

GREAT BRITAIN'S SUPREMACY AT SEA

Field Marshal Roberts Warns
Lords Lack of Military Preparation May Lose It.

GERMANY GREAT BUGABOO

Disclaimed Hostility but Would be Folly to Shut Eyes to Possibilities.

London, Nov. 23.—Speaking in the house of lords tonight, Field Marshal Lord Roberts expressed the conviction that the lack of a military force sufficient to make hopeless the attempt of an invasion would in all probability be the cause of the loss of Great Britain's supremacy at sea. In a studied speech he pointed out the comparative ease with which Germany could land an army on the shores of England. Under present conditions England would be forced, he said, to submit to most humiliating demands. He disclaimed all hostility to or fear of Germany, but he declared that the defense of the island required immediate attention. There should be an army so strong in numbers and efficient in quality that the most formidable of foreign nations would hesitate to make a landing in England. He had ascertained that vessels capable of accommodating 200,000 men always were available in the northern parts of Germany and that as a result of the new German service law 200,000 men could be collected in the districts of the nearest port without trouble.

The great German steamship lines were in constant practice, embarking and disembarking, and as the railroads were owned by the state all preliminaries to the actual dispatch of troops could be carried out with the utmost secrecy. Germany was perfectly aware, the field marshal went on, that it would be essential for her transports to evade the British fleet, and she could easily distract attention by small raids when disembarking, proceeding undisturbed. "It would be folly," declared the lord, "to shut our eyes to these possibilities, however much we desired. Startling events in the near east have brought home to the most careless observer that nothing could save that country which is not prepared to protect itself. If Great Britain continues to neglect the most ordinary precautions, she may some day find herself in the hands of the invader. This danger is daily becoming more threatening. Within a decade Germany has become the greatest sea power that ever existed, except Great Britain, and at the present moment it is farming measure to increase that power. It is calculated that there are 80,000 Germans in employment in Great Britain. They are trained soldiers, and if a German force once landed on these shores they would be landed to help."

Lord Roberts contended it was not essential for a nation to command the sea in order to carry out an invasion. A temporary local command would suffice, and this was perfectly understood in Germany. The main temptation to invasion of Great Britain was the want of a home army, which ought to consist of a million men. Across the narrow sea were 60 million Germans, who, by perseverance, industry, sound education and military training, had made themselves a great nation. They required outlets for their commerce and population.

It was Great Britain's desire, continued Lord Roberts, to find out what way the great increase of Germany's sea power was likely to affect her, and to adopt measures necessary for her defense. The navy, under present conditions, was fettered in home waters and without military force sufficient to render any invasion hopeless.

Lord Roberts' speech caused a sensation in the house. The Earl of Creve remarked on the seriousness of such statements in the present high-strung condition of European nerves, saying he feared they might be regretted. Lord Roberts' resolution to the effect that defense of the island necessitated immediate attention of the government to make the army so strong and efficient that the most formidable nation will hesitate before making an attempt at landing, was adopted by a vote of 74 to 33.

HEADLESS TRUNK FOUND AGAINST TRUNK OF TREE

Missoula, Mont., Nov. 23.—Huddled against the trunk of a tree in a dense thicket on the banks of Hayes' creek, the decomposed body of the unknown man whose severed head was found in Hayes' gulch Sunday, was discovered this evening by Deputy Sheriff Kelley and Coroner Marsh.

The remains lay within 30 feet of the spot where the head was found, but were completely hidden by a dense growth of underbrush. There was nothing on the body to indicate the deceased's identity. Investigations directed suspicion towards a man well known to the police, but tonight this man convinced the authorities that he knew nothing of the tragedy. The corpse was found within 100 yards of a cabin formerly occupied by James Keane. A few cents in silver, a cheap watch and some tobacco were all that was found in the clothing. The body was in such a state of decomposition that it was buried where it lay. The left forearm was missing and it is believed that animals dragged it and the head away from the trunk. Indications are that the man was between 50 and 60 years of age, and that he met his fate several months ago.

SPEAKER CANNOT FOR REVISION OF TARIFF

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, placed himself on record today in favor of a revision of the tariff in accordance with the promise of the Republican party platform, and declared that so far as his voice was concerned he would see to it that the announced policy of revision would be written in the national laws as soon as possible. The words of the speaker came at the conclusion of the luncheon given to six rear admirals of the United States navy by Alexander P. Revell of Chicago, in the United League club, at which the need of more battleships and increased efficiency of the fighting forces of the republic were the principal themes of discussion.

On the tariff question Speaker Cannon said: "Any change in the revenue laws of the country of necessity is followed by a depression of business. Three years ago I followed the lead of Theodore Roosevelt, who declared that there should be no revision of the revenue laws, which means the tariff, until after the next general election. His policy was not to change existing conditions. The Republican platform on which the national contest has been won says revise the revenue laws. That revision should be with due regard to protection and against discriminatory nations. As a member of the next house of representatives, a co-ordinate branch of the government equal to the executive and the judicial, I am so far as my voice is concerned, going to see to it that the policy of the Republican party on this question is written in the national laws as promptly as possible. The laws should be written promptly so that business can adjust itself to changed conditions, for the change will of necessity bring disturbance."

HOBSON IS PEREMPTORY.

Demands That President Rescind Orders Recalling Fleet from Pacific.

Akron, O., Nov. 23.—Congressman Richmond P. Hobson, who was here today, has sent a letter to President Roosevelt demanding that he rescind his orders recalling the United States fleet from the Pacific. In his letter he scored President Roosevelt for his interference in the Japanese troubles in California, saying: "Our presidents have invariably refused to interfere in local matters, even when foreign subjects were being assassinated, but in this case, Mr. President, you did interfere where foreign subjects were being harmed. If you were justified then in calling on the people of San Francisco to sur-

SECRET SERVICE MEN CATCH COUNTERFEITERS

Chicago, Nov. 23.—That the counterfeit $5 bills which have been freely circulated in Chicago, St. Louis, Dayton, Ohio, Cleveland, and New Orleans, Minneapolis and other cities in the last two months were manufactured by an organized gang operating in Chicago, and that this gang is practically broken up, was said by the United States secret service authorities today. It has been determined by a number of arrests. Some of the men taken are said to have made confessions, declaring that $30,000 worth of the bills were made; that the plates were engraved by one of the gang and the bogus money was struck off in wholesale lots at a place on West Adams street in this city.

With Leo Brown, Edward Wheel, and Edward Wescott under arrest are Dr. W. H. Young, George Anderson and Ola Barinsson, the three latter being held in connection with circulation of the bills. A recent fire in the building in which the plant was located is said to have destroyed a large number of the bills. After a quarrel between the men the plates are declared to have been thrown into the Chicago river. Although printed upon a poor imitation of the government paper, the counterfeiters were not easily detected. Businessmen readily accepted them but bank officials at once saw the defect. Dr. Young is accused of circulating 60 of the bills in Dayton, Ohio. Four of the men and the woman were held to the federal grand jury in bonds of $5,000 each. Capt. Porter of the secret service bureau said: "These spurious bills made their appearance about election day and have since given us a lot of trouble. I suppose about $50,000 was made, but not all of it circulated. Brown made a full confession, saying he was with Wescott when the plates were thrown into the river."

ASQUITH EXPLAINS WHAT TWO POWER STANDARD IS

London, Nov. 23.—Since Premier Asquith nailed the formula of the two power standard of naval strength for Great Britain to the radical naval platform some of his adherents have intimated that the United States, one of the three strongest powers, was excluded from these calculations.

Author Lee, Conservative, questioned the premier on this matter in the house this afternoon and he obtained the definite statement that by the words "two next strongest powers" the premier meant to include all nations, "wherever situated."

Mr. Asquith added that the dominating consideration was that Great Britain should maintain her superiority at sea and, as frequently explained, the government regarded the two power standard as a workable formula to that end.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Two Italian Scientists Solve Problem Of Independent Communications.

Paris, Nov. 23.—Bellini and Tosi, two Italian scientists, who with the sanction of the French government have been conducting experiments in wireless telegraphy for the past 18 months on the coast of Normandy, announce that they have solved the problem of independent wireless communication.

This result, they say, has been secured by means of two rectangular aerials fixed at right angles and so attached to the apparatus as to permit the transmission of unequal currents. By a simple law of mechanics these two electromagnetic forces unite and produce an electromagnetic field and the hertzian waves are projected in a single vertical plane which can be alternated instantly by means of the Bohne device.

The inventors say they have picked up messages at will from every English wireless station and from ships at sea and that they have transmitted messages from Tourville to Havre and other points without the waves being perceptible at other stations lying just off the line of transmission.

PRESBYTERIANS HAVE NO USE FOR CATHOLICS

New York, Nov. 23.—In a resolution adopted today the Presbyterian Ministers' association of this city expressed disagreement with President Roosevelt's statement in a recent letter that refusal to vote for a candidate for high office because he is a Roman Catholic is "narrow, unwarranted bigotry."

The ministers endorsed the letter sent recently by the New York Lutheran ministers to the president, dissenting from his view of the matter.

JUDGE'S COMMENT ON CARMACK KILLING CASE

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 23.—In charging the grand jury the United States court here today, Judge John E. McCall, after recounting the killing at Reelfoot Lake recently of Capt. Quentin Rankin by a band of night riders and the shooting to death of former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack at Nashville, said:

"I am inclined to think that we find this state of affairs existing because our citizenship has taken so little interest in the enforcement of our criminal laws. Both of these offenses are wholly without the jurisdiction of this court, yet as a citizen of Tennessee charged with the grave responsibility of administering the law in one of the courts of our dual government I feel I may properly refer to these
