

There has been festivity enough during the week to satisfy the gluttonous devotee at the shrine of pleasure. The carnival has given the city a gala tinge, suggestive of festivals of ancient days, and outside of this, the number of private events have sufficed to keep the social wheel in a dizzying whirl throughout the week. A number of events are planned for the coming month, including a list of brilliant dancing parties to be given by different societies of the city.

Among the interesting events of the week was the marriage of Miss Mamie McAllister and Frank W. Thatcher, which took place in the Logan Temple on Wednesday. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher came to Salt Lake for a brief visit with relatives, and yesterday a luncheon was given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spencer. The table was decorated with roses and smilax and covers were laid for twelve. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thatcher, Mr. and Mrs. George Thatcher, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. William Rossett, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Lynch. The bride is the daughter of Manager John McAllister, of Salt Lake, and the groom a son of Mr. George Thatcher, of Logan. They left on yesterday afternoon for Germany.

Miss Mamie Porter gave an elaborate luncheon at the Kenyon yesterday in honor of Miss Edna Donnellan. The tables were laid in the red room and covers were laid for thirteen. The golf idea prevailed throughout, the place cards being hand-painted golf-girls and the souvenirs tiny golf-bags. The guests were attired in golf costumes and enjoyed a contest at the popular game during the afternoon. At the table, which was beautifully decorated with nasturtiums, smilax and carnations, were the following guests: Miss Donnellan, Miss Salisbury, Miss Pope, Miss Giddies, Miss Jacobs, Mr. R. H. Channing, Miss Burke, Miss Dooley, Miss Cavanaugh, Mrs. A. E. Walker, Misses Elsie and Laura Sherman.

On Thursday Miss Phyllis Vincent and Mr. Francis Rodgers were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed in the Temple during the day by Bishop Winder, and a quiet reception being held in the evening at the home covers were laid for fourteen. Present were Mrs. Burns McDonald, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. R. H. Channing, Mrs. Arthur Bird, Mrs. Victor Clement, Miss Younger, Miss Pope, Miss Burke, Miss Judge, Miss Salisbury, Miss McCornick, Mrs. W. G. Sharp, Miss Cavanaugh.

Yesterday Mrs. Walter Lewis of Butte was the guest of honor at an elaborate afternoon entertainment given by Mrs. S. R. Walker, Mrs. S. P. Eccles and Miss Walker at their residence on south Main. The rooms were decorated with pink and white asters, and about fifty guests were present to enjoy the event. The prize-winners were: Mrs. Burns McDonald, 1st prize; Miss Grace Almy, second prize and Mrs. Sol Siegel, lone hand.

Miss Mae King and Mr. George A. Lyman were married in the Salt Lake Temple this week. The young couple will make their future home in one of the "Mormon" colonies of the Big Horn section in Wyoming. They are both former residents of Utah, the bride coming from the southern part of the state and the groom from Tooele.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Clement entertained at dinner at the Alta club last night, the green room being used. The table was beautifully decorated, a centerpiece of American Beauty roses being surrounded with a bank of flowers, plumosa and maldenhair fern, and tiny tulip lamps in pink aiding in the charming effect. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCornick, Judge and Mrs. McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butters, of London, England, Mr. Williamson, of New York, Miss Keogh, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Holman.

Among the most delightful events of the week were the functions given in honor of Queen Mabelle and her court. The most elaborate perhaps was the banquet given by the executive committee of the Elks at the Kenyon on Thursday evening. The feature of the evening was a delightful musical program which was artistically rendered, and enjoyed by all present. After the program, refreshments were served, and the affair was voted a success by all present.

OGDEN SOCIAL NEWS.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 28.—The most brilliant social affair of the week was the marriage of Miss Edna Donnellan and Mr. Le Roy Farley. The ceremony was performed in the Salt Lake Temple Wednesday afternoon. The young couple returned to Ogden on the evening train and were met at the depot and driven to the home of the bride's parents, No. 2101 Monroe avenue, where they were gladly received by over eighty relatives and friends. They were ushered into the pretty parlors and a short time was spent in extending congratulations, after which the wedding party entered the spacious dining room where a sumptuous repast was served. The evening was spent in vocal and instrumental music, and various kinds of pleasure.

The bride looked very beautiful in an elegant cream silk gown with brides' roses in her hair. The groom wore conventional black. The home was exquisitely decorated with palms, cut flowers, and evergreens entwined together, making a very pretty effect. The tables were decorated with roses, asters, and smilax. The presents received were numerous and costly. The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Osborne, and a popular young lady. The groom is one of Ogden's promising young business men in the employ of E. A. Olson, grocery company. Mr. and Mrs. Farley will make their home at No. 840 Twenty-second street, where they have a pretty residence. Thursday evening a second reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. Farley at the home of the bride's parents, to which all the members of the Fourth ward choir and a few other guests were invited. The evening was spent very delightfully in music, etc. A sumptuous wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Farley are both members of the choir.

Saturday Evening Miss Mary E. Galt and Mrs. Charles E. Littlefield, both popular young people of Ogden, were married by Justice H. C. Wardleigh at his office. They will make their home in Ogden.

Mrs. F. S. Watt and daughter, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have been visiting in Ogden for the past few weeks, the guests of Mrs. G. H. Corse, departed for their home Tuesday. They were accompanied as far east as Chicago by Mrs. Corse.

Mrs. Bertha Peterson, who has been spending the summer in Germany, with her father, and obtaining the latest European fashions, returned home this week, after a most pleasant outing. She will open up parlors in the near future.

H. C. Markel and wife were in Ogden this week spending a few days with friends. They were en route to Omaha from Portland, where they have been pleasuring.

Prof. Fred W. Reynolds was in Ogden Tuesday, the guest of Supt. Driggs of the state school for the deaf and blind. Prof. Reynolds is a member of the Harvard college faculty.

Pres. L. W. Shurtliff returned home Monday from an extended business trip to Buffalo, Chicago and other eastern cities.

Miss Addie Hedges of Logan, Iowa, and Mrs. Edna Giddings of Woodbine, Iowa, who have been visiting in Ogden, the guests of Wm. Giddings and family, returned home Monday. Their visit in this city was very pleasant.

Misses Clara and Lottie Brown were Salt Lake visitors this week.

The Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement association of the Fifth ward have completed arrangements for a grand social to be given in the ward institute Monday evening. #### THE NEW FEATHER BOA.

The autumn girl is in love with the long boa and considers it an indispensable part of her outfit. The ostrich feather boa is a greater favorite even than the lovely frail chiffon creations.

Thursday evening. The tables were formed in the square and a round table in the center, each handsomely spread, and decorated with a profusion of ferns and flowers with candelabra aiding in the charming effect. Purple and white of course prevailed, and blended with the other tints in artistic display. During the banquet Held's band discoursed choice musical selections, and addresses were made by a number of the committee and others.

Mrs. W. G. Sharp gave a dinner at the Alta club last night for twelve. The table was laid in the red room and was decorated with American beauty roses. The guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Linday, Miss Harkness, Mr. Barclay, Mr. Young, Mr. Pollock, Mr. Wicks.

On Tuesday evening Miss Alice Adams and Albert E. Atkins were united in marriage, the event taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. S. Adams, Bishop D. P. Whitton officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by the families and intimate friends of the contracting parties, and later a delightful reception was held, about forty guests being present. The rooms were beautifully decorated with vines and flowers, the parlor with its bay window transformed into a bower, with myrtle and asters, and every niche filled with flowers, being especially pretty. The bride was attended by Miss Sallie Evans and Mr. W. T. Reed acted as best man. The bride wore a gown of white chiffon with trimmings of lace, and the bridesmaid wore a dainty gown of pink. A mandolin and guitar club rendered musical selections during the evening and delicious refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Atkins will be at home at 525 Fifth street after Oct. 1st.

A pleasant surprise of the week was the marriage of Mr. Henry George Taggart, the talented artist, and Miss Mary D. Sample, of Sewickley, Pa. The ceremony was performed on Tuesday evening in St. Mark's cathedral, Dean Eddle officiating. The bride was crowned in a becoming costume of gray. She is most accomplished and will be a welcome acquisition to Salt Lake social circles. Mr. Taggart has become well and popularly known in Salt Lake during his short residence here, through his paintings, his work in portrait painting being such as few American artists have excelled. Mr. and Mrs. Taggart will reside here for the present.

The marriage of Miss Maud Angell and William Busch took place on Tuesday night, the ceremony being performed by Bishop H. B. Clawson at the home of the bride. Mrs. Woolrich was matron of honor and Frank Angell was best man. The bride wore a becoming costume of white silk mull with lace trimmings and carried roses. After the ceremony the wedding party and guests were driven to Finch's restaurant where an elaborate supper was served.

The society badge and other items connected with the society was discussed. An intermediate meeting of the society is called for October 14th, at the residence of Mrs. Harker.

Once in a while a woman tells you that she feels the necessity of making her own living, but she doesn't know how to go about it. Perhaps she can find a hint in a talk given last week at Buffalo by Miss Virginia Potter of New York, one of the speakers at the National League convention of Women Workers. Miss Potter suggested a field for what might be termed lay workers. This was that any woman who has a specialty in any line of household work should go to a housekeeping class in some of these clubs of women workers perhaps she might know an unusually good way to wash ribbons, or might have some clever trick at darning or mending. Whatever the work in her own home in which she excelled, that should be the one she should, on occasional evenings teach to the class. "A rotation of volunteers with specialties," said Miss Potter, "might result in adding the novelty we so often need in our class work. The possibilities of housework classes are indefinite. Fine ironing might be made into a delightful course, and the shining up of household articles can become a positive pleasure. I should like to include in our specialty classes the handling of the hammer, putting up curtains, and hanging pictures; mending down the cuffs and collars; the making of slip covers for furniture, the mending of broken roller shades; and, in fact, anything and everything which we women have to do so

BEAUTIFUL OGDEN HOMES.

RESIDENCE OF COUNCILMAN CHRIS. FLYGARE.

The above reproduction is of a photograph of the comfortable home of Councilman Chris Flygare, of Ogden, which is located on Jefferson avenue, (the house number being 2421) between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets, directly facing Lester Park, the most beautiful in the city. Mr. Flygare's house was built during 1900 and is of pressed brick and fancy shingle work on the outside, the inside being finished in oak. Upon the first floor is a large hall and double parlors, with folding-door connections, bedroom, dining room, pantry, kitchen and bath room. Up stairs are fine nice bed rooms. The whole house is lighted by electricity and is very comfortable in all particulars.
