

WOMEN'S CLUBS AT SPRINGVILLE.

Representative Gathering Tendered Most Gracious Hospitality By Town's Residents.

INSPIRING ADDRESSES MADE.

Reception at Mrs. Deal's an Enjoyable Affair—Special Musical Programs.

Springville may well be proud of its representative gathering held by the Federation of Women's clubs, and of the gracious hospitality tendered its guests by its representative women. A committee met the various parties of delegates on their arrival, luncheon was served by the Relief society at noon in the second ward meetinghouse, and in the evening a most delightful reception was held at the home of Mrs. Deal. Today other entertainment for the pleasure of the guests is planned, and the social part of the conference will figure as an exceedingly pleasant memory with the visitors.

The addresses and various papers given, have been of notable interest and masterly arrangement. Following the invocation yesterday by Rev. T. C. Smith of the Presbyterian church, addresses of welcome were given by Prof. Arthur H. Hunsford, academy, Sup. Nelson of the public schools, and Mrs. C. S. Thompson, representative of the Springville clubs, and these were responded to by the Federation president, Mrs. C. Hunsford. Then followed reports of officers and committees. Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. S. R. Wells, Mrs. Byron Goss of Salt Lake and Mrs. M. P. Allen of Park City, being among them.

AFTERNOON TALKS.

In the afternoon Mrs. Kinney gave the annual president's address, which included points particularly interesting and encouraging to club women, with excellent suggestions as to future lines of work. This was followed by C. H. Hunsford of the Reviewers club, and Mrs. George H. Champ of Logan, both giving interesting papers on art subjects, and then Miss Josephine Kellogg of Provo, gave a talk on themes dealing with "The Simple Life," which was handled in a masterly manner. The topic of Mrs. Daniel Hamer of Ogden, was "Moral Training in the Home," and Mrs. George A. Alder, followed with a description of foreign clubs from data gathered during her recent trip abroad. Telegrams of greeting were read from Mrs. Denison, honorary president of the J. P. W. C. and from the Minnesota Federation, now in session in that state.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

A delightful program was tendered by club outside the usual one, in the way of recitations and musical numbers. Miss Mary Knoll, Miss Barker, Miss G. Hunsford, Miss Doughty, Mrs. E. B. Stewart, Mr. Gudmundson, Mrs. Johnson and Mr. G. P. Thompson, the musical number being of their own composition for the occasion.

The program for this afternoon and evening is as follows:

The Best Doctor.

Rev. Dr. C. Horton, Salt Lake Springs, writes, July 10th, 1899: "I have used a family doctor, Dr. Snow, and he has proved himself a most successful one. The first time he treated me for a headache and pain. The cough syrup has been my doctor for the last eight years." See also, Sold by Z. C. M. L. Drug Dept.

ELDER SUCCEEDS THOMPSON.

The supreme court has appointed Attorney A. B. Elder as reporter of decisions of the court to succeed Attorney J. W. Thompson, whose resignation was accepted on Tuesday.

AMUSEMENTS.

The theater last night presented a spectacle of the olden days—days when fashion below stairs, families in the center circles, and the surging gods above, all came out together to witness a theatrical presentation. The fame of "Tribby" novel attracted one section, the sensational printing drew another, and the popularity of Wilton Lackaye and his well remembered work as "Tribby," appealed to everyone. It was a pleasure again to see a group of capable players, in a fresh and blood drama, with a general mounting, handsome costumes and a general completeness in staging and production. Mr. Lackaye is an admirable artist, and it is not detracting from his merits to say that good as his "Tribby" is, it is a role not fashioned on the lines in which he excels. He is a creator of parts calling for something of the eccentric or insane, especially on the Swedish order, and those who expected a creation as vivid and as startling as the ghoulish hyphenator in "Tribby," were perhaps disappointed in his portrayal of the modern American business man in "The Pit." But he got some strong

Be Sure to use a Cream of Tartar Baking Powder

ROYAL Baking Powder is Made of Cream of Tartar and is Free From Alum or Phosphatic Acid

Royal Baking Powder is pure and wholesome beyond question. There is never any doubt of the healthfulness nor of the superiority of the food it leavens.

Consumers are sometimes solicited to buy baking powders other than Royal because they cost less. It is evident to cost less they must be made of inferior ingredients.

Low-priced baking powders—10c., 20c., 25c., etc.—are made from alum, phosphate or other harsh acid

At most, an alum powder would not lessen the cost of a cake or batch of biscuit more than the fraction of a cent. But can you afford for any sum to endanger your health by making your food with a dangerous baking powder?

"I regard the use of alum baking powders as highly injurious to the health of the community, and believe that their sale should be forbidden by law."—GEO. F. BARKER, M.D., University of Pennsylvania.

effects in many places and was awarded numerous curtain calls.

His company is made up of good material; the leading woman, Miss Jane Oaker, is a puzzling actress until one becomes familiar with her mannerisms, but that she possesses strength and magnetism, there is no denying. Her delivery is wonderfully like that of Ethel Barrymore. Whatever shortcomings there were in her role are due to the fact that the dramatist has not transferred to the play the real soul and character of Laura as she is pictured in the book. There are many good instances of acting in the cast, the notable parts being the Gentry of Mr. Stuart, Harriet of Mr. Boardman, and the Page Dearborn of Miss Watson. Mr. Pennington's Corthell was hardly convincing and Mr. Hale was uneven in the part of Crooks, sometimes good, sometimes indifferent. The best scene in the piece—contrary to expectation—was not that in the pit, on the Chicago board of trade, but the scene in the broker's office which immediately preceded it. Here Mr. Lackaye did some of his best work. The "pit" scene itself was a good illustration of what W. A. Brady can do in handling a mob, but the mob was too evidently made up of street toughs to achieve all its effects. The inviolable operative numbers in the opening scene were so good as almost to distract attention from the play.

Whatever disappointments follow the witnessing of "The Pit" should be attributed not to the actors or the management, but rather to the impossibility of making a satisfactory drama of so great a novel. The finish comes too abruptly, and one finds it impossible to feel that a man of Jadin's intensity can suddenly find happiness in poverty, after having sustained such a wreck of his hopes and ambitions. All this is consistently worked out in the book, but in a play it is impossible to satisfactorily portray it.

This afternoon "Tribby" forms the bill at a special matinee, and "The Pit" goes for the last performance tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The advance sale for "The Girl from Kay's" opens tomorrow morning at the theater box office.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief, two or three bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." See also, Sold by Z. C. M. L. ### TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

Millard County Farmer Completely Overcome by City Life.

William Robbins, aged 72, a prominent farmer of Millard county, was one of the pilgrims to Los Angeles on the occasion of the recent pilgrims' trip. It was the first time in 25 years that he had been in Salt Lake, when this city was not much more than an overgrown village or town, and the sight of the electric lights, the street cars and the bustle and hurry of the present good sized city almost overcame him. When Los Angeles was reached, Mr. Robbins found so much going on that he became confused, and after two days found he could not stand it any longer, and came home.

TOMORROW'S TRAGEDY.

Local Shriners Preparing Instruments On Torture for Novices.

The local Shriner lodge will be augmented tomorrow night, by the night of 50 new followers of Islam and pilgrims to the Meccan Shrine. The instruments of torture are being prepared for the ordeal, the branding irons are being heated, the coffins in which the novitiates are to be buried alive and the guillotine that is to cut off their heads are on hand, and the Witch of Endor and the three gentle witches from Macbeth are rehearsing their parts for the function. "Let no novice escape!" is the password of the evening, and the candidates for initiatory honors are advised to come clad in football armor. College Freshman society initiations won't be in it.

COFFEE NEURALGIA

Leaves When You Quit and Use Postum.

A lady who unconsciously drifted into nervous prostration brought on by coffee, says:

"I have been a coffee drinker all my life, and used it regularly, three times a day.

"A year or two ago I became subject to nervous prostration, attacks of vertigo, headache and general nervous prostration which not only incapacitated me for doing my housework, but frequently made it necessary for me to remain in a dark room for two or three days at a time.

"I employed several good doctors, one after the other, but none of them was able to give me permanent relief.

"Eight months ago a friend suggested that perhaps coffee was the cause of my troubles and that I try Postum Food Coffee and give up the old kind. I am glad I took her advice, for my health has been entirely restored. I have no more nervous prostration, nor have I had one sleepless night in all these eight months. No more of my days are wasted in solitary confinement in a dark room. I do all my own work with ease. The flesh that I lost during the years of my nervous prostration, has come back to me during these months and I am once more a happy, healthy woman. I enclose a list of names of friends who can vouch for the truth of the statement. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Ten days' trial leaving off coffee and using Postum is sufficient. All Grocers.

NO DECISION ON CANAL BEING SEA LEVEL OR LOCK

Washington, Oct. 19.—The following was issued by the isthmian canal commission today:

In regard to the published rumors to the effect that the majority of the members of the consulting board of engineers have decided in favor of a lock canal at Panama, Gen. Davis, chairman of the board, said today:

"So far as I am aware, neither the board nor any individual member of it has expressed any opinion as to the type of canal that is favored. The board is not in possession of all the facts bearing on the question of type. It returns to this city entirely free from any prejudice or bias respecting that type, so far as known to me. The board will be in continuous session, either as a board or in separate committees, until they reach a conclusion, which will be arrived at some time in the month of November, probably near the close. Two committees have been appointed to study the two types of canal—sea level and lock—and these committees are endeavoring to develop the best canal of each type. When the work shall have been completed the whole board will be ready to decide which type they prefer."

The members of the isthmian board of consulting engineers have all returned to Washington and tomorrow will resume their meetings. It has been found that the mass of material on hand was so large that three separate committees have been appointed for a special study of plans for a sea level canal and a lock canal, and to consider the unit prices for both. These committees consist of three members each, and Gen. Davis is chairman of all of them. It is meant that the first two committees shall make plans and shall consult the third about the question of cost. The engineers have promised not to divulge any of their plans, and this rule is kept so strictly that even Chairman Shonts of the isthmian canal commission is kept in the dark about their proceedings. It can be stated, however, that the decision will favor either a lock or a sea level canal, the idea of first building a lock canal and afterwards changing it into a sea level canal by means of a second canal built at the side of it being found impracticable. The board is expected to continue in session for about six weeks more, and the foreign engineers have to return to Europe by the end of November.

Though the trip to the isthmus was a hard one, especially for those members accustomed to a cold climate, they are all highly enthusiastic over the result of the journey. The heat was at most time excessive, and in the room where the meetings were held the thermometer often registered 90 degrees. The heavy rains which fell almost daily did not bring any relief, but no member was sick even for a single day. Although cases of yellow fever did occur, the efforts of Dr. William Crawford Gorgas, United States army, have achieved great results and the yellow fever mosquitoes have been almost entirely destroyed. Recovery of the members of the commission commented upon the difference between the canal zone where American methods are employed and the isthmian regions where the old condition still prevails. Next to Colon, which is one of the most unhealthy and dirty of cities, they found Cristobal under the American management, which has become a healthy city. It is laid out in a pleasing manner. The town of Panama has been greatly improved. A water supply has been provided and a sewer system and paved streets are under construction.

The reception President Amador of the republic of Panama gave to the members of the board was most agreeable. Though it took place in the afternoon, the weather was so bad and the rain fell in streams that the reception had to take place by artificial light. Mr. Stevens, the chief engineer of the canal, appeared one day before the commission and was questioned on different subjects. It was the opinion of several members that the trip had enabled them to see the real conditions of the undertaking and had enabled them to form a more correct opinion of the difficulties to be dealt with than any amount of information furnished by others.

No member has the slightest doubt of the final completion of the canal, but an enterprise of this sort from which the Colubra cut alone 1,000,000 square yards of rock have to be taken away, is something that will take a good deal of time.
