JAPANESE TREATY.

An Imperial Document Just Signed in Washington.

LONG NEGOTIATIONS ENDED.

European Powers Will Enter
Sail and Retire Japan Is the Family of Nations.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Secretary of State Gwin, in behalf of the United States, and Minister Kondo of Japan, in behalf of his country, have signed the signature of the new Treaty of Amity and Commerce between the two governments.

When he went to Washington, Mr. Kondo was accompanied by a son, who, on November 10, 1893, was born in the Japanese Embassy in Washington, D. C., and was named after the late Emperor Meiji.

Secretary Gwin will now transmit the new Treaty to the United States Senate as soon as possible, and Mr. Gwin will forward it to the European powers, who will receive it in due course.

Secretary Gwin will also forward the new Treaty to the Japanese government.

Teller Refuses to Draw Money.

HANOVER, Conn., Nov. 28.—The Interceptors who were here yesterday morning, were met at the New Haven City Bank, where their money was refused.

When they went to the teller, he said, "I am sorry, but I can't give you any money."

"What do you mean?" asked one of the men.

"I mean that you can't have any money."
