BUSINESS IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Hoken Olson and Wife, Convicted of Illegal Liquor Selling, Take Appeal.

JUSTICE REBUKES POLICE

For Attempting to Convict Prisoners On Flimsy Evidence—Trainloads Of Elks Pass Through.

OGDEN, July 8.—The Utah and Oregon Lumber company has brought suit against W. M. Dostaph and Peter S. Wilson to recover $570.34 alleged to be due on lumber and cement furnished while the defendants were engaged in cement contract work.

An amended complaint has been filed in the case of R. E. Blamlett against David Mattson, administrator of the estate of John Contos, deceased.

LIQUOR CASE APPEALED.
OGDEN, July 8.—Hoken Olson and his wife, Maria S. Olson, of Huntsville, who were convicted for selling liquor in the town of Huntsville without a license, have filed a notice of appeal in the district court. Mrs. Olson was convicted May 31 and Hoken Olson on June 25. The latter was sentenced by Justice McKay to serve one year in the county jail.

For many years Olson has operated a saloon in Huntsville, before the town was incorporated. Since the first of May the town went "dry," but the city council found, on numerous occasions that there was a "leak" some place and the city marshal was instructed to "stop it." Olson and his wife were arrested upon the charge, tried and found guilty.

JUDGE REBUKES POLICE.
OGDEN, July 8.—"According to the testimony which your officers have brought in here, this man is as much entitled to that horse as any merchant in the city, and you should have prepared yourself with some sort of a case before attempting to convict the prisoner."

The above is the rebuke to the police Judge Murphy delivered in the police court yesterday in the case of the city against H. C. Flannigan, charged with the larceny of 100 feet of hose. The case was another one of those which the officers frequently allow to drag several days. Flannigan was arraigned Tuesday morning and entered a plea of not guilty. His case was continued until the witnesses could be gathered. Yesterday Mark Murphy, who now runs a saloon in the place where the Apex bar formerly held forth, appeared and stated that he had purchased 50 feet of the hose of the prisoner. James Porter, another witness testified that Flannigan had given him five cents to deliver a piece of hose to a livery stable. Neither witness was prepared nor were the officers to show that Flannigan had stolen the hose. A man who had had hose stolen from him was unable to tell whether the hose that Flannigan was his. The poor preparation of the case caused the court to make the above statement in rebuking the officers for trying to convict a man on such flimsy evidence.

TRAINLOADS OF ELKS.
OGDEN, July 8.—Beginning this morning and continuing for the next four or five days there will be about 25 special trains pass through Ogden bearing Elks en route to the national convention which is to be held in Los Angeles. Proper facilities have been arranged at the union depot for the handling of the numerous trains with promptness and dispatch.

HUNTSVILLE TAX LEVY.
OGDEN, July 8.—At the Huntsville council session last night a resolution was adopted levying a special tax to install an electric light plant. The city tax levy is made 16 mills for street improvement and 10 mills for an electric light plant.

ANTI-SALOON MEETING AT PROVO SATURDAY

Convention Called of Mayors, Councilmen and County Commissioners To Devise Plan of Action.

(Special Correspondence.)
PROVO, Utah, July 8.—A strong prohibition sentiment exists in this city and county, due largely to the efforts of an efficient committee of representative citizens made up of the following ladies and gentlemen: James G. Duffin, chairman; Rev. J. Chas. Smith, vice chairman; Prof. W. Andelin, secretary; Jesse Knight, President J. B. Kessler, Mrs. Boyler, Mrs. De Ald, Miss Alice Reynolds, Miss Josephine Kellogg, ex-Mayor J. H. Frisby, Bp. L. Nelson, and Heber C. Jex. So earnestly and effectively has the committee been working that it is most probable this city and the greater part, not all of the county towns will go "dry" at the end of the year.

On Saturday, July 10, a. m., in the county court house, Provo, a prohibition convention will be held of the representative citizens of the county, including especially the mayors and councilmen of all cities and towns and the county commissioners. The meeting is called to devise uniform plans for the closing of all saloons by the first of January next in this city and county, and in all the cities of the county. A big and enthusiastic meeting is anticipated as the temperance sentiment is pretty strong throughout the county. The majority of the present city council of Provo is known to favor the elimination of the saloon evil, and who ever others may do, Provo will go "dry" by the end of the year.

RECENT DEATHS

BEHRMAN, LUCY E.—At Cove, Union county, Oregon, on July 1, Mrs. Lucy E. W. Behrman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Weimer, passed away from the effects of heart weakness and pneumonia, following the birth of a child. She was born in Maryland, August 5, 1838, and when a child she went with her parents to the Mormon colony at Manifesto, Colorado. Later they lived in New Mexico for two years, going to Cove, Oregon, in 1904. In Oct. 8, 1908, she was married to Heber A. Behrman of Richfield, Colorado. Her husband and babe and parents and other relatives survive. She was a devoted member of the Church. The funeral was held July 4. The speakers were: Elders J. M. Mitchell, Cove ward; N. M. Peik, Mt. Glen ward; Prest. Geo. E. Stoddard and F. S. Bramwell of the Union stake and Bishop Pixton.

RAILROAD NEWS.

CONDITIONS MUCH CHANGED. General Managers Not What They Used to Be, Says Veteran.

"General managers are not what they used to be. Our railroads by a large majority, and the back counties are yet to hear from," said a veteran general agent in this city today. "Ten and fifteen years ago, they were the whole thing; they exercised the functions their titles would indicate; they actually managed, controlled the traffic, operating, mechanical and construction departments—they were the responsible heads of the road. But now things are different. The general manager is merely the chief clerk of the road, reporting directly to the first vice president for the most part. The president is the financial man, he looks after the money interests of the road, provides the sinews of war. The first vice president has entire charge of the freight and passenger traffic, while the second vice president is supposed to look after the operating, mechanical and construction departments, although some roads have a third vice president who may handle largely the two last department heads while the second vice president has more than he can attend to."

"The president of a railroad now appoints the general counsel, or head of the legal department, who is supposed to be the law; and the general counsel has all law points are involved. That he can and does sometimes make mistakes was made very evident in the Pacific and some of its principal officials were heavily fined in court after they had followed advice from the legal department. ## IMLAY BOOMING.

Supt. Manson of Southern Pacific Returns From New Division Point.

(Special Correspondence.)
Ogden, July 8.—Supt. Manson of the Salt Lake division of the Southern Pacific, has returned from a trip to Imlay, the new freight division point on the road which has been recently established. He stated that the new division starts under the most favorable conditions and everything possible for the comfort of its employees is done by the company. An electric light plant is being installed in all employee houses are brick and modern throughout. A school district will be organized and a schoolhouse erected as soon as possible so the children of the families in the new town can begin school in September. Supt. Manson states that the company will allow no saloons upon its property, but a railroad club house will be built for the men who will have no objection to visit the saloons. Several mercantile establishments are being built there and other branches of business are coming in and everything points to Imlay as being one of the most prosperous towns on the division between Carlin and Sparks.

RECEIVED AND FILED.

Traffic Bureau Petition Reaches Washington and Receives Attention.

Information is received at the headquarters of the continental club traffic bureau that the supplementary petition submitted by the bureau had been received and filed with the interstate commerce commission. The information was contained in a letter from Edward A. Moseley, secretary of the commission. Copies of the petition were also acknowledged on behalf of President Taft by his secretary, Fred W. S. Cookson, A. G. P. A., assistant to the United States attorney-general. The case of the Salt Lake

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great number of years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore a constitutional treatment is required. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. Its acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. ## MAY INSTALL OIL BURNERS.

Ogden, July 8.—Assistant Engineers Campbell and Kramer of the Harriman lines at Ogden left for a trip over the Sacramento division of the Southern Pacific this morning for the purpose of inspecting the oil plants between Sparks and San Francisco, with a view of adopting the same for the Salt Lake division of the road. If the report of the engineers is favorable it is very probable that the installation of oil-burning locomotives on the local division will be made within a year.
