New York, Nov. 6.-After searching for 18 years for his daughter, Thomas P. Smith, of 182 La Salle, street, Chi-cago, believes he has found trace of her in two paintings by Will Grefe, a New York artist. Mr. Smith has com-municated with the artist, who is now trying to locate the model, who posed for the figures in the two paintings. Eighteen years ago, according to Mr. Smith's letter, he was divorced from his wife in San Francisco and soon after she disappeared, taking their little daughter with her, although the court had awreded the child to the father. Mr. Smith patiently traced his former wife had awarded the child to the father. Mr. Smith patiently traced his former wife and after 10 years located her in Lon-den, but the child was not with her and all the satisfaction he could get regarding her was that she had been left with relatives in Chicago. After a second search in Chicago, Mr. Smith returned to San Francisco and there recently he saw a picture by Mr. Grefe in which one of the figures looked re-markably like his wife when at the age of 20. It was the second time he had seen the face in one of Mr. Grefe's pictures and so much did the likeness impress him that he wrote to the artist asking for particulars regarding the impress him that he wrote to the artist asking for particulars regarding the model who he believes is his daughter. Mr. Grefe says he remembers the model well, but has not seen her for six months. He is making inquiries re-garding her. He says she always tried to hide her identity and admitted that the name she was using was a false one. She at times spoke of having lived in Chicago. Mr. Smith in his letter stated that while a good part of his once large fortune had been spent in his search for his daughter which had been almost contnuous, he still has enough to give her a good home.
