

to New York with an illegal object. I shall also insist that when James states in his affidavit he has had communication with certain persons that these persons shall be brought into court. I shall insist when he speaks of contracts these contracts shall be brought into court. I shall insist the same in regard to the affidavit of Woodward. And finally, I shall insist (and here Ingersoll dropped his bantering tone and spoke seriously, emphasizing his remarks with blows of his hand upon the table) that in this country or any other country Saxon blood gives evidence of liberty and manhood. The grand jury stands between the citizen and his calumniator, no matter if that calumniator is an officer of the Cabinet or the President of the United States. This sentiment was loudly applauded by the spectators, and it was some time before order was so far restored as to permit Ingersoll to proceed, which he finally did, as follows: I shall also insist before I get through with the case of Brown that the grand jury is placed between the citizen and his reputation to provide for precisely a case like this. I shall insist that when a high official of this nation states, though he has not yet convicted my client, he has branded him, I shall insist the grand jury stands between that official and the citizen, and prevent him using that brand. I shall insist that information has been found improperly, illegally and contrary to the spirit of American liberty. Now I have given you my general view of the course I intend to pursue. (Laughter, which was increased by the serious manner in which Cook inquired of Ingersoll, the authorities upon which he relied.

After some sarcastic remarks between the counsel it was finally agreed that Bliss should open for the government to-morrow morning and that he should be followed by Ingersoll, but that if the latter advance a proposition to which Bliss might desire to reply, he would be permitted to do so. The Court then adjourned.

In the Criminal Court this morning, the counsel for Guiteau made a motion for delivery to the proper Clerk, the court papers belonging to the prisoner. He also asked for a further postponement of the case. The Court reserved its decision.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Herald's Dublin correspondents sought an interview with Mr. Sexton immediately after his release, but was informed that he had retired to rest at once, and was then being examined by a medical man, who had been called a few minutes after Mr. Sexton reached home. The physician stated his patient is in a very bad condition, and very much worse than before his incarceration. Mr. Sexton is suffering from a complication of disease, including febrile pneumonia, spinal irritation and gastric disturbances. He has been ordered abroad, at the earliest moment when he can be removed. He is at present unable to travel. As a matter of fact, this course had been urged upon him long before his contemplated arrest, owing to the precarious condition of his health. It now appears absolutely necessary that he should seek a more genial climate. There was no conditions attached to his release. During the eighteen days imprisonment, he was confined to his bed, and for seven days he was in absolute solitude. Mr. Sexton speaks in the highest terms of the treatment received from all the officials in Kilmainham jail.

Henry George telegraphs to the Irish World, that Helen Taylor, daughter of the late John Stuart Mill, addressed the Ladies' Land League in Dublin to-day. She said: Never did Austria commit, in her provinces in Italy, any atrocities to be compared with those now perpetrated in Ireland under Gladstone's administration. I have traveled much, but only one country have I been in where what is now happening in Ireland would be possible, and that country is ruled by the unspeakable Turk. The English people must soon awake to the sight of the crimes perpetrated in their own country.

CHICAGO, 3.—One of the surgeons in attendance on President Garfield says: The bills for medical attendance has not yet been presented to Mrs. Garfield. The intention is to send the bills to her receipted and allow the friends of the late President to carry the matter to Congress and ask for an appropriation to pay them. The bills will be made large enough, so that if Congress cuts them down, they will still be large enough to pay the doctors liberally for their services. Bliss complains in consequence of giving all his time to the late President that his practice was broken up and the doctors nearly all shun him because of his violating the code of medical ethics in holding on to the case after the President's family physician, Dr. Baxter, made his appearance.

NEW YORK, 4.—The government record shows 133 fires throughout the country from which the loss has not been less than $10,000, ranking from that sum as the minimum, to a maximum of $125,000. This last being the reasonable estimate of the loss at the Fourth Avenue fire in this city. The aggregate loss of these 133 fires foots up $7,250,000 with an insurance loss of $3,350,000 to $3,500,000, allowing one million for losses by fires at which less than $10,000 loss was sustained, gives a total of $3,250,000 as the approximate wastage by fire in October, which exceeds anything reported in any October since the great Chicago fire of '71. Few of our most experienced underwriters will hesitate to admit that both in number and costliness the fires of 1881, particularly during the past four months, have been quite exceptional, though not many companies are likely to come out ahead in the year's transactions and a majority of them will show a loss for the year.

At this hour it is raining magnificently, as it has been during the entire night. All danger of a water famine in this and the neighboring cities are now dissipated. The weather bureau prophesies a cold wave to-day or to-morrow.

The Union Pacific has given formal notice that the agreement with the Pacific Mail has been cancelled. It is reported that the Union and Central Pacific companies are willing to form a new alliance with the Pacific Mail upon terms somewhat less favorable to the steamship company, and also to purchase the two Pacific mail steamships forming the China line, and probably a satisfactory adjustment will be made within a short time; if not, the stock will be the opinion of insiders, go down considerably. The pool in Texas Pacific are actively at work for an advance in that stock. Vanderbilt is said to have bought Northwestern yesterday. Twenty-two thousand carloads of freight have accumulated at stations awaiting the completion of the Lexington and Big Sandy extension of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. Confederate bonds are weak. The scheme for the extension of the Atlantic & Pacific across the Indian territory will soon be announced.

The War Department's idea in rescinding the order for the court-martial for Mason, who shot at Guiteau, is that he was really insane. He is now under medical surveillance, and should he prove insane he will be sent to the government asylum, otherwise another court-martial will be ordered.

The storm which occurred along the Central American coast, in the early part of the month, occasioned much damage off Guatemala. The coast towns and several cities in the interior were sufferers.

An American schooner arrived with a cargo from San Francisco, for Central American ports, which was at Champache discharging, parted anchor, broke her steering gear and was driven ashore. The crew were all saved. The vessel being broken up on the beach and the cargo floating around indiscriminately the captain let her go at auction.

CITY OF MEXICO, 2.—In the terrible storm at Manizill's four large vessels and all the small craft in the harbor were lost. The custom house and the stores of Oetling, Swartzin and Lecmann's, the American consul, Raniz and others were completely destroyed. No additional loss of life is reported. The Pacific Mail steamer which was due, had not arrived at last accounts.

The administration party elected a President of the Senate and Deputies for November.

LONDON, 3.—Branches of the Ladies' Land League throughout the provinces complain loudly that their meetings are dispersed, while the Central League in Dublin is permitted to meet unmolested. Miss Parnell, wishing to test the legality of the proceeding of the Ladies' League, publicly announced in the newspapers on Wednesday that a meeting of the League will be held that day.
