

TALK OF THE TOWN.

All good citizens should go to the polls on Monday. The Tabernacle Choir holds its weekly practice to-night. The Wasatch Stake Conference commences to-morrow.

About all the San Francisco excursionists have returned. The quarterly Conference of Summit Stake convenes on the 6th prox.

"Fun on the Bristol" will be played for a matinee to-morrow afternoon. Benjamin J. Beer, a native of England, was to-day admitted as a citizen.

The M. L. A. of Sandy, on Wednesday the 20th inst., adjourned its meetings till fall.

Pre-Ment D. H. Peery, of Weber Stake, was in the city to-day. He left for Ogden this evening.

The case against E. M. Westcott, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, closed last evening. The defendant was discharged.

According to McKenney's Directory, the number of saloons in Utah exactly equals the number of lawyers. The question is, have we enough saloons?

Thomas Sleight makes all kinds of paper boxes, fancy and ornamental, also dry goods, in city or boxes, thin lumber boxes a specialty. His business card will be found in the News.

Mr. James E. Hart, son of Hon. Jas. H. Hart, of Bear Lake, and Miss Elmina Bird, of Logan, were yesterday united in holy matrimony by Counselor D. H. Wells. They are a fine young couple, and deserve a long life of happiness and prosperity.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Multum in Parvo.—The anniversary of Utah's natal day was duly honored in the little town of Mayfield on Monday last. Gun-firing, procession, orations, singing, music, dancing, racing, etc., etc., constituted a varied and enjoyable programme. The "moving spirits" of the day were Bishop O. C. Olsen, M. P. Sorenson, Carl Olsen, Jos. Christianson, J. H. Whitlock, F. Julius, and T. A. Williams, who strived to please and succeed. H. K. informs us of the event.

For the North.—The following named brethren left for Logan this afternoon, to attend the quarterly Conference of the Cache Stake of Zion, to be held in that city on Saturday and Sunday: Presidents John Taylor, Geo. Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith; Apostles Wilford Woodruff, Franklin D. Richards and John Henry Smith; Elder L. J. Nuttall and others. Several ladies will be in the party. Most of the company, after the Conference is ended, will visit Bear Lake, and probably attend the Conference of that Stake, which will take place on the 6th and 7th of August.

Coal Oil Explosion.—The Enquirer of Wednesday states that a young lady of sixteen, granddaughter of the late Bishop Aaron Johnson, last residing in Springfield, was horribly burnt by the explosion of a coal oil can, on last Friday night. She had attempted to relight only partially extinguished fire by pouring coal oil on the embers from a can. An explosion followed of course, and she was immediately enveloped in flames. A neighbor who was irrigating his lot at the time, heard the poor girl's screams, rushed into the house, and with several buckets of water put out the flames. The young lady was badly burnt on her arms and the lower part of her body. Dr. Pike was summoned to attend the injured girl, and although the case is a serious one, he considers she will recover.

"Fun on the Bristol."—The first performance of this highly amusing—well we hardly know what to call it—was witnessed by a large and enthusiastic audience. There is but one word adequate to describe the entertainment. It was simply immense. As a funny piece it fairly equals "Dreams," which made such a hit when produced a few months ago by Edwin's Sparks combination. In fact it is just such a composition, full of music, burlesque, humor and vivacity. During the three acts which lasted from 8 till nearly 11, there was scarcely a cessation of laughter and applause. Every character is a star part and every actor an artist. It is hard to decide which won the most laurels last evening; all had admirers, of whom there were sufficient to give each performer a generous share. Mr. Sheridan as the "Widow O'Brien" was of course a central figure. His Irish enunciation was excellent, but could have been more distinct. Homelessness also marked his singing. His "Captain Starch" was the swell English officer to a nicety. Mr. Courtwright is one of the finest minstrel men ever upon our stage. His song and dance in the second act equals any possibility in that line. He is a comedian of no ordinary ability. ("Captain Cranberry" and "Count Menaggio" with their several aliases, were exceedingly well rendered by Messrs Waldron and Dunbar, respectively. The other gentlemen also played finely. The ladies, Misses Castleton, Hallack, and Kalne, as "Dora," "Nora" and "Bella," bore off a full share of the honors. All the company are good actors and very fine singers. The Turkish Revue, a travesty on the celebrated march so entitled, was very comical and brought the second act to a very successful close. To name all the good points, would be superfluous to those who were present, to all who were not, we can confidently say: You will never regret seeing "Fun on the Bristol."

Almost a Tragedy.—The dining hall of the Chamberlin Hotel, Ogden, on Wednesday evening, was the scene of an exciting event which only lacked the shedding of blood to make it a full fledged tragedy. The room was crowded with guests engaged in dispatching dinner, when an individual named Shannon, an Idaho lawyer, entered the place, and without any ado commenced discharging his pistol at a man named McCoy, who was sitting at a table in company with a woman, who it afterwards appeared was Shannon's wife. Two shots were fired, both ineffective so far as the human target was concerned, but one struck a hot cake on the table and scattered the syrup into the face of a servant girl in waiting. McCoy ran, followed by Mrs. Shannon, and the irate husband was immediately put out of the hotel. Shannon next day got a warrant for the arrest of McCoy, for grand larceny, and the latter was accordingly taken to jail. The trial was to come off yesterday or to-day. McCoy having been disposed of, Shannon and his wife were reconciled. The cause of the trouble is reported as follows: Shannon had been McCoy's lawyer in a suit for the recovery of his infant child. Judge Emerson refused to separate the nursing from its maternal guardian and decided that Mrs. McCoy should keep her child. McCoy then formed an intimacy with the Shannons, who were about going east. McCoy agreed to pass Mrs. Shannon as his wife, over the railroad. The two accordingly left, the husband consenting to the arrangement, and went as far as Echo, where they registered at a hotel as man and wife. Shannon followed by the next train and went as far as Evanston. Not finding his wife and her partner there, he returned to Echo, surprised them in company, and an altercation ensued. McCoy fled to Ogden. Shannon telegraphed Sheriff Brown to arrest him, as he had absconded with Mrs. Shannon's jewelry and baggage checks. This was done, but as no accuser appeared next day, McCoy was liberated. Mrs. Shannon next appeared in Ogden, and put up at the Chamberlin House, where she again met McCoy. Shannon followed, and the reader knows the rest. McCoy, after flying from the enraged husband, pawned a diamond pin belonging to Mrs. Shannon for a pistol, to defend himself against his pursuer. He was taken into custody, however, before he had the opportunity of using it. So ends the chapter of this thrilling tale, as gleaned from the Ogden Herald.

The Temperance Excursion.—The enjoyment of those who participated in the Temperance Excursion on Wednesday last was all that its promoters could have desired. The officers of the railway did all in their power to make the occasion a big success. Arriving at Lake Point, the worthy hostess at once had the large and commodious rooms of the hotel thrown open. Then came the use of the bath rooms, bathing dresses, etc., and very soon the water all around the pier was filled with the young and old, vying with each other in the enjoyment of the beautiful waters of the Lake. The band which accompanied the excursion in the meantime discoursed excellent music in the hotel, where others were enjoying themselves in the dance. The best of all was the entire absence of drunkenness. Mrs. Southworth, the popular proprietor, firmly refused to sell any intoxicating beverages, although one person, not a temperance man, offered $2.50 for a drink, while another offered $5 for a bottle. Both were promptly refused. No event occurred to mar the peace and pleasure of the day except the putting up of a notice in the post office, by some unknown party, that the excursion would not leave until 9 o'clock, instead of 8 10 as advertised. This, no doubt, prevented some from taking the train as they intended, although it by no means detracted from the general success of the occasion.

Child Run Over.—This afternoon, about 3 o'clock, a little boy, 6 or 7 years old, was run over by a wagon loaded with brick, in the vicinity of the new Opera House going up on Second South Street. The neighborhood was thronged with teams when a traction engine from Mr. Mattison's machinery yard, passed along. The engine blew the whistle, and scared the brick team, which started off on the trot. The child was either run over by the wheel or stepped on by one of the horses. No bones were broken, and it is thought that nothing serious will result. The child's parents live in the Standish Row, but we could not learn their name.

Pro Bono Publico.—An effort is being made by the Management of the Theatre, to commence performances at 8 o'clock every evening. Should this regulation meet public approval, the people should be seated at that hour, as theatrical companies will not commence until the house is full. Much of Mr. Sheridan's best acting was utterly lost last evening, because of the noise in the auditorium while the people were coming in.

Crops—Twenty-Fourth Celebrations and Conferences in Grantsville.

Grantsville, Tooele County, July 26th, 1881.

Editor Deseret News:

The farmers in this valley have been well rewarded for their labors; almost every acre of tillable land has a crop of some kind growing upon it. Harvest is upon us in full blast; there are no loaves to be found in our little hills, and in fact there are hardly men enough to perform the labor. The harvest is from two to three weeks earlier than last year, but I am told by some of the best judges that the wheat, oats and barley crop is not quite as good as last year. The attribute to the high and hot south winds that we have had in June and July, which dried up the moisture too rapidly for the development of the cereals; these were the plenty for all and some to spare.

By the recent flood referred to in your paper as having occurred in North Willow Canyon, and which did Bro. S. W. House so much damage, I fear that our corn crops and gardens may suffer some, for the torrents of water have done considerable damage to the corn and garden, destroyed ditches and dam, and it is said by the watermaster that enough rock was washed down to pave the ditch for three or four miles, and a great amount of the water sinks in these rocks before reaching the settlements.

On last Saturday and Sunday, the 23d and 24th, the Quarterly Conference of our Stake was held here. We had a few of good things. Pres. Joe F. Smith and Apostle F. M. Lyman were present, and gave us some excellent instruction upon subjects and principles that, if carried out in our lives, will exalt us to that glory to which we are all aspiring.

Pioneer day was celebrated here on the 25th. It was a full success, and nothing occurred to mar its harmony, but it was undoubtedly the best that has ever been held in Grantsville.
