

HERE'S SPLENDID NEWS TO OGDEN.

Junction of Union and Southern Pacific Remains There.

MANAGER HERBERT SAYS SO.

He Also Confirms Reports of Proposed Large Expenditures for Improvements.

J. M. Hurlbert, who was recently appointed general manager of the Southern Pacific to succeed J. A. Fillmore, reached Ogden today upon a tour of inspection of the line. He traveled in his private car and was accompanied by his secretary only. In a talk with the "News" man Mr. Hurlbert said that the reports received from New York on Monday and Tuesday, announcing that $40,000,000 was to be spent in improvements upon the system, were positively true and that some of the work would be commenced at once. The elimination of curves and heavy gradients would, of course, require some time to be pushed along as fast as possible.

What is of more interest and importance to Ogden people is the fact that Mr. Hurlbert stated positively that the Southern Pacific's junction with the Union Pacific was to remain at Ogden, and that the talk of its removal to Salt Lake was without any official or authoritative foundation whatever. Citizens of the junction city will certainly be pleased to know this, because of the persistent rumors to the contrary that have found such ready credence of late.

With reference to the Lucin cutoff Mr. Hurlbert was not prepared to talk except to say that it would certainly be constructed, but that authority therefor must first be obtained from New York. The offices and trucks at Ogden will, however, be made more compact in the very near future. Their present scattered condition is the source of much inconvenience in the transaction of business connected with the Southern Pacific's enormous traffic.

SAME SERVICE.

Salt Lake & Ogden Will Continue the Present Trains.

Although unable to give positive assurance of the fact, Manager Critchlow stated today that he anticipated a continuation of the present train service by the Salt Lake & Ogden railway for a week after Labor day. Notwithstanding the fact that on Sept. 2 the orchestra will finish its season and the resort will be nominally closed, because of the National Guard encampment will be held there for a week, beginning on the 3rd, the management may feel justified in continuing the present service to accommodate the many friends of the boys in blue who may desire to visit them in camp.

INCREASED DIVIDEND.

Colorado & Southern Declares Upon Preferred Stock.

New York, Aug. 29.—The directors of the Colorado & Southern Railway company today declared a semi-annual dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on the first preferred stock, an increase of 1/2 per cent over the previous declaration.

[It is expected that at this meeting some action will be taken in the matter of control of the Colorado Midland by the Colorado & Southern.]

Schumacher Arrives.
Traffic Manager Thomas M. Schumacher arrived in the city this morning and will spend a couple of days resting up and looking at Salt Lake.

LAKE BREEZE JUBILANT.

Residents There Promised an Extension of Line.

People who live at Lake Breeze, beyond the Jordan river, are feeling jubilant over a promise, made to them by Superintendent of the Ogden branch, that the line now terminating at the river bridge on Second South street shall soon be extended across the river and out to its former terminus in Lake Breeze. Over two years ago the street car company took up its rails, notwithstanding the protests of the residents over the river. Since that time the community has increased to such an extent that the street car company has concluded that a line out there would now pay. People who claim to know say that notwithstanding the meager service now given for their accommodation, the Jordan Bridge-Canter Street line pays more profit per car than does the elite South Temple street line.

Auditor Geddes will remain in his office until October 1st, although he desired his resignation to be in effect on Saturday night.

Popular Engineer Wedded.

A wedding supper at Beardsley's tavern last night was the last of a little matrimonial drama which began with the issuance of a marriage license yesterday morning to Miss Nettie A. C. Holmquist of Burlington, Ia., and George Franklin Hart of Helper, Utah. The bride, who had been a school teacher in Burlington, came to Helper about a year ago to visit her brother, Dr. Holmquist, for a few weeks, and was persuaded to stay and take charge of the Helper school. While there she met her fate in the popular young engineer, who runs on the Helper-Thistle division of the Rio Grande Western railway. The marriage ceremony was celebrated yesterday evening at St. Paul's Episcopal rectory by the Rev. Miltred Walker.

An accident occurred on the road last week resulting from spreading rails, and this is said to be the cause of Mr. Patterson's resignation.

A special from St. Paul to the Spokesman says: "Nothing can be learned concerning the immediate consolidation of the Spokane offices of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads, though the general offices of both companies it is believed that such an order will be issued before the first of the year."

Boise Statesman, Aug. 27.—The Portland Merchants' excursion left for the coast yesterday. The local passenger train pulled out with a number of passengers on board for the coast of Oregon. There were three extra cars, for the excursionists only. One of these was a chair car, the other two being sleepers—the "Capitol," in charge of W. Mayfield, and the "Medusa," in charge of George Goodwyn.

Pocatello Tribune, Aug. 27.—A most distressing accident occurred yesterday here last evening at a few minutes past six, by which young John Willis, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. Henry Willis, lost his right foot. The lad, who is an employee of the Pocatello & Hays road, was on the engine and a board of switch engine 586, and fell off the wheels cutting the right foot off at the ankle joint and as he fell over the rail the entire engine would have been wrecked, without, however, causing other injury. Engine 586 is one of the new switch engines and has a rebo, ashpan and brake rigging are hung high above the track, which would have been the result had not one of the old engines that passed over the boy as his body lay between the rails is frightful to contemplate. The low ashpan and brake gear would have crushed him to a shapeless mass.

Pocatello Advance: Carr, the man who was awaiting trial on the charge of falsely obtaining aid from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, is missing. Carr was taken down with typhoid fever shortly before it was discovered that he was a fraud. The firemen turned him over to the county for treatment and he was released, without, however, having After Carr recovered sufficient to be up, Sheriff Rice employed John Priest to guard him so he would not disappear, pending his preliminary hearing. How the officer succeeded is shown from the fact that between 3 and 4 o'clock Sunday morning the "sick man" arose, walked out of his room, passed the couch in the hall on which the guard was resting, and another man, stole a coat belonging to another man and made his escape which was not discovered until about 9 o'clock that morning, when some one told Mrs. Burbank's little boy who was making vain efforts to wake the dummy Carr had left in bed, that the prisoner had been gone some six hours. The man is still at liberty.

A moonlight picnic at the Salt Palace is advertised by the Harmonie singing society. The affair is scheduled to be held at an amusing program has been arranged for the occasion.

By a parade on the streets last night the commercial travelers advertised their excursion to Saltair today and now they are having a jolly time at the beach. A band was out with them last night and the excursionists are now enjoying the music of horns and healthy lungs, made it impossible for Salt Lake to be asleep at that particular time. As a consequence the drummers looked forward to a big day today.
