

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Yesterday Professor Lyman went to Salt Lake to address the Sevier county Teachers' Institute, which convened yesterday and today.

On Wednesday evening in the assembly room of the museum building, Prof. Stewart delivered an illustrated lecture before the training school patrons. Other features of the program were the singing exercises by the training school patrons.

Instructor L. E. Young, delivered a spirited address before the students at the general assembly on Wednesday. At the conclusion of his speech, O. J. Dix entered the room with a large flag followed by several students. They went quietly to the podium where Mr. Dix in a neat little room presented the flag to the foot-ball team, as a gift from the varsity team. When the applause had quieted down, Mr. Dix, on behalf of the foot-ball team, presented the flag to the foot-ball team, as a gift from the varsity team. When the applause had quieted down, Mr. Dix, on behalf of the foot-ball team, presented the flag to the foot-ball team, as a gift from the varsity team.

Mr. H. C. Williams was a visitor at the University on Wednesday.

President Kingsbury has requested the heads of the various departments of the University to make out lists of their needs for the next two years. These will be approved by the regents and then presented to the legislature for consideration. One of the urgent needs is a gymnasium building.

On Thursday evening the students gave a grand football party in the assembly room of the Museum building in honor of the Colorado college eleven.

Next Saturday Prof. Stewart will address the Summit county teachers at Coalville. In the evening he will deliver a public lecture before the citizens of that place.

Principal Decker of the Branch Normal, came up during the Thanksgiving vacation to confer with President Kingsbury regarding the needs of the Normal school for the next two years.

The department of biology has just received a high grade automatic Microtome of latest pattern and a Little compartment paraffin oven. They were ordered especially for use in the course in histology and embryology.

Professor Chamberlain received this week's author's separate of a paper recently published by him under the title "New Chilopoda." The article appeared in the proceedings of the Philadelphia Academy of Sciences. It embraces descriptions and discussions of ten centipedes and their allies heretofore unknown to science with the exception of one from the Bermuda Islands. All the species are natives of different parts of the United States. Several of the forms described are of much importance to naturalists.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

All schools of the city report having had some excellent programs last Wednesday afternoon.

The reports of principals for month ending Nov. 1 show an average in punctuality not less than 99 per cent, while the average in attendance does not fall below 84 per cent in any school in the city. The same reports make note of the fact that 1,031 visits have been made by teachers to parents, and 501 visits by parents to the schools.

The total registration on that date was 18,245.

The Misses Potter and Joint of the Sumner have been absent from school on account of illness.

The Lowell shows a steady increase and promises soon to show a full registration.

Supervisor Wetzel has just finished a general review of reading in the fifth grade throughout the city. Next week he resumes his supervision in music, after which sixth grade rooms will be visited by him for drill or reading.

The West Side High school will send a set of resolutions of respect and condolence to the parents of Oscar Manning, the young cadet and sophomore, who died last week.

The second issue of the Red and Black was on sale last Wednesday. The football design is a very attractive one and the stories, gossips, and cartoons predict a very creditable year for the journal.

The appeal of "Invincible" given the High School football teams of '98 and '99 may justly be claimed by the team of '04, who has in no instance given its competitors for the prize cup, anything but the "Invincible."

The Union and Graders are quite hopeful of winning the coveted "Rowe and Kelly" cup. As yet they have come off victors in all contests.

An enjoyable "hop" was given last evening at Christensen's by the High School Athletic association. This is their final ball of the season.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

We were pleased to have Principal I. M. Mills of the High School department visit the preparatory department during our class meeting on Wednesday. His remarks on the "Completion of the Entire Course" were very appropriate—Hattie Garn.

Maps made by the students of the preparatory department are being hung on the walls of the classroom—Margie Woodbury.

The "Life of Alexander the Great" will be studied by the preparatory class in history during the next two months.—Frieda Bevelly.

The class in normal training took their respective groups into City Creek canyon on Wednesday afternoon, the purpose being to give the children an idea of the geographical principles which they have been studying about.—Laura Young.

Last Tuesday the kindergarten training class served a dainty luncheon for the children on Wednesday afternoon. The purpose of the geographical principles which they have been studying about.—Laura Young.

In the near future the third year English classes expect an intellectual feast. There will be three lectures at least on art, harmony, and architecture. The subject of the first lecture will be given by the Professor Stephens. Harmony in music and in verse will be treated.—Ray Gledhill.

Hereafter the class in analytical geometry will meet during the theory hour. On account of this change the students of this class have been assigned topics in Church History for reading and will take the monthly examination.

several prostration and had to leave school Wednesday.

The school is pleased to welcome back Mr. W. H. Miller who has been out for some time on account of the sickness and death of his father.

Several new students registered in the normal department Monday.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan.—The reception tendered by the faculty to the students of the college Monday evening was a very enjoyable affair in every way. The guests of the evening numbered nearly 100, including the presidencies of near-by states, the Bishops of Cache valley wards, and some others. The student body had prepared for the occasion by carefully decorating class corners in the gymnasium. Before the time arrived for the exercises to begin, the college band played stirring selections in front of the main building. At 7:30 the assembly room presented an animated and inspiring scene. The classes sat in groups under their banners, on which were displayed the mottoes that have inspired them to work. The announcements (by President Joseph E. Smith and Anthon H. Lund) would be present had awakened enthusiasm among the students, and as these brethren entered the hall, accompanied by President Linford, the entire audience arose and sang, "O God, for a President," with a vim and spirit that showed the sentiments were from the heart.

Among those seated on the stand were President Smith and wife, President Lund, President Linford and wife, Hon. Joseph Howell, President Lewis, President W. J. Kerr of the Agricultural college, and others.

After the opening prayer by Henry H. Flood, the students sang the new college song, "Hail, B. Y. U. Hail." President Linford welcomed the students and the invited guests in a few well chosen words, and then the class of 1905, under the leadership of Lyman L. Daines, sang an excellent class song. This was followed by an address by President Smith, who spoke in commendation of the work being done by the college, and bore a strong personal testimony to the characters of the church leaders from Joseph, the Prophet, to President Snow. Prof. Robinson rendered a solo, and then President Lund spoke encouragingly to the students. There was a violin solo by Prof. Harris, followed by addresses by Congressman Howell and President Lewis, college trustees, each of whom spoke well. A selection by the band closed the program, and as the students marched out, each was presented to and shook hands with President Smith, President Lund and the trustees of the college.

The concluding part of the evening was spent in a social way. There was dancing in the gymnasium, and games were provided for those who did not dance. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. Presidents Smith and Lund and party occupied a beautifully decorated corner, arranged by the class of 1905, overlooking the dancing floor, and enjoyed the lively scene below. The dancing was continued until after midnight and then it was with reluctance that the students departed. The reception was one of the most successful, and, in point of attendance, perhaps the largest ever given at the college.

The Thanksgiving dinner arranged by the domestic science department of the college, was given Tuesday afternoon. Covers were laid for twenty-two, and an elegant nine-course dinner was served. The work of preparing and serving was entrusted entirely to the girls of the advanced class, under Miss Rose Homer, and it is not too much to say that it more than maintained the high standard of the college.

The students received much practical good from President Brimhall's lecture Friday evening, before the Literary society. His subject was "The Economy of Mental Energy." The musical numbers on the program were by Miss Lewis and Miss Salmon.

Friday evening after Literary, the faculty received the new students in the gymnasium. There was a general review of the first part of the evening, creating a feeling of good fellowship before the dancing began.

The different phases of the department of arts and industries were represented in the fine exhibit held last week in the old art studio. Painting, designing, manual training, wood work, draughting, domestic science and domestic art all had their place. There was a commendable display from the training school.

A new system for numbering the rooms of the buildings will go into effect Monday next. Some time ago President Brimhall asked that students or teachers submit methods by which the numbering of the rooms be more simple. Mr. Van Buren's plan has been accepted.

The electricity was turned into the new blacksmith shop last Saturday, and the forges are now being used.

Last Saturday President Brimhall lectured before the County Teachers' association on "Attention to the Individual in Education."

School closes this evening for the Thanksgiving vacation, which will last till Monday next.

At a meeting of the 1905 H. S. class Friday afternoon the following program was featured: Piano solo, Miss Edmonds; vocal solo, Mr. Lloyd; speech, Mr. Clark; toast, "1905 Boys," Miss Chamberlain; toast, "1905 Girls," Mr. Kimball; complaints from class growler, Miss Lindsay.

The following program was given in the musical recital last Friday: "Novellette," Schumann—Miss Lewis; "A Romance," Verdi—Mr. Wilford; McAllister; Overture, "Serenades," Rossini—Miss Borg and Prof. Lund; "Cath is the Night," Bohn—Miss Salmon; "Devotion," Schumann—Miss Buckley; "A Reverie," Schutt—Miss Howe.

WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

Ogden Nov. 25.—School dismissed for Thanksgiving Wednesday afternoon and students are enjoying a much needed rest.

The first number of the Acorn, Vol. II, made its appearance Wednesday. The issuing of a school paper has evidently become a permanent feature of our academy and the appearance and contents of the present number reflect much credit on the students of the editorial staff.

Mr. Smith and Perry Barrows, a former student, paid us a pleasant visit Monday.

Principal D. O. McKay will deliver an address before the Sunday school convention at Brigham City on Saturday.

Instructor Bradford is enjoying his vacation in Salt Lake and Instructor Shurtliff is visiting friends in Logan.

The class in geology finished the laboratory work in dissecting this week. The remainder of the term will be devoted to general reading and a survey of the animal kingdom. Last Sunday evening instructors T. E. McKay and W. M. McKendrick addressed meetings, the former in the Third ward of the city the latter at Mount Fort.

On Monday several members of the faculty leave to do Farmers' Institute work in various counties of the state. Their work at the college will go on as usual, Prof. Yoder taking Prof. Whitson's classes; Mr. Jardine, Prof. Merrell; Mr. Crockett, Prof. Clark; Mrs. Corey has arranged for Miss Hazel Love, '05, to take one of her classes and Miss Grace Fisher, '04, to take the others except the class in ceramics, which will do library work.

On Wednesday morning the students were addressed in chapel by Supt. Jensen of the Logan schools.

Members of the experiment station staff are busy preparing articles for the Christmas and New Year's edition of the Salt Lake newspaper. They will also soon publish their first report on the six arid farms that they have established in various parts of the state.

Last Monday evening the second in the series of dances arranged by the athletic committee was given in the Thatcher pavilion. All of the football men were present and the faculty was represented by the Misses Holmgren, Prof. Campbell and Prof. Langton.

At the chapel exercises of Monday Captain Riser, after delicately pouring oil and wine on the disappointed students, read them a letter which he had recently received from his friend, Captain Richards of the Philippine constabulary and which contained an entertaining description of army conditions in the Philippine islands.

Miss Elizabeth Wyant of the English department is spending the Thanksgiving recess in Ogden with her friend, Miss Joyce of the Ogden High school.

The second number of Student Life, the college monthly paper, came out Wednesday. It contains, besides the usual college news, an able article on Michel Angelo by Prof. Stueder of the art department.

The past week the foreman of the college farm have been distributing to the college families various vegetables, grown under scientific conditions on the college farms. These families have agreed to receive, note and tabulate their properties and report on them to the experiment station.

The newly appointed cadet officers are the following: Captains F. R. Jensen, '05, T. Johnson, '05, and Hillman, '05; Lieutenants W. MacKnight, '05, F. Tuttle, '05, R. Baker, '05, and M. Connelly, '05.

Mrs. Emma Merrell Sharp, a sister of Prof. Merrell and a former student of the college, died this week at her mother's home in Richmond.

On Thanksgiving afternoon a hotly contested game of football was played on the campus of the B. Y. college between a team formed from students of the engineering departments and captained by Tuttle, '05, and one composed of students in agriculture and captained by Stevens, '05.

After the game at Salt Lake City last Saturday about 50 students attended a body Maxine Elliott's performance of "Her Own Way." President Kerr, some of the faculty, many students and most of the football team attended the university hop given in their honor.

The faculty of the last summer school has presented the library with $70 to be invested immediately in books.

BEAVER BRANCH B. Y. U.

Beaver—Principal A. B. Anderson delivered a lecture before the Polytechnic society Nov. 18, on "Improvements in Transportation."

The first regular session of the Etude was held Nov. 17. The following was the program: "Introduction to the History of Music," F. C. Van Buren; "Biography of Handel," A. M. Ducham; piano solo, Margaret Mansfield; vocal solo, Leslie Booth; "Anecdotes of Handel," L. Pearl Adams.

Sessions of the student body were held Monday and Friday. The constitution and by-laws were adopted. The body decided to tax each member $1 as a fee for finishing the gymnasium and instructed the executive committee to order the building finished for the Christmas party. A committee was also appointed to arrange for the closing party.

Sunday school convention was held here Nov. 20. A few visitors from town were present.

The geology class took a trip up the canyon Saturday to collect rock specimens.

The Beaver County Teachers' Institute will be held here Nov. 25 and 26. Prof. Stewart of the U. of U. is expected to be present.

CEDAR CITY BRANCH NORMAL.

Cedar City—The ball given by the athletic association last Friday was very successful socially and financially. Students seemed to be "hungry for a hop as they expressed it, a month having elapsed since the last normal ball.

Principal Decker left Thursday for Salt Lake on business connected with appropriation for the school for the coming two years.

A great many students from nearby towns are home for Thanksgiving.

The first lecture of this season's series will be given Saturday evening, Dec. 2, by Instructor Mabey.

At a mass meeting held Thursday morning the students decided to build a reservoir to be used as a skating pond during the winter season. Arrangements are made to have a big turnout of men and teams Friday. Those who give their labor will be rewarded by a free ball and supper to be furnished by the normal girls.

Several of the normal teachers participated in a pleasant social at the home of Myron D. Higbee on Wednesday evening.
