NEWS OF THE DAY.

--- It is said that Secretary Bris-tow has inaugurated a very wholesome, but, to the bummers, a very unpalatable system of reform in the various departments of the U. S. Treasury, and that he intends to continue it until every dishonest, corrupt or incompetent official in the service of that department in all parts of the country is discharged. A man who will set himself honestly and determinedly to effect such a work is deserving of the honor and gratitude of his power now-a-days in the various departments of the government, the Secretary will be sure to arouse powerful opposition and to make a legion of enemies. That is the fate Congress, previous federal adminispowerful opposition and to make a of all reformers. The New York Central Railroad is one of the most prosperous corporations in the country. Here after it is announced to pay its stockholders quarterly dividends of two per cent. No wonder it finds no difficulty in disposing of its bonds for the purpose of mising funds to complete its four tracks through from Albany to Buffalo.

It is an interesting, if not ediffying fact, that there are 30,000 individuals in New York city who live on other people's sampley, who are in fact, professional thieves. These, with the beggars, make a rather large dependent community for any city. These facts are said to come from the police themselves, which does not speak well for the eaforcement of the act against professional thleves.

THAT PRECIOUS CHARGE.

We have said but little respecting that strange sermon delivered to the grand jury the other week. Suppose we now indulge in a few remarks concerning it. A very peculiar production it is for a judge, very. It will be considered everywhere as a unique document, very. Brother Boreman's remarkable essay does not come up to it. As a forensic effort Brother McKean's probably will not take a place in the pages of legal classics, but as a theological production it may challenge regard as one of the curiesities of that species of literature, not not very trustworthy certainly, but something uncommon and odd, something very peculiar.

the Legislature deemed it prudent to make laws for the temporary control of certain streams and tracts of land, placing the same in the hands of the most prominent and most respected citizens, not and most respected citizens, not for their own benefit alone, but for the public good also. For instance, some of the canyons were thus temperarily granted to parties that they might make roads into them, taking toll for their enterprise and labor, so that the public might with greater facility obtain wood and timber from them, or travel through them, on roads decently made, in stead of the canyons being left in their primitive impassable condition.
