THE GREAT COUNTRY PAPER OF THE WEST.

is issued Mondays and Thursdays and contains all the cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Mrs. M. A. Lambert of Waterloo lost a pocket book containing $300 yesterday while en route to town.

The board of education will hold a special meeting in the city today, and before returning to their station at Cheyenne, will hold a civil service examination at Sandy.

County Attorney Westervelt has decided that it is not necessary to hold an inquest over the remains of Albert Grainger, who was killed by a street car on Saturday night.

Work is to be started up in a few days at the Erie property in Bingham. Manager Cairns expects to go out to camp within the next day or so, to get everything in readiness.

The funeral of the late Frederick William Halstead, son of William and Jane Wanless Halstead, will be held from the Twenty-sixth ward meetinghouse Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. Friends are invited.

Miss Lavelle of Oakland is visiting with Mrs. A. H. Tarbet, en route to the Catholic convent at Georgetown. Misses Ethel and Margaret Dooly of this city will accompany Miss Lavelle to Georgetown to school.

Elder Geo. M. Peck of Cannon ward, who is about to leave on a mission to the Society Islands, received a pleasant surprise in the shape of a purse from his associates of the Union, Sheet Iron & Corbin Workers union, which with pleasant note wishing him success on his mission.

Joseph Atkinson, whose clothing was found near the reservoir on Capitol hill, has not been murdered, neither did he take his own life. At present he is working at Bingham and the police have been informed of his whereabouts. But the presence of his clothing near the reservoir is still unexplained.

The free kindergarten opened yesterday, in the Thirteenth ward school house, with promise of an attendance of over 50, and Miss Vera Lane in charge. She is being assisted by several training school graduates. Only children of parents unable to pay are admitted to the school, and popular subscription will carry on the work.

The first full meeting of the Ministerial association was held yesterday, when Rev. S. E. Rydberg of the Lutheran church was chosen as president for the ensuing six months. Rev. T. W. Pinkerton of the Central Christian church, vice president, and Rev. D. A. Brown of the First Baptist church as secretary. Rev. P. A. Symphim spoke of his European trip, but no paper was read.

The Twelfth and Twenty-second light batteries are having a pretty chilly time of it in the Strawberry where it has been snowing and blowing in great shape, and the boys are hugging the Sibby stoves. Maj. Callit writes that the command will be ready to start for home next Wednesday or Thursday morning, and the boys are glad to get away. It is pay day today at Fort Douglas.

The county commissioners have made a change in the fiscal year for the insurance of licensees. The year now begins on Jan. 1, instead of July 1, as heretofore. Licensees are payable yearly or quarterly, to suit the convenience of the applicant. Where a person applies for a license in the middle of a quarter, the same will be issued for the remainder of that quarter, while formerly a person had to pay a license for the whole quarter.

Late yesterday afternoon a woman entered the police station carrying in her arms a six months old baby boy. She informed Captain Hurlbidge that the child had been left with her by its mother several weeks ago, and the understanding was that the mother, whose name was given as Mrs. E. Joseph, was to have the child and the mother on last Saturday. Capt. Hurlbidge agreed to take charge of the child and find a home for it. The genial captain did a flow of kindness that completely astounded the infant last evening. Mrs. Stickney of the Children's Home Finding association took charge of the neglected child and will keep it until the mother calls.

Invitations are out for the violin recital to be given this evening, by Miss Mildred Almy Parker, in the First Presbyterian church. Miss Parker will be assisted by Mrs. A. D. Melvin, Prof. George E. Skelton, a violin trio, consisting of Lena Broadbent, Janet Witteck and Helen Hartley, with the accompaniment of Mrs. A. D. Melvin. The little violinist is one of the most promising of Prof. Skelton's pupils, and with her mother leaves Thursday next for Paris, where they will reside for the next three years, that the young performer may study with the best instructors to be had in the world with the violin. The daughter of the late Capt. Parker of the Seventh cavalry, and a granddaughter of Thomas J. Almy of this city.

P. H. Lannan leaves tonight for San Francisco, whence he will sail with W. H. Lannan on the trip to Japan, Korea, and the interior of the continent. It is said they will pay their respects to the Grand Llama of Tibet, which with the assistance of Agnew, spend a week hobnobbing with the shah of Persia, take a day off with the emperor of Siam, call on the wild man of Borneo, participate in a tiger hunt in India, and with the shah of Persia, climb the pyramid of Cheops; pat the sphinx on the nose, take looks of the ruins of Karnak and Luxor, and do lots of other things. He expects to return to the United States and to spend only that language with the shah of Persia, and that they are to become Buddhist priests is strenuously denied.

Mr. Figman as the burgomaster was mildly funny. If nature had given him a voice he would be an artist. Miss White wore her boy's costume very charmingly, but had little else to do. Mr. Sharp as Doodle did some clever work. The cast had his hands full trying to make the chorus and the orchestra agree, but there was a good deal of see-sawing during the evening. The same will go on tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Hasty preparation, and a consequent lack of advertising, caused only a fair turnout at the Tabernacle last night on the occasion of Miss Ferrin's farewell testimonial. Had the event been deferred and properly worked up, the young lady would doubtless have been given a royal send-off. Those present, however, rewarded everything offered with hearty bursts of applause, and Miss Ferrin especially was given a royal reception. Her numbers were largely the same as those she gave at Mrs. Svenson's reception last week, but she was heard to vibrate better advantage on the great organ, and also showed that she is one of the few singers whose voice is capable of doing justice to such a building. She rendered all her songs in specially good style, perhaps the best work being "Love's Baptism" and the "Caro Nome." She only responded to one encore, though she was vigorously applauded after each number, her songs at the close which she ended with a high "C" being done in ringing style. A still higher note (probably "D" natural) taken in another song, also showed all the fine qualities of her upper register.

Mr. Pedersen unfortunately did not appear. The choir sang two numbers, "The Star Spangled Banner" at the close being especially ringing and clear. The opening number has been better done largely because many of the male voices were absent. Mr. McClellan was of course entirely out of the organ and piano. The new male quartet, composed of Messrs. Asworth, Sildaway and the Christopher brothers, shows that it has some excellent material, but it needs to work a while together yet before its effects are perfect. It was warmly endorsed for its rendition of the waltz song and responded with "While I Have You."

Social and Personal.

Miss McGrath entertained at luncheon today in honor of Mrs. Thompson of Helena, who is visiting Mrs. Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weir left yesterday for New York, where they will stay for a month.

Mrs. W. W. Rogers entertained yesterday at luncheon in honor of Mrs. E. S. Murray of Rock Springs.

Miss Nellie Austin, of the Post Democrat, is in the city today, having been spending her vacation in the city, left Sunday for her home. Miss Austin is associate editor of the Post Democrat of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Arthur H. S. Bird, who has been spending the summer in California, has returned.

Miss Joanna Sprague has returned from a month's stay in the east.

Mrs. M. H. Sowles who has been absent in the northwest for some time, returned last week, and is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dinwiddie.

Frank J. and Mabel E. Cushing have just returned from a week's outing in Weber.

Mrs. J. L. Bradbury, the wife of one of San Francisco's leading bankers is registered at the Kenyon.

Has sold a File of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for more than twenty years and it has given entire satisfaction. I can not praise it too highly. Joseph McElhinney, Linton, Iowa. You will find this remedy a good friend when troubled with a cough and it always affords quick relief and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

Take Horsford's Acid Phosphate. It relieves immediately, by stimulating the secretion of the digestive fluid. Makes the digestion natural and easy and improves general health.

THE CARNIVAL IS ON.

A Large Crowd Attended the Opening of the Show Last Night.

For more than a week, or in fact, during all the "old snap," against which the people have been obliged to struggle, the question has been asked: "How will this effect the carnival?" Everyone seemed to wish for nice, pleasant weather in order that there might be a crowd at the opening. For what is a carnival without a crowd?

Notwithstanding the wishes of everybody the weather was still unfavorable when the Southern Carnival company opened its doors at the Salt Palace last night, and it is a pleasure to note that in spite of the fact that the weather was raw and disagreeable a surprisingly large crowd gathered on hand, and it is a still greater pleasure to note that none of them went away disappointed.

What is the carnival anyway? will be asked by those who don't know. Well, it is a medley of everything. There is a menagerie with trained animals, which gives out good music, and there are side shows too numerous to mention. There are some wonderful exhibitions of glass blowing, by some of the expert blowers in the world. Madame Talbot, of instance, has received a gold medal for her remarkable work at the World's Fair.

There is a first-class band in attendance, which gives out good music, and in short, there are so many things to see that one can't get through it all in one performance. The Southern Carnival company will be here for three days and evening during the week.

Amusements.

That Salt Lake is in entire readiness for the opening of the fall theatrical season, was demonstrated last night when, with the Tabernacle open, the Carnival at the Salt Palace in full blast, and an opera on its second presentation at the theater—the house was still crammed from ceiling to pit.

"The Burgomaster," well remembered from the impression Cawthorne left in it last year, wears well. It is true one has to sit through a wilderness of dreariness in both dialogue and music in order to hear the gems the opera contains, but the gems are worth waiting for. The old favorites, such as "The Kangaroo Song" and "The Indian Chorus" and several others, went with as many encores as they did on their first presentation, perhaps rather more.

The company is big, bright and merry. It has good looks, exquisite costumes, strong numbers, fairly good actors, everything in fact but voices; but in a place like "The Burgomaster," which is more of a prolonged variety bill, than a comic opera, the lack of voices does not matter so much after all.

Mr. Figman as the burgomaster was mildly funny. If nature had given him a voice he would be an artist. Miss White wore her boy's costume very charmingly, but had little else to do. Mr. Sharp as Doodle did some clever work. The cast had his hands full trying to make the chorus and the orchestra agree, but there was a good deal of see-sawing during the evening. The same will go on tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Stomach troubles.

You can't sleep in the calmest and stillest night, if your stomach is weak, circulation poor, and digestion bad. Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens the stomach, improves the circulation, perfects digestion, and brings about that condition in which sleep is regular and refreshing.

It does not do this in a day, but it does it—long done it in thousands of cases.

Devoured by Worms.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although they feel abundantly. The entire trouble arises from indigestion, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. See at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.
