Tuesday. The petition was the second one re-ceived by the board from the teach-ers relative to the new contracts which the board has adopted for the future. In this petition the teachers object to the clauses which require them to do summer school work and attend the convention of the state teachers. The first petition objected to the clause which required that a small deposit be made from the salary each month as a guaranty against breaking of the contract. Thus far no action has been taken, by the board upon the petitions of the teachers in relation to their

BIDS FOR STATE CAPITOL. * OGDEN, May 29.—George Maule has advised the directors of the We-ber club that in the event of the re-moval of the state capital to Ogden, he will give to the state a piece of ground northwest of the old univer-sity site and containing 20 acres. P. A. Mattson has also advised the club that he will give a site consist-ing of a half a block near the corner of Twenty-eighth street and madison avenue as a capitol site.

have already signed contracts for the next year. Superintendent Mills was authorized to arrange for an exhibit at the State fair which is to be held in Salt Lake City in September. He stated that the exhibit which will be used at the Four-State Fair to be held in Ogden the fore part of September could be used at the State Fair and there would be little or no expense attached to the transferring of the same. The superintendent and Professor Thatcher of the High school were au-thorized to go to Salt Lake City and inspect furniture for the new High school building. The matter of purchasing supplies for the next school year, upon recom-mendation of the committee on sup-plies, was divided among the business houses of the city who had submitted bids at a former meeting. avenue as a capitol site.

MIDVALE, Salt Lake Co., May 26. MIDVALE, Salt Lake Co., May 26.--The new city of Midvale, the section of Salt Lake county formerly known as Bingham Junction or East Jordan, today heid its first election and decided by a vote of 3 to 1 to incorporate as a city under the name of Midvale. The officers chosen wars those nonlineted on the under the name of Midvale. The officers chosen were those nominated on the Citizen's tickets, headed by Hyrum Goff as mayor. Mr. Goff is one of the first residents of the place, and its foremost citizen and business man. The other officers are: Edward A. Bateman, recorder; Dr. J. E. Robertson, treasurer: Nels Lind, justice, and Pat-rick B. Sullivan, John M. Watson, Geo. A. Jenkins, Holland E. Benedict and Henry P. Miller, members of the city council. The Independent ticket was defeated by a decisive vote. When the result of the election became known the residents of the city joined in public celebration, firing cannon and shooting off fireworks. This is the third attempt to incor-porate the new city. The first time the railroads and smelter interests opposed incorporation successfully. The second time the smelter people proposed to incorporate the city, leaving th smelter outside of the corporate limits.

This was defeated by the taxpayers. This time the taxpayers and smelter people joined hands for incorporation. The smeller is now inside of the corpor-ate limits of the new city of Midvale.
