

AT THE TABERNACLE.

The Congregation Addressed by President George G. Cannon.

Synopsis of the Discourses Upon the necessity of Preparation for the Part of the Saints.

The services at the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon, July 24th, were presided over by Elder Angus M. Cannon, president of the Stake.

The choir and congregation sang his hymns:

Our God, we thank Thee.

Thanks for Thy mercies here.

We have served.

Prayer was offered by Elder Hobart C. Badger.

The choir then sang the hymn:

All the promises.

President George G. Cannon addressed the congregation. He read a portion of the seventh chapter of the Book of Mormon. The chapter contains some of the words of Moses as written by his son Miriam. Miriam sought to impress the people that God was the author of all that is good while Satan continually works evil and wickedness. Righteousness can not proceed from an evil source, and goodness and bring forth wickedness. Miriam's efforts did not succeed because Christ has assumed full人性, but as long as earth exists, she can be pleased and as the ultimate of human performed, there will be miracles, administration of angels will still the power of the Holy Ghost will not be withheld.

These words are appropriate to be read to this congregation. The Latter-day Saints make great professions. They declare that God has revealed Himself in their midst and has centered the everlasting Gospel in its simplicity and power. The Church of Christ has been organized with all the ordinances that existed in former days. Those who have accepted the Gospel and are called to sit at the feet of Christ to sit at His feet in great meetings and powders, the first time. Thousands upon thousands have been converted and that God lives and answers the prayers of His people as He did in ancient days. But faithful men exist and they need employ His talents to help them; for He is a God of truth and we can only obey His word implicitly. It this was not so what a deplorable condition man would be in.

As Latter-day Saints we can interrogate God concerning His promises and certain whether we have received all the blessings that our Heavenly Father has promised us. Are we truly enjoying the privilege. He has in store for us what we have in store for others. If we are not well call in our pastor to see if he has made a covenant in this people that if we live to meet him He will give us a fullness of His blessings.

It is when we mention this and we say that we must work for it which are going on, but the eyes of men seem to be blinded by the power of the Evil One. They condemn us for seeking miracles and the gifts of the Spirit. It is a good thing to receive the Spirit of God, the workings of healing and the ministrations of angels in ancient days, and would they not be just as good for today? It is evident that all that is good comes from God, and if we do not receive it we can be tested by it. Now at least we wrong our own from exercising faith, repaying us in sin, being baptized and having hands laid upon us for the gift of the Spirit. We are told as there are positive results following the ordinances they must be good and therefore from God.

Jesus is the Redeemer of mankind, and as an exception from the grave a sinner can be born again born on the earth, whatever his virtue or vice may be, receives it through the instrument of baptism of test. All will be resurrected from the dead. Then there is a resurrection from the dead, death, and we receive through obeying the commandments of God.

We should repeat continually, for repentance is necessary, not only before we die, but also before we are born again. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were

done by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Tamm.

They pleased.

CHARGE FOR A MUSICAL MAN.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1895.

Editor Deseret News.

Time has attended the concert at the Opera House Sunday evening with great interest. Every member of the Salt Lake Conference is in a state of birth. Miss Pratt's recognition was little short of an exaltation. She was all by her own virtue which shows rare cultivation, compass and power. Mrs. Edwards' clear enunciation of the name of Jesus, and Mr. Frazee, both have exhibited voices. Mr. Werner, the violinist, surprised me by the brilliancy and plaintive effects of his execution. Mr. Edwards, the pianist, was through his skill.

By special request, Miss Pratt sang "Morning from the Cross," which completely captivated the audience. It was in most perfect accordance with the program prepared for her. The organ solo, played by Miss Pratt, was excellent, and perfectly suited by the time. It was a very clever thing. After the performance was over, the audience gave a hearty round of applause.

The organ solo, and the organ, were