

COST OF PROPOSED STONE CROSSWALKS

Council Desired to Know, Hence Resolution Went Over for One Week.

NEW GRADES COMPLAINED OF.

Alice J. Kirk Demands Damages for Personal Injuries—Miscellaneous Matters.

The questions of stone crosswalks and the deplorable condition of the grades established for the new sidewalks in the eastern part of the city, were again the chief topics of discussion at the city council meeting last night. E. H. Davis made a desperate effort in behalf of his resolution providing for crosswalks to be laid throughout the entire city where sidewalks have been completed. It was estimated that it would take about 80 walks and the cost would be about $12,000. A number of the councilmen objected to the resolution and the report of the committee on the same because the city engineer had not given the council an estimate of the cost of the work. Hence the entire matter was laid over for another week and the engineer will make an estimate of the cost of the work.

GRADES COMPLAINED OF.

The board of public works called attention to a number of complaints which had been made against the grades established for the new sidewalks and suggested that the work be stopped until the questions are settled. The council, after considerable discussion, referred the matter to the committee on municipal levees and engineering, with the city engineer associated.

A petition was received from A. A. Stebbins and other property owners on Main street, asking for an appropriation of $250 for the grading of that street. At present the sidewalks are put down to the established grade, and the result is that the street is about three feet higher than the sidewalks. The petition was granted, and the appropriation made.

MORE ASPHALT LANDS.

Still another proposition to sell asphalt lands to the city was received by the council. J. C. Snow offered to sell four claims of 160 acres each, located near Seaford, only one and a half miles from the railroad, for the sum of $2,000. The proposition was referred to the special asphalt committee.

A petition was received from C. B. Stewart and a number of others, asking that the Utah Light & Railway company be granted an extension of three years in which to extend its line south on Thirteenth East street from its present terminus at Second South street. The petition stated that the company had completed one block of the extension by Jan. 1, 1905. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and municipal laws.

Black's amendment to the license ordinance, which has been pending for several weeks, was brought up again last night and passed. It provides that the license for ticket brokers shall be reduced from $100 to $50 per annum; merchandise brokers from $100 to $25 per annum; junk dealers increased from $50 to $100 per annum.

CLAIMS PRESENTED.

Former Deputy City Auditor W. D. Bowring presented a claim to the council for $30 for services for the last 15 days of August. The matter was referred to the committee on municipal laws and the city attorney.

Alice J. Kirk presented a claim for $2,000 damages for personal injuries received by her on October 15. She claims that she fell into an excavation across the sidewalk on the north side of Eighth South street between Second and Third West streets and received injuries which necessitated a serious operation. The committee on claims will consider the matter.

THANKS FOR BURIAL LOTS.

A communication was received from President Joseph F. Smith of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints thanking the city council for its action in donating to the church a number of lots in the city cemetery for the burial of its poor.

W. A. Holman and a number of other residents in Kinney & Gourley's addition entered a protest against the closing of Goodwin street by the Oregon Short Line Railroad company. The street has been open for traffic 15 years and the residents object to it being closed at this time. The matter was referred to the committee on streets.

GEORGE A. SNOW HERE.

Former Salt Lake Talks on Political Outlook in East.

George A. Snow arrived on Sunday afternoon from Indiana, and registered at the Knutsford hotel. He is back to his old home on a short business trip. Mr.
Snow remarked this morning, in response to questions that he had come to Utah to find any political excitement.
Black east there is a regular graveyard quietness prevailing that is remarkable for a presidential election. Even in Indiana where not 2.3 of the United States population are representing that a foreverish excitement is prevailing. Mr.
Snow declared, everything was so quiet that he could not conceive how it could be quieter anywhere. There is no excitement there whatever, and from what he was able to observe, he was convinced that the state would go handily to Republicanism—in fact the Democracy would be nowhere.

In Chicago, where Mr. Snow has now his residence, he said the same utter apathy and indifference obtained. People were paying no attention to politics.
All seemed to regard it as a foregone conclusion that Roosevelt and Fairbanks would be elected. In New York there is a peculiar local situation that somewhat complicates things. Tammany has in view the coming expansion of $10,000,000 in the enlargement of the Erie canal, and it is determined, if possible to dip the paw of the Tammany tiger into that particular mess of financial pottage. But the chances are that the national ticket will pull the state ticket through, and the vote of New York be cast for the Republican electoral college and state tickets.
Mr. Snow is heavily interested in Indiana oil, and he is doing a good business.

THEOLOGY CLASSES.

Interesting Sessions at the University Sunday School Yesterday.

The University Sunday school convened in Barratt hall Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. As a special feature of the general exercises, Miss Nellie Kedington sang two sacred solos—
"Star of the East" and "Resignation."

The theology class B met in room 21, and Prof. Mills spoke on "The Small Plates and Their Contents." It was explained that the "Small Plates" came unabridged, that they contained the sacred history of the Nephites during the first 400 years of their existence upon this continent, reaching to within about 200 years of the coming of Christ. There were in all nine writers on this set of plates. The first Nephite wrote the First Book of Nephi, which gives an account of Lehi's travels to America, 600 B. C., and also the Second Book of Nephi, which gives an account of their settlement on this land, covering about 44 years, during which time they were home building. The second writer was Jacob, who wrote the Book of Jacob, which gives an account of his preaching to his people and of his confounding the anti-Christ Sheroen. Enos was the third writer and his earnestness in the "welfare of his people was spoken of in relation to the incident of his "hunting beasts in the forests." He, like his successors, became very brief in his literary work, owing to the lack of room on the plates, which were almost full. The briefity of Jacob, Omni, Amaron, Benjamin, and Abinadom was discussed and then the last writer—Amaleki—was spoken of at greater length. He gave an account of Mosiah and his people finding the people of Zarahemla and of the closing of the "small plates" and their delivery to King Benjamin, who already held the "large plates"—the record of the kings. Mormon's abridgement will be considered next Sunday.
The subject treated in the theology class A under the general title, "Jesus, the Christ," was the relation between the fall and the atonement. Vocalious service as characteristic of religious requirements in ancient as in present times, and as illustrated by many processes of legal significance received attention. The scapegoat and altar victim of ancient Israel were cited, and the meaning of bloody and bloodless sacrifices was demonstrated. Dr. Talmage emphasized the absolute necessity of such a sacrifice as that rendered by Jesus the Christ.

Having three different surnames in less than two days is the record of Mrs. Flora Perkins-Stamps-Whitney, who was married to Carl Whitney yesterday, after being divorced from Gordon Stamps only a little more than a day. When Mrs. Whitney appeared in the divorce court on Saturday her name was Flora Stamps. She was granted a decree of divorce and the restoration of her maiden name, Flora Perkins. It appears however, that she was not satisfied with her maiden name, so yesterday she married again and her name now is Mrs. Flora Whitney.

They were married in Pueblo, Colo., custody of which was awarded to plain-

Flora Perkins, was restored to her.

PEACEMAKER ASSAULTED.

Colored Man Resents His Interference
And Trouble Begins.

Ed. Brown, a childlike and bland son of the second son of Noah, is trying to answer this afternoon, in the police court, the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. According to the entertaining recital given the police sergeant last night, when the impromptu opera bouffe occurred, Brown and another gentleman of sable hue were discussing the date of the original last run of shad at Third South and East Temple streets. The debate assumed such an enlivening tone that the tune of "Dixie" rang in the air, would not have been inappropriate for this particular musical and muscular function.

One W. A. Matteson "loomed up the fog" at that moment, and assumed the often unsuccessful role of peacemaker.
This occasion proved no exception to the rule, for Brown turned his artillery on Matteson, who promptly made up the street at the rate of 100 yards in 9-4-5 seconds. The two presently ran into the warm and hospitable arms of Officer Joe Bush, who harvested both into the police station.
Whether Matteson will be fined this afternoon for interfering to keep the peace last night, remains to be seen.
