CADET CORPS ENTER MATCHES

For First Time Regimental and Company Tournaments Thrown Open To Youngsters Next Month.

(Special Correspondence.) Washington, D. C., July 18 .- Those who propose to attend the rifle matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, this year, will be interested in knowing that a larger attendance of visitors is promised than at any preceding match. Secretary of War Dickinson himself a good shot with both the military rifle and the shotgun, will be at Camp Perry for several days. Chairman John A. T. Hull, of the house committee on military affairs, will probably spend two or three days on the range while the entire membership of the senate committee on military affairs is expected at the range for one day. The committee will be making a tour of inspection of army posts at that time and the itinerary will be arranged so as to bring them to Camp Perry for one day if possible. Gen. William Crozier, chief of ordance, Rep. I. R. Sherwood, Senator Dick, of Ohio, Rep. Edwin Denby, of Michigan; Captain Learnard, of the general staff and Captain Kerth. assistant chief of the militia division, will be among the distinguished visitors. It is a matter of regret that President Tart will be unable to ar-range his western trip to take in Camp Perry. He is a life member of the National Rifle association whose matches will follow the national matches, and as secretary of war was greatly interested in the work of the N. R. A. and the national board for promotion of rifle practise, of which Assistant Secretary Robert Shaw Oli-ver is president. President Taft will write the winner of the individual military championship of the United Etates a personal letter of congratula-tion. The title goes to the marks-man who makes the highest record in the national individual rifle match and the president's match combined. CADET CORFS TO SHOOT. tors. It is a matter of regret that

CADET CORPS TO SHOOT.

CADET CORPS TO SHOOT. For the first time the regimental and company matches of the National Rifle association which will be shot at Camp Perry, O., in August next, will be thrown open to cadet corps. The progress made during the pre-ceding year with shooting in the edu-cational institutions justifies the be-lief that it will be only a few years until they are well represented at the national matches. Cuiver military in-stitute, of Indiana, sent a team to Camp Perry last year for observation and practise and this year will have a team on the ground ready to meet all comers. Cadets who belong to rifle clubs affiliated with the N. R. A. will be admitted to all individual matches and, their teams will shoot in the Inter-Club match. Teams from Princeton, Harvard and similar insti-tutions, not having cadet corps, will not, of course, be eligible to shoot in the regimental and company matches, but individuals from such clubs can schoot in a large number of individual the regimental and company matches, but individuals from such clubs can shoot in a large number of individual matches. The success of the young marksmen in late years gives the im-pression that if teams from education-the success the interview to extend the theory of the

POLICEMAN WINS ALLEY RACE.

McCormick Outstrips Diminutive Hop Fiend and Leads Him to Bastile,

Robert O'Neil, a diminutive inhabiant of the underworld, known to the police as a hop fiend and vagrant, gave Patrolman McCormick, on the scales for 235 pounds and requiring two yards and more of tape line to reach from his scalp to his generous foot-gear, the run of his life this after-noon. Robert, spotted by McCormick on Commercial street, was placed un-der arrest and was being escorted to the station to be charged with vag-rancy. When the big one and the little one had reached the junction of Orpheum Place and Commercial street the little one tore himself from the grasp of the policeman and sprinied adown Plum alley. As they passed the row of Chinese mansions, the almond cyed denizens came forth from their fan tan and other pastimes to watch the parade as it passed. The race grew sprinted as the big one gained on the little one with a great clatter of sole leather in the paved thorough-fare and then as the climax the hop fiend bit the dust after a sturdy push administered by the minion of law and order. Captured, he was led to the police station and accommodated with a cool room in the main corridor yards and more of tape line to reach ponce station and accommodated with a cool room in the main corridor where he will revolve many thoughts in his drug-clouded mind until the morrow, when he stands before the bar of justice and tells Judge Bowman the story of his life.

MANAGERS JENNINGS AND CLARKE, WHOSE TEAMS LOOK LIKE FLAG WINNERS

With about half of the major league races completed a good line can be obtained on the teams that will come oretty near capturing the pennant in each of the big leagues. In the National, Pittsburg has such a big lead that it ooks as if nothing but an accident can rob the club of the banner. In the American, Detroit is just about as safe unless the unforeseen occurs. Both teams have been playing championship ball since the start. Pittsburg leads in club fielding in the National, which means that the pitchers are being ably supported. The Pirates also lead in long hits and club batting, which means that the other pitchers are getting hammered. And, lastly, Wagner, Clarke, Leach and Gibson are among the first 10 leading runners and sluggers. Detroit leads the other clubs in the American in team batting, long hits, and is second in club fielding. Cobb. Crawford, McIntyre and Bush are among the 10 leading base runners and batters. Picture on left shows Manager Jennings of the Tigers uttering his now famous cry, "E-e-yah!" Jennings' famous antics on the diamond have made him a favorite in every town in the circuit. It is unnecessary to tell what he has done for the Tigers. From a hopelessly disrupted bunch of players that he took hold of in 1907 he has developed two championship teams. Jennings is a baseball character that will go down in the annals of the game for all time. A great player himself in his day, he seems to have the knack of filling every player on his team with the same amount of energy and ginger that he used to exert in a game himself. Manager Clarke of the Pirates is one of the greatest players the game everknew. 'He is a great batter, a good base runner and a splendid fielder. Clarke is 36 years old and has been playing ball over 16 years. He was manager of the Louisville club for three years and has held the job down with Pittsburg for nine years. Clarke says he will probably retire from the diamond at the end of the present season and devote his time to farming near Winfield, Kan., where he has a large ranch.

FORTY-FIVE TEAMS.

is probable that not more than forty-five teams representing the states, territories and the regular serv-ice, will be on hand to compete at Camp Perty this year. This will be a decrease of five from the number last year. A number of states which do not have ranges or which have ranges which need improvement, have reached which need improvement, have reached the conclusion that for the current year they can do more with their money by improving their ranges than by send-ing a team to Camp Perry. In many instances they are hard at work pre-paring for next year's contest. Of the $2,000,000 appropriated by Congress for the National Guard, $500,000 is set aside for wide sendias. This current is orner for rife practice. This sum is appor-tioned among the states and can be utilized for the purchase and equipment of ranges. In a few years it is hoped that each state will have at least one first class range.

SITES FOR RIFLE RANGE.

SITES FOR RIFLE RANGE. A difference of opinion exists as to the probable purchase by the United States government of the Ohio riffe range at Camp Perry. Its purchase is advocated because of its central loca-tion and because it is well equipped, has a north light and requires no ar-tificial backstops. On the other hand, there is a well defined expression of opinion that a national range should be established near Washington. The United States marine corps has re-cently secured 1.000 acres of land at Indian Head, about 30 miles down the United States harme comparing has for cently secured 1,000 acres of land at Indian Head, about 30 miles down the Potomac from Washington, which will be utilized by that branch of the serv-lee. According to the defend-ants story the occurrence took place in the rear of 735 south West Temple street last Sunday. In the morning, Eardley says, Newman had stopped him in front of the residence and had called him names. Trouble was avoid-ed, but the latent ill-feeling broke out again towards night when Newman went after Eardley with a hammer, threatening "to knock his block off." According to Eardley, Mrs. Newman also took a part in the loud and hard-ly permissible Sunday language.

The penitential bench of the police courtroom looked bare this morning with its four occupants, and it took but a couple of minutes to clear it entirely when the four "vagrants" chose the lonesome trall in preference to a bed and three meals a day as a compensation for building highways. Uber, William Harper, Richard Swinder and Salaba Monaba, who sounds like a sahib but looks like a Jap, formed the prisoners' list, and un-der the admonishing and suggestive eye of the arresting officer, promptly ad-mitted, when questioned, that they were vagrants all. For a minute or two Salaba developed symptoms of aphasia, until he caught the look of the officer and then he "sabed." They have until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to leave Salt Lake in the distance.

How The cows ESCAPED AT GETTYSBURG. We liad an old cow that had been in the family for years, and the morning of the first day of the fight we had put her in pasture as usual. This pas-ture was near the edge of town. Of course, we saw nothing of her during the three days of fighting. Often one of us would say: "I wonder what has be-come of the old cow?" the general opin-ion was that we had seen the last of her. On the morning of the fourth day, father, my brother, and L took a walk over the field to see if we could find any trace of her. We saw many terri-ble sights. Dead soldlers were lying around thick, dead horses, and many cow skins and heads; from this last we soon came to the conclusion that our cow had been killed for food like the rest, so we gave her up. As we were eating supper one evening a week or more after the battle, we heard a familiar bellowing in the street. Everybody sprang from the table and rushed out. There slood our dear old cow, looking as happy as it is possible for a cow to look at being home again. We petted and hugged her in our pleasure at finding her alive, and soon had her in the stable in her own familiar stall. Then we discovered that she had a builtet hole in her neck and one in her side. She was not severely hurt, however, and both builtes came out eventually. We found out later that all the cows in the particular field had got out in some way the first day of the fight and had wandered of about 10 miles from town, beyond the firing line. After the battle they all found ther way hack to town.-Albertus McCreary, in McClure's.

BANK PROTECTION.

BANK PROTECTION. Like the Bank of Engiand, the Bank of France is now guarded every night by soldiers, who do sentry duty outside the building, a watch being likewise kopt inside its precincts; but within guile recent times the officials at the French bank resorted to a very novel method of protecting their buildon. This consisted in engaging masons to wall up the doors of the vaults in the cellar with bydraulic mortar as soon as the money was deposited each day in these receptacles. The water was then turned on and kept running until the whole cellar was flooded. A burgiar would be obliged to work in a diving suft and break down a cement wall be-fore he could even begin to plunder the vaults. When the bank officials arrived next when the bank officials arrived next morning the water was drawn off, the masonry torn down and the vaults open-ed. Curiously enough, within a few months after this obsolete manner of protecting the bank's cash was done away with, burglars did actually get in-to the vaults and decamp with about $45,000 in gold coin...Strand.
