BREVITIES.

Education is the cheap defence of nations.

Virtue is a rock, from which rebound all the arrows shot against it.

An indisputable right of women—the right to bare arms.

The best exercise of memory—Remembering the poor.

Beauty devoid of grace is a mere hook without the bait.

Books are the depository of everything that is most honorable in man.

You may joke when you please, if you are careful to please when you joke.

An idle reason lessens the weight of the good one you gave before.

Costly apparatus and splendid cabinets have no power to make scholars.

Take care of the Constitution and the Constitution will take care of us.

Squib thinks the dearest eyes he knows of just now are those of potatoes.

When does a criminal resemble an old book? When he is bound over.

The Astor estate is valued at $134,000,000 by some who profess to know.

Bonner has bought six lots on Fifth Avenue, for which he paid $147,000.

I would rather my daughter should have a man without money than money without a man.

Canada is to have a volunteer army of 40,000 men, to cost the dominion $900,000 a year.

One-half of mankind are born with saddles on their backs, to be ridden by the other half.

The purest red and white complexions are said to look ghastly before footlights—hence the necessity of rouge and rice-powder.

Why are widows who want husbands like railroads that neeed repairing? Because they are ready for new ties in lieu of the decayed sleepers.

One drachm of alum reduced to an impalpable powder, three drachms of nitrous spirit of ether, mixed and applied to the tooth, is a good remedy for the tooth ache.

Much of the tea made in Russia is yellow, and made from the blossom instead of the leaf of the plant. It is delicious, and sells there for four, five, and even six roubles (almost one of our dollars) per pound.

Through the exertions of General J. G. Wilson, $2,000 have been subscribed among the friends and admirers of the late Fitz-Greene Halleck for a monument, to be erected over his grave at Guilford, Connecticut.

"What a beautiful place heaven is!" said a little boy not four years old.

"Why do you think so?" said his mother.

"Because," said he, pointing to the stars, "the nails on the floor are so beautiful."

A chap went to a pork house to buy pork on credit. First he bargained for a lot of hogs' ears; next, the clerk seeming willing to trust, he bought a hog's head; then, growing bold, he said, 'I believe I'll take that ham.' 'No you won't,' replied the clerk; 'you are head and ears in debt now.'

A Mrs. Zimmerman, who has been for eighteen months confined in an Indiana Asylum for the Insane, was recently set at liberty on the ground that her disease was incurable. She published a statement to the effect that she had been confined all the time on false charges made by her husband.

During a recent performance of "Romeo and Juliet," at Marblehead, the fair Juliet's question in the soliloquy before taking the sleeping draught, "What if this mixture does not work well?" was answered by an urchin in the pit—"Then take a dose of pills." The effect upon the audience can be imagined.

A fellow whose countenance was enough to scare the evil one, was giving some extra flourishes in a public-house when he was observed by a Yankee, who walking up, asked him if he didn't fall into a brook when he was young.

"What do you mean, you impertinent scoundrel?"

"Why, I didn't mean nothing only you have got such a crooked mouth, I thought as how you might have fallen in the brook when you was a boy, and your mother hung you up by the mouth to dry."

Have you ever watched the icicle as it formed? Have you ever noticed how it froze one drop at a time until it was a foot long or more? If the water was clear the icicle remained clear, and sparkled brightly in the sun; but if the water was slightly muddy, the icicle looked foul, and its beauty was spoiled. Just so our characters are formed. One little thought or feeling at a time adds to its influence. If each thought be pure and bright the soul will be lovely, and will sparkle with happiness; but if impure and wrong there will be defermity and wretchedness.

Three things to cultivate—Good books, good friends and good humor.

Three things to admire—Intellectual power, dignity and gracefulness.

Three things to wish for—Health, friends and a cheerful spirit.

Three things to delight in—Beauty, frankness and freedom.

Three things to avoid—Idleness, loquacity and flippant jesting.

Three things to hate—Cruelty, arrogance and ingratitude.

Whoever shall give attention to the first of these three things is sure to secure the second, enjoy the third, and possess the fourth—they will also be free from the fifth; and the sixth and last will never form a part of their natures.
