MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

NEVADA CON. HAS THE STAGE.

Members of Guggenheim Party Dissecting Reports of Engineers Today.

LOOKS LIKE DEAL WILL GO.

Smelting Men May Get Off For Coast Tomorrow-Visit to Murray Smelters.

The members of the Guggenheim party spent the foremoon at their apartments in the Knutsford and were busy in going over the reports of the engineers who were sent into Nevada recently to make an examination of the Nevada Consolidated and other properties at Ely. Up to a late hour this afternoon there was not the slightest indication that negotiations would be opened again in the Boston Consolidated-Utah Copper case. The incident is closed; the big Bingham mines will be operated independently.

operated independently.

In Boston this morning Navada Consolidated continued strong and considerable stock changed hands above $19 a share; while Boston Consolidated hung around $24 and $25, for a time, but closing at $22. The failure of the Bingham negotiations had the effect of knocking the market for Boston vesterday, the ansaylet for Boston vesterday is a second for the saylet for Boston vesterday and second for the saylet for Boston vesterday where the saylet for Boston vesterday is a second for the saylet for Boston vesterday and second for the tions had the effect of knocking the market for Boston yesterday, the announcement of this fact bringing out considerable margin stock. Naturally, prices sank, under such conditions. There are good reasons to believe that the Guggenheims will exercise their option on a control of the Nevada Consolidated, and that the scheme to double it up with the Cumberland-Elywill be carried out.

It was stated during the day that the Guggenheim party would get off the Guggenheim party would get off for the coast several days sooner than expected on account of the cutting off of the Boston Consolidated-Utah Cop-per negotiations. It may be possible that all business will be concluded by tomorrow night. It is probable the smelters at Murray will be visited late today, and that a run out to the site of the new mill of the Utah Copper will be the schedule for tomorrow.

ON MINING EXCHANGE.

Alta Stocks in Demand During the Forenoon Calls.

The bulk of the business of the fore. noon calls of the Salt Lake Stock and noon calls of the Salt Lake Stock and Mining exchange was transacted on the open board. Columbus Consolidated was still in demand and the stock sold at $6.30 and $6.35. Daly-Judge remained firm and 200 shares were brought out at $10.85. May Day sold up, stopping at 25½ cents; while South Columbus, after many months of inactivity created a surprise by finding busers ready to take the stock at ing buyers ready to take the stock at 16 and 17 cents. The company is getting ready to open a development campaign, which, with the increasing interest being taken in Alta propositions, probably accounts for the renewed activity. Uncle Sam Consolidated was still on the up grade and one buyer took the stock at 43 cents. Yankee Consolidated went at 33 and 33 kg.

The East Butte Mining company is making rapid progress in its property improvements and development, says a Butte correspondent. Two hundred feet of the three-compartment shaft at No. I mine have been completed and 100 feet more remain to be finished before the shaft is raised to the surface. When completed that distance, sinking from the 300 level will begin.

It is the intention of the company to sink to a total depth of 1,200 feet and cross cuts and drifts will be run every 200 feet, the first one from a depth of 500 feet of stoping ground up to the lowest present workings. The cross-cuts will be run through the entire ground of the company.

Several of the company's mines are now being worked by leasers and a number of splendid new ore bodies have recently been opened. The company is in splendid financial condition. From the royalites of 25 percent, being paid by the leasers, all current development work and improvements being made by the company are paid for, in addition to giving a good balance monthly to the treasury. Four carloads of mining machinery will arrive and the ground in a few days. No paid for, in addition to giving a good balance monthly to the treasury. Four earloads of mining machinery will ar-rive on the ground in a few days. No mining company in Butte has a better outlook than the East Butte.

AT BAXTER SPRINGS. Eighty Tents in Camp Only Six Weeks Old.

The development of the new camp of Baxter Springs, though not as sensa-tional as that of Manhattan, says the Miner of Tonopah, is nevertheless in keeping with the excellent showing of the district. In less than six weeks a the district. In less than six weeks a camp comprising about 80 tents and a dozen frame buildings, occupied by about 500 enterprising and energetic people, has come into existence. No other new camp—not even Manhattan—can boast of better lodging and eating accommodations. Several well-supplied grocery and hardware stores, feed cortais and quite a number of barrooms are catering to the needs of the steadily-increasing population.

are catering to the needs of the steadily-increasing population.

The camp is situated on a flat, surrounded on the north, south and west by mountains, giving it sufficient protection against wind and weather. The ground is slightly sloping to the southeast, thus rendering drainage easy.

The springs, long famous for their ample supply of pure water, are within the camp limits and on high ground, making pollution by camp refuse impossible. Any quantity of the best firewood—cedar and pine—and mining timbers can be had within a mile from the camp. Baxter Springs is undoubtedly one of the prettiest camps so far established in southewestern Nevada, and there is no question that it has

SMELTING IN MEXICO.

Wonderful Increase Noted in Production of Copper. The production of copper in Mexico has increased from 300 tons in 1891 to 57,500 tons in 1904, largely owing to the opening up of the great mines of Cananea. The bulk of this metal is mined from northern Sonora and lower California and a considerable distance west of the gold and silver mining districts before mentioned. The adjacent territory of Arizona also supplies a large and steadily increasing output of copper, the output during 1904 being approximately 70,000 tons. At the same time, it is interesting to At the same time, it is interesting to notice that the copper ores of Sonora porary and abnormal condition of af-fairs which, when remedied, will have a profound influence on the develop-ment of mining and metallurgical en-terprise, both in the United States and Mexico.

On the one hand, we have in Mexico a steadily increasing output of silicious ores, rich in gold and silver, with a stationary or decreasing production of lead ores suitable for smelting purposes. The result is that gold and silver mining operations throughout central Mexico are handicapped by excessive treatment rates, and many gold and silver mines are now shut down which were formerly operated with profit.

On the other hand, there is in Arizona and northern Sonora, a large and steadily increasing production of copper eminently adapted to the requirements of customs smelting, but which is not yet utilized for this purpose.

After the attention of the great

After the attention of the great copper producers of Sonora and Arizona is directed to the possibilities in smelting the gold and silver ores in Mexico together with the copper ores of the west, there is no reason to doubt that very much greater profits will be made than is now the case.

Copper will be shipped to the refineries rich in gold and silver contents, instead of, as at present, without precious metal values of importance, and profits will be made by the combination that will benefit the miners and the railroads quite as much as the smelters themselves.

the railroads quite as much as the smelters themselves.

When this copper smelting industry, now in its infancy, is developed along these lines, there can be little doubt that El Paso, Texas, lying as it does on the lines of communication between the copper mines of Arizona and Sonora and the gold and silver mines of Mexico, will become a copper smelting center of great importance, and a messenger of prosperity to the many gold and silver mines of northern Mexico.
