.

BAILEY'S ARREST ORDERED.

Washington, June 4.—Complying with the request of the state department, the minister of foreign affairs of Honduras has ordered the arrest of A. F. Bailey, former president of the Export Shipping company of New Jersey, and the detention of the steamer Goldboro and her cargo. This information came to the department in a dispatch from Minister Dodge at San Salvador, dated yesterday.

WM. JEFFRIES EXECUTED.

St. Charles, Mo., June 4.—William Jeffries was hanged here at 1:40 o'clock for the murder of William Wussler, a farmer. He made a speech of 10 minutes from the scaffold, declaring his innocence.

The crime for which Jeffries was executed was committed on May 3, 1905. Two men called at Wussler's home and asked for a drink of water. Wussler was obliging them when an altercation arose and Wussler was shot. Jeffries was arrested and was identified by Wussler's daughter as one of the two men.

TO RAISE ORANGES.

New York, June 5.—John D. Rockefeller is about to begin the erection of an orangery on his estate at Pocantico Hills.

Mr. Rockefeller takes great interest in the cultivation of oranges, and has a great variety of trees bearing this fruit in his gardens. To enhance their growth and preserve them, the trees will be transferred to the orangery during the winter months. The building will cover a plot 200 by 50 feet, and will be 25 feet in height. The style of architecture is to be Italian and the exterior will be of ornamental stucco.

NATIONAL HOLIDAYS.

War Department Constructs Them in Connection With Chicken or Turkey.

Washington, June 5.—A construction of the words "national holidays" used in connection with the issue of dressed chicken or turkey in army garrison ration, has been made by the war department. They are construed to mean such days that are declared legal holidays by the federal government, and that are of general observance. They will be New Year's, Washington's birthday, Memorial day, Independence day, Labor day, Thanksgiving day, and Christmas.

SENATOR GORE.

Undergoing Treatment and Believes His Sight Will Be Restored.

Washington, June 5.—Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma, who is undergoing treatment at the Episcopal hospital here, firmly believes, it is said, that his sight will be restored. He is considered a model patient. Mrs. Gore is constantly at his side and keeps him informed on all the latest news. The treatment will probably be performed. The treatment supplies nourishment to the retina of the left eye, which is separated from the optic nerve.

PRESIDENT PLANNING TRIP TO EAST AFRICA

Washington, June 5.—Since the close of Congress President Roosevelt has been giving attention to his plans for a trip to British East Africa next summer, on which it is understood, Mr. Roosevelt will accompany him. The president will carry a complete hunting outfit and will devote much of his time to the study of the habits of the animals, collecting material for a book which it is believed he will write upon his return.

FILLY SIGNORINETTA WINS THE OAKS STAKES

London, June 5.—The Oaks stakes of $25,000, for 3-year-old fillies, about one mile and a half was run at Epsom Downs today and won by E. Ginstrel's filly Signorinetta. The winner of the Derby last Wednesday, Lord Falkmouth's Courtney was second and Fairy owned by G. B. Edwards, third. Thirteen horses ran. Rhodora, Richard Croker's entry, fell down.

Until the astonishing success of the Italian filly Signorinetta in winning the Derby but little interest was manifested in the Oaks as it was considered that no horse entered in the Ladies' race had any reason to hope to be able to defeat Richard Croker's Rhodora today. Signorinetta's easy win on Wednesday, however, upset all calculations, and today opinion was about evenly divided between the American filly Signorinetta and the Derby winner.

The bright weather which favored Epsom week continued, with the addition, however, of a cool breeze, and another big crowd went to the paddock to see the horses and until the saddling was completed Rhodora and Signorinetta were surrounded by a group of hand-somely robed women and their escorts, all taking the keenest interest in the appearance of the favorites. Mr. Croker, who again is becoming a familiar figure on the English courses, was in the locker club enclosure. Many wagers were placed and Rhodora carried considerable transatlantic money.

Los Angeles, June 4.—W. F. Botsford, president of the American National bank of this city, reported to the police tonight that he was robbed on Tuesday last of jewelry valued at $10,000. Mr. Botsford, according to the account given to the police, was taking the jewelry, which was the property of his wife, to a safe deposit vault, and was in a car placed in the case in his outside overcoat pocket. Before reaching his office the case had disappeared. As yet the police have no clue.
