

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Professor Coray addressed the students at chapel on Wednesday on "Student Life at Columbia University."

The registration of students for this year has reached $25. This is the heaviest registration in the history of the University.

Professor Richard R. Lyman has purchased the residence of Mr. Charles Felt at 1084 Third street for $4,000.

During the week the halls have been filled with conference visitors. Many of them former students of the University.

The College Men's Debating club met on Wednesday and organized for the year's work with Karl Hopkins, Don Beauregard and Fery Fox as executive committee members. The club meets once a week for practice, and takes turns presiding. This year the University will debate with the Colorado college and the University of Montana.

Since the beginning of this school year Miss May has been detained in California at the bedside of her mother, who died on Oct. 4. The remains passed through Ogden today on the way to Iowa, where they will be laid to rest.

Professor Chamberlain's college class in histology, zoology and comparative anatomy began its laboratory work on Thursday.

A course in human osteology has been arranged for and will be given by Dr. E. G. Gowans, the medical director of the Varsity gymnasium.

Instructor Young was kept out of school during the first part of the year on account of rheumatism.

Next Friday evening the Varsity orchestra will give a ball in the Museum building.

At the conclusion of the chapel exercises on Wednesday the students were attracted to the campus by shouts and noise of the freshmen and sophomores who were engaged in an old time rush. The affair had been brewing for some time and was pre-arranged. Three men were chosen by each side to hold the flag. The freshmen stepped off 25 yards to the south, while the sophomores lined up an equal distance away in the opposite direction. The seniors acted as judges and were represented by Jimmie Wade, who gave the word "Go," and the rush began. At the end of 15 minutes all sophomores and four freshmen had hold of the flag, and the latter were beaten.

The fourth year normal class officers are J. F. Cummings, president; Rufus Leigh, vice president; Bessie Desley, secretary and treasurer; Moses Nielson, H. F. Syndergaard, Pralle Clark, Myrtle Gibson, and Elsie J. Ward, members of standing committee.

Next Saturday the Varsity football eleven will "punch the pig skin" with the eleven from the University of Montana. The game will take place on Cummings' field on the east bench.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

The past week has been a strenuous one for the fair committee on the local school exhibit. Supt. Christensen joined the force to assist in setting up the work in the educational department. Principals Doney, Parratt, Halleck, Quathrough, Martin, Nelson and Fairbank have contributed considerable time in explaining to visitors the meritorious display.

The first of a series of lectures before the principals began last Wednesday. Supt. Christensen initiated the course by addressing the principals on "The Weak Teacher." Since this subject has, for convenience in presentation and discussion, been divided into two parts, the speaker dealt only with (1) the standard by which teachers are to be judged, and (2) Evidence of (a) a good teacher, (b) of poor teacher. The second half of the presentation will be given at the next meeting by the superintendent, who will then offer remedial suggestions on "How May the Weak Teacher be Helped?" The principals will have sought statistics relative to the kinds of teachers, and will therefore discuss their own findings, as also the suggestions of the speaker.

A circular letter from the superintendent's office advises principals that their regular meetings will be held this year Wednesday afternoons, instead of Thursday.

The senior class of the Salt Lake High school has elected the following officers for the year: President, Royal Martineau; vice president, Warner Thompson; secretary, Edna Evans; treasurer, Harry Alley.

The "Red and Black" of the High school has for its manager Arthur Moreton, who is now appointing his staff. The first issue will be out next month.

Miss Corbin, who is at the head of the English department at Rowland Hall, paid the High school a visit last Tuesday. Miss Corbin was connected with the High school for some years.

Miss Hahn of the Fremont is now convalescent, after an operation upon her feet.

The Fremont corps are delighted with their new library room, which they regard as the best in the city school system. The basement had been fitted up, light, and ventilation have been carefully considered, and now means will be adopted to swell the size of their library.

The High school boys who met the Logan High today on the gridiron, were lined up as follows: Richmond, center; Roberts and Hennessey, guards; Paul and Crichtlow, tackles; Needham and Harris, ends; Judson, full back; Dunn and Richardson, halves; Groesbeck, border; Monahan and Kephart, subs.

The Ephraim corps of teachers with their principal, Mr. Dunyon, visited the Lowell and Lafayette last Thursday.

Mr. Shinatsu, who hails from the mikado's realm, was an interested visitor at the Fremont last Thursday.

Miss Watson of Rexburg, Idaho, and the Misses Bigler and Cazier of Nephi, were among the school visitors last week.

The East Side High school held an enthusiastic meeting last Tuesday. Football was the theme. At the meeting, Lester Wire furnished a piano solo, and Manager Truesdell and Captain Moon gave rousing speeches. Geo. Hedger coaches the team this year. Their first engagement will be the U. of U. Prep's next Wednesday.

A movement is on foot at the East Side High school to organize a girls' physical culture club. A room is being furnished with all necessary apparatus.

The German class for city teachers has been organized, and will hold its first regular meeting in room 11, West Side High school next Friday at 4 p. m.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

Students will elect their officers next Wednesday.

ATTORNEY NATHANIEL H. TANNER.

Young Utah Man Who Has Just Graduated from the University of Michigan Law School.

Nathaniel H. Tanner, whose picture appears above, is another Utah student who has just graduated with honor from the law school of the University of Michigan.

Mr. Tanner is a son of Bishop Jos. S. Tanner of Payson, Utah. He was prepared for law at the Brigham Young University, in which institution he spent five years as a student and teacher. He filled a mission to the Southern States and has had much experience as a public speaker.

He went to Ann Arbor in the fall of 1902 and by attending the summer sessions has just finished the three years' course in two. During his college career Mr. Tanner has been known to professors and students alike as a diligent and untiring student, and to those who are acquainted with the thorough course now given at the University of Michigan his having finished in so short a time will speak volumes for his ability and work as a student. He expects to take up the practice of law with his brother, Judge H. S. Tanner, in Salt Lake City.

School adjourned Thursday and Friday on account of the state fair and the general conference.

The chemical laboratory is being fitted up more adequately with shelves and cupboards for the apparatus and reagents.

Ernest Litz of New York has notified the president of the shipment of thirty-six superior microscopes, imported from Germany for the use of our students in biology.

Two hundred dollars' worth of special works on history, relating mostly to the dawn of historical records, the home life of Greece and Rome, and the early civilization of the east, has just been ordered for laboratory work in this department.

The training class will start teaching the sixth grade pupils next week. The class will be divided into two parts. One-half will teach reading, while the other will teach arithmetic. Great interest is manifested.

Since the beginning of school the zoology classes under Instructor Homer has been impatiently waiting for the arrival of their new apparatus. The instruments are now here, and the pupils are fast making up the laboratory exercises.

County Supt. B. W. Ashton will conduct an eighth grade night school, beginning Oct. 10, under the auspices of the business college. The hours will be from 6 to 8 o'clock every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evening.

The choir leaders' course by Prof. Stephens will begin on Monday next. Some of those who took this course last year, are now in school pursuing a regular course in addition to continuing their musical studies. The professor has been suffering from rheumatism for the past week, but is around again.

The business college night school opened this week with about 40 pupils. Classes have been organized in Pitman & Gregg shorthand, telegraphy, type-writing, bookkeeping, penmanship, arithmetic, English, etc., and it is thought that a class in commercial law will begin next Monday night. Mr. Ramsey's English-German section will begin next week.

The missionary courses begin next Monday. The regular day classes in missionary subjects are from 2 to 12 noon, with music, English, and foreign language in the afternoon. This arrangement will enable persons who desire to work part of the day to get all the regular classes for theological study in the afternoon. The evening classes will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock, and Instructor Goddard will conduct this work as heretofore.

The college journal, the Crimson, will soon make its appearance again. On Tuesday a convention, consisting of three delegates from each class and the printing committee of the faculty, will be held, and the staff was reorganized and all vacancies filled. Those who will conduct the paper this year are: Ernest M. Hight, editor-in-chief; Ida Stock, local editor; Cynthia Hill, assistant local editor; Lyman L. Daynes, business manager; Lowell Merrill, assistant manager; George D. Harding, subscription manager; Chauncey Loveland, literary editor; Parley Peterson, athletic editor; F. D. Daynes, alumni editor; Leroy Lindsay, exchange editor.

The annual meeting of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs will be held in Logan on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 20 and 21. On the first day the sessions of the federation will be held in the H. Y. college, and the visiting club women will be entertained at luncheon by the Beacon Light society of the college.

Everyone connected with the college feels sincere sympathy for Mrs. Jean Thatcher, the attentive and obliging college librarian, on the news of the death of her sister, Mrs. W. S. Burton of Salt Lake, which occurred yesterday. Mrs. Thatcher went to Salt Lake today.

The college will not close for conference this week, it having been found that comparatively few of the students care to go so far, especially as they have just commenced their studies for the year.

The first dancing matinee for the students will be held on Saturday next at 4 p. m. The college orchestra, under instructor David S. Smith, will furnish the music.

The Beacon Light society held its first meeting of the year yesterday. This organization is composed of the wives of the male members and a few outside friends, making in all a membership of twenty. The society will in its weekly meetings make a study of Shakespeare's tragedies, and the masters of art, and the incidental work will include music, current events, and papers on the subject of household economics. A committee consisting of Miss Rose Homer, Mrs. A. H. Wright, Mrs. N. E. Clemensen, Mrs. J. H. Linford and Mrs. Weston Vernon, has been appointed to outline the program. Arrangements were made at yesterday's meeting for the entertainment of the Federation of Women's clubs two weeks hence.

President Linford, Prof. Hall, Prof. Bullen, Mrs. Zina Y. Card, George Jensen and Henry H. Blood, are among the members of the faculty who are attending conference in Salt Lake.

On Friday of next week, President Linford will deliver a stereoscopic lecture on bacteriology, in the college assembly room. This will be the first of the series of semi-monthly lectures to be given during the winter.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Logan.—President Kerr was in Salt Lake last Wednesday, attending a meeting of the state board of education.

The registration at the college is 30 per cent more than it was last year at this date, and new students are entering daily.

Director Whitcomb, Prof. Merrill, Hall and Clark, and Mr. William Jardine were in attendance at the state fair during the week.

Prof. Ball is all smiles these days. The cause is an elegant new museum case.

Two car loads of tile for the drainage experiment south of Hyde Park, have been laid under the supervision of Mr. McLaughlin, the irrigation expert of the college. He is now in Utah county investigating the feasibility of the reclamation of certain marsh lands there. Mr. McLaughlin expects to spend the entire winter in this work and the methods of measurement and division of water.

Dairymen chivvett is continuing his experiments with cheese put up in airtight tin cans for curing.

The kitchen are filled both forenoon and afternoon with bevy of young ladies busily engaged in preserving various kinds of fruit and in making jam. The work is under the efficient direction of Miss Holmgren who now devotes her entire time to the laboratory work in cooking and laundering.

The training table was started last Thursday. The girls in the domestic science department have volunteered to do the work.

The local committee of the Logan clubs met last Tuesday to complete arrangements for the meeting of the Utah State Federation of Women's clubs to be held here Oct. 20 and 21.

The A. C. Woman's club met last Monday with Mrs. Engle. Mrs. Hall read a paper on "Athens and Her People," which was preparatory to the lesson next week on Greek architecture. Several new members were admitted.

Miss Meech has a very large class in physical culture.

The football game last Saturday with the Ogden High school was not close enough to be exciting as the early line of the college men was impregnable to the assaults of the boys from the high school.

A large class in public speaking has been organized and is conducted by Prof. Upham and Miss Meech. Miss Meech also has two large classes in elocution, one for beginners and one doing advanced work.

A reception was tendered the students last Saturday evening by the faculty. A short musical program was given by the faculty of the school of music. Short addresses were given by President Kerr and Trustee Owen. Later the students and faculty met in social converse and in games in the reading room. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

The military department is gaining in popularity under the direction of Capt. Styer. Twelve new squads have been formed for drill and on account of the college rifle team winning first place in the intercollegiate contest last spring, many of the old men are continuing in the department so they may have opportunity to continue this practice.

CEDAR CITY BRANCH NORMAL.

Cedar City, Utah.—Things are now running smoothly at the Branch normal. The classes are all organized, the student organizations are under way, and a hum of good cheer and industry is felt throughout the buildings.

In chapel exercises Monday Ernest Burgess spoke to the students, giving some interesting suggestions as to how to make school life and home life blend. Ernest, who was one of our instructors last year, leaves Salt Lake on Tuesday, one of our old students, John Gardner, spoke. He recently returned from New Zealand, where he spent three years.

Mr. Timothy Hoyt, one of Kanab's brightest sons, led Miss Lavonia Parry, a normal graduate of 1902, to the bride altar, this week in Salt Lake. The friends of the young couple, among whom were many normal teachers and students, met at a social at the home of the bride's father last Saturday night. A jolly good time was had by everybody.

The general Branch Normal city officers elected at the election on Friday last are: Albert Anderson, mayor; Carle Perry, recorder; Julius Taylor, attorney; L. P. McConnel, committee.

Mr. Mabee gave the students some excellent suggestions in his chapel talk this week.

The annual "handshake" is to occur Friday, Oct. 14.
