LOCAL BRIEFS.

The Scandinavian Republicans of this city have been invited to attend a meeting to be held in the city and county building this evening for the purpose of reorganizing the Viking league.

The following is from the Helena, (Mont.) Independent: Collector of Internal Revenue Ed. Callister says that he hopes to transfer his office to Salt Lake City next Monday. He is only waiting the official notice from Washington to take his departure.

Rev. Charles H. Vall, the national organizer of the Socialist party will arrive in Salt Lake tomorrow and will deliver a free lecture Sunday evening either in the synagogue or the Assembly hall. Rev. Vall has written several books on socialism and is a man of scholarly attainments.

While out driving on the speedway last evening Frank Standfast, the barber, and his wife, walked with a buggy driven by a Mr. Johnson, and the occupants of both vehicles were thrown to the ground. Mr. Standfast received a slight bruise on one of his legs, but his wife escaped with a shaking up. Both buggies lost a wheel, and were otherwise damaged.

Rev. J. W. Washington, of Quincy, Ill., is in the city a guest of W. J. Hough, at 134 east Third South street. Mr. Washington will take charge of the Calvary Baptist church during the summer, and may accept the call of the congregation which has been extended to him. He will be tendered a reception at the church tonight at 8:45 to which the public is invited.

Rev. Dr. W. M. Padon has returned from a six weeks' vacation in the east. He spent most of his time in western Pennsylvania, Niagara Falls and the Pan American Exposition. He says that the steel strike is causing very much trouble where, but the general feeling is that the matter will be settled before a general strike is ordered. Pittsburgh is enjoying at this time one of the great booms of her history.

A committee of five Utah lodge No. 1, L. O. O. F., has been appointed to try the members of Ridgely lodge No. 9, charged by their brethren with irregularities in the disposal of the funds of the lodge. The committee will sit as a court and each side will be privileged to have its attorneys. The committee has power to try the case and pass judgment on the accused. The lodge, however, has to ratify that judgment. It is understood that the accused will fight the case to the end.

Miss Clara M. Berkley, a young lady prominently associated with the Sunday school of the First Baptist church, died suddenly yesterday afternoon of heart failure, at the home of her sister, in Hawke's court. On Wednesday night the first attack came on and Miss Berkley suffered very much from then on to her death. She is the sister of J. E. Berkley, secretary of the Gemini Mining company. The funeral will be held from the residence next Sunday afternoon.

AT THE RESORTS.

The members of the Tenth ward Sunday school spent an enjoyable time at Laguna yesterday when various sports were held. In the egg and spoon race was won by Lydia Dabney, the three-legged race by Misses Celia Harrison and Venus Robinson, and the 100-yard dash by Will Spoked. Joseph Simons won the 100-yard walking race. The prize for the largest family on the grounds was awarded to William Taylor and wife. Irvine Long and wife took the prize for the youngest married couple present, and the waiting contest was won by Mr. Saunders and Miss Donelson.

The crowd at Saltair yesterday came very near being a record one for the season. In all there were close upon 4,000 people present, and such was the congested condition of the bathing in the swimming pool that a number of people who bought tickets entitling them to a bath-room had to return to town without taking a dip in the water. This big crowd was occasioned by a mammoth exhibition given between the University of Utah students and friends, the employees of the Troy Steam Laundry and the Kentucky officers.

The Twentieth and Twenty-first wards, in addition to the regular Saltair patronage, add their quota toward making a goodly crowd of people at the beach today.

The Nineteenth ward Relief Society and the A. G. U. W. from Ogden are at Laguna today. One of the attractions at this resort this afternoon was an exhibition game between the Ogden and Laguna nine at the baseball park.

There are no special excursions scheduled for either Saltair or Laguna tomorrow.

All the resorts this season report that if the present business keeps up that this summer will surpass all others in the number of attendance and money spent in pleasure seeking and escaping the heated atmosphere of the city.

The ninth annual reunion of the department of Utah County Indian War Veterans' association will be held at the American Fork Lake resort August 27-28-29. The encampment and camp fire will commence at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning, the 27th inst. Comrades are requested to bring their tents, wagons, wives and children—also picnic and come prepared for three days' solid enjoyment. The committee will have the outing in charge.

Program, Jesse Klieht, John R. Twelves, S. S. Jones, of Provo; Kings, of Amusements, R. E. King, H. J. Robinson, John Armstrong, of American Fork; also Albert Marsh and Henry Moyle, of Alpine; and of decorum, D. W. Thomas and T. F. Frane, of Lehi; special invitation also extended to Walter M. Wentwood, Edwin Lee, Walter Wheeler, J. H. Noakes, T. A. Brown, of Springville; council of administration, D. W. Thomas, of Lehi; R. E. King, of American Fork; J. Twelves, of Provo; William Stoker, of Spanish Fork.

There will be special rates on all railroads.

The Relief Society of the Salt Lake Stake and its friends will spend Monday next at Saltair. The association expects to have a fine program and a large attendance of relief workers.

There will be special literary and musical features and the Temple choir under the direction of Prof. C. J. Thomas will render some choice selections. A solo will be sung by Thomas Ashworth, and a little girl from the Ashworths will sing. The program will be under the direction of Florence Horne, who will do some pretty dancing. Mrs. Bassett will also direct the terpsichorean movements of some dainty little dancers.

NOTICE TO SINGERS.

Prof. Stephens says he wants a full attendance of Tabernacle choir members next Sunday. In addition to the services it is desired to prepare and receive admission tickets for the grand concert given to the Philippine heroes on Tuesday night. Juvenile choir members will meet again at the Assembly hall Saturday (2 o'clock), August 24th, to get ready for their excursion to Saltair the following Friday.

WITH THE JUSTICES.

Yesterday afternoon Assistant County Attorney Looftsov and Riter went to Murray to prosecute cases in Judge McMillan's court. The first was that of John Stangrove charged with stealing water from Big Cottonwood creek. He was adjudged guilty and fined $50. He was not in the court room at the time he was sentenced. The second case was that of John Shroeder accused of assaulting John Christensen. He was convicted and fined $10.

Yesterday afternoon Justice Lochrie took occasion to rebuke Special Agent Delaney of the Humana society for being over zealous in lodging complaints against people for alleged cruelty to animals when the facts would not warrant it. There was a case against Nathaniel Shepherd a five-year-old boy. Dr. Brichy alleged that the lad struck a horse with a whip. The facts showed the animal to be refractory and the blow was necessary. Shepherd was promptly discharged and when Delaney Schramm, an appearance the court is quoted as saying to him: "I have no patience with your methods of bringing in old women and children for so-called cruelty to animals. If you want to stop the cruelty to animals, go after the real offenders, grow up, defend them before only in such practices. You can't expect me to punish children on such grounds as the charge against young Shepherd is brought."

DOUGLAS BOUND OVER.

Will be Tried in District Court for Assaulting Abbott Maginnis.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, August 9.—George Douglas had a hearing before Justice Joseph Hall this morning on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon Abbott Maginnis. There were five witnesses examined all of whom testified to having seen Douglas knock young Maginnis down, and that Douglas held a pistol in his hand at the time. He was bound over to the District court and pending his trial was released on his own recognizance.

Mrs. E. H. Allport, Johnstown, Pa., says: "Our little girl almost strangled to death with croup. The doctors said she couldn't live but she was instantly relieved by One Minute Cough Cure—Dr. C. Schramm, President, Druggists, McCormick building, corner Main and First South streets."

THE FLOOD AT WINTER QUARTERS

Details of the Awful Torrent That Swept Through the Camp.

HOUSES WASHED AWAY.

The Thrilling Rescue of Mrs. Matt Korblie and the Death of Her Husband and Child.

Special Correspondence.

Scodell, Utah, Aug. 7.—A full account of the big flood, which occurred here last night is as follows: At 9:45 o'clock p. m. it commenced raining, and a sweeping wind blew the rain in every corner possible. It was the heaviest rain storm ever witnessed in Winter Quarters or Scodell. About 10:30 o'clock the flood came down Winter Quarters canyon, taking coal houses, bridges and other small buildings, which struck first against the dwelling house of John A. Christian, carrying it down the stream. Matt Korblie's house was also swept down the stream. Christian's house went off to one side and lodged against a large boarding house with good rock foundation, which held it. Christian, his wife and six children all small, were in the house until rescued by some Philanders through a window. The family was left without clothes, as they were all in bed, and nearly everything was destroyed.

Korblie's house went on down the canyon until it lodged against a railroad car, the powerful stream at length broke the building and rushed through the house, taking with it Matt Korblie, wife and child. Some of the citizens heard the cries of the young woman for help when she was going down the flood. But it was so intensely dark, that the only time a person could see was when the lightning flashed which instead of being a benefit only blinded the eyes of the rescuers. Mrs. Korblie was finally stopped, about one mile from where she was taken by the water, when she was rescued and taken to the hospital. She was badly cut and bruised all over, and her clothing had been torn from her body. She is still alive and will probably recover.

After the storm had calmed, so people could get out of their houses, they did so, and ran out to see if they could be of any assistance. The news soon went through the streets that a man and child were missing, and a search for the bodies of Matt Korblie and child one year old was begun. Hundreds of lights could be seen up and down the stream, and the families were not so much affected, still some bridges were washed out and others were blocked up with railroad ties and all kinds of timber so the stream flooded over some of the streets and bridges.

At about one o'clock a. m. the body of Korblie was found one mile and a half down the canyon, hanging among the debris; his neck was broken and he was badly cut and bruised all over. After taking him to the hospital, the search for relatives, the search was renewed for the child's body, which was continued all night and all day until this evening. The body was found under the debris where the house lodged.

Mrs. Korblie is a young woman, who lost her husband in the explosion of May 1st, 1900, and had just married another two months ago. She and her husband were natives of Finland.

The railroad track was washed out at No. 4 mine, and a car loaded with coal was tipped over on the main line so it was impossible to get up to the mine with the train. Also most of the bridge lines for the boilers at the power house were filled with rock and mud, and the pipes broken. Considerable damage has been done to the company's property, besides the loss of the lives.

At Winter Quarters, as many houses held one foot of mud and water, ruining carpets and other valuable property.

Hundreds of people could be seen going up and down the track viewing the results of the largest flood ever witnessed in Winter Quarters. This night will long be remembered by the people of Winter Quarters and Scodell.

UNTAH RESERVE OPEN.

Colonel May's Order Annulled by the Interior Department.

Word has been received by Senator Kearns from the interior department at Washington that the same conditions that have obtained for the last two years in respect to the grazing of sheep on the Untah reservation will obtain this year. The sheepmen understand this to mean that Colonel May's orders are null and that the sheep will be admitted onto the reserve in respect of the scrub trees and underbrush.

President Jesse M. Smith of the Utah Wool-growers' association has received the following dispatch from Assistant Secretary of the Interior: "The interior department has received from the state commerce commission, in reply to his inquiry if the commission could not interfere in the taxation of Utah sheep in transit through other states: 'Commission can not only in matters involving interstate railroad rates and facilities. It has no jurisdiction in tax cases.' So the sheepmen will have to apply to the courts for relief from the tax imposition."

REQUISITION HONORED.

Tod Carver Will be Brought Back From Arizona.

A dispatch from Phoenix, Ariz., says that Governor Murphy today honored the requisition from the Governor of Utah for Tod Carver, under arrest at St. Johns. Several weeks ago Carver was arrested by the sheriff of Apache county, charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff Lesener and another man one year ago. Officers followed Carver all over Texas and New Mexico before capturing him. Carver is wanted in Grand county, Utah, for the murder of two officers.

A Cure for Cholera Infantum. "Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Hookswater, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now nearly a year since a vigorous healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance."

DIRECTLY TO TRUSTEES.

State Auditor Should Not be Connected With A. C. Funds.

In an opinion handed down yesterday afternoon, Attorney General Breeden held that the regular yearly remittance from the federal government to aid in the maintenance of the State agricultural college should be paid directly to the trustees of that institution, without connecting the state auditor with the transaction.

He also held, in another opinion, that county commissioners are still authorized under the law to license all classes of business and to enforce payment of the license tax.

VARIOUS COURT ITEMS.

A final hearing in the divorce case of Elmer Vall vs. Elmer A. Vall is set for Monday and it is evident from what Judge Hall said in the proceedings yesterday that the court will enforce its orders. Mrs. Vall was cited for contempt of court yesterday morning for refusal to obey the order of the court to deliver her child, Gladys, to its father and at the hearing yesterday afternoon Judge Cherry for Mrs. Vall, began to discuss the decree. I think the father of the child himself and ordered that the father should have the custody, but that she should be kept at the home of Judge and Mrs. Vall, where both parents could visit him. I think the father should have the custody, but that she should be kept at the home of Judge and Mrs. Vall, where both parents could visit him.

Mrs. Vall was forced to leave court on account of illness and Judge Hall ordered that she be allowed to return to her home on Monday. Monday morning that Mrs. Vall must understand that the orders of the court are not to be trifled with.

Two divorce cases were disposed of yesterday afternoon by Judge Hall. Mrs. Beatrice M. Clifton, nee Atkinson, was granted a decree of divorce from her husband William F. Clifton, a street car conductor, on the charge of cruel treatment. The plaintiff was further allowed $50 attorneys' fees and $25 per month alimony.

In the second case Emilie Minor was given a decree of divorce from her husband John L. Minor on the charges of non-support and the defendant was ordered by the court to pay his wife $50 for attorneys' fees.

The first annual report of Emily H. Woodmansee, guardian of the person and estate of Ernest Clark Woodmansee, aged four years, was filed late yesterday afternoon. The report shows that $473.21 has been received by her and $55.90 expended.

J. J. Corum and James Watson have been appointed by Judge Hall receivers of the Maxwell Preserving company. Their bonds are fixed at $5,000 each.

Judge Hall made an order yesterday afternoon on petition of Judge H. P. Henderson, as guardian for Frank H. Dyer and his two sisters, that $30 a month be paid to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Wood for the young man's board and lodging and that a further sum of $10 a month be allowed him for spending money.
