LONDON, 26.—A Madrid correspondent of the Daily News says: The Chinese envoys have been received by the King. The negotiations for a treaty relative to the importation of coolies into Cuba commenced this week, but the Spanish government will insist upon the coolies paying their own passages, and requires the Chinese to agree never to employ foreigners as consular or diplomatic representatives in the Spanish dominions. Directly the treaty is concluded the Chinese envoys will leave for Mexico and Peru, to establish commercial conventions and protect their fellow subjects there.

PANAMA, 7.—The Star and Herald says: It appears that the bombardment of Pisagua and Malendo were not acts of vandalism as the Peruvian press dispatches and the government charge. Agents sent from the Chilean ships were ordered to advise the authorities to consider their ports under blockade, and to remove, or if necessary, destroy the launches in port. When the boats were within a hundred yards or so from land, a hot fire was poured into them, killing and wounding several, which compelled the Chilean force to retire. One body of soldiers fired from an eminence immediately in the rear of the English consulate and over the building, upon which the consular flag was flying, and in opposition to the remonstrances of the English consul, who represented that the building was occupied by many women and children.

The result of the attack from behind the consulate on the boats was that when the Chileans fired upon the town first, a shell went into the building and killed several women and children. The affair at Malendo was also caused by an attack upon Chilean boats.

The Pensacola, flying the pennant of Admiral Rogers, arrived in Callais from Iquique Huanillos, bringing several American families seeking safety from Chilean aggressors.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

In the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medicinal principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all fluids are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

(a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by inhalation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing, and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as a tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at New York, N. Y. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I tried to cure every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my voice gone, and I was so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and constantly, I remember, I threw up my hands in quick consumption, and I finally believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh, and, to my surprise, I confess, I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulation of mucus in the throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of Sanford's Radical Cure. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. W. HOLBROOK.
