

CACHE SCHOOLS CONSOLIDATED

County is Formed Into One District With Five Subdivisions And Board Members.

GOES INTO EFFECT AT ONCE

All the 27 Common Schools of the County Outside Logan City on An Equal Footing.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, March 24.—The long controversy is now ended, and school consolidation for Cache county is now an accomplished fact. All the common schools of the county, outside Logan city, 27 in number, are now on an equal footing, sharing alike in the benefits of advanced educational methods and in the advantages offered by the equalizing of the finances.

At a special meeting the county commissioners held yesterday, Supt. of Schools J. L. McCreey submitted the following recommendation:

To the Board of County Commissioners: "I hereby recommend that the present school districts of Cache county be abolished, and the county outside of Logan city be constituted into one school district to be known as the Cache county school district."

The board passed a resolution embodying the recommendations of the county superintendent, the same to go into effect at once.

The county is divided into five divisions and a member of the school board appointed for each division. The subdivisions and members are as follows:

Division No. 1—Aron, Paradise, Hyrum and Millville, with Samuel Oldham of Paradise as representative.
No. 2—College, Mt. Sterling, Providence and Wellsburg; Peter M. Mainguard of Wellsburg.
No. 3—Greenview, Hyde Park and Smithfield; Stephen Thurston of Hyde Park.
No. 4—Lewiston, Mountain Home, Coveville, Richmond and Wheeler; Charles Z. Harris of Richmond.
No. 5—Clarkston, Mendon, Newton, Petersburg and Trenton; Myron W. Butler of Trenton.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—Every seat in the parquet and first circle of the theater last night represented a dollar, whether it was occupied or not, and there was very little vacant space in any part of the house. The great and sure cure for rheumatism, cuts, burns, bruises, scalds—and all aches and pains. Sold by Z. C. M. B. Drug Dept., 112-114 Main Street.

First mention, undoubtedly, ought to go to Mrs. Davis, who in spite of a cold, showed decided ability in the part of the heroine. Next was Mr. Sibley, whose rendition of the tramp was good throughout. Later he sang, "The Forsy" in white face, and was heartily applauded for a very sweet rendition. Mrs. F. S. Richards returned on Sunday from Los Angeles where she has been spending several weeks. Mr. Richards is still in California.

Mrs. C. R. Pearall entertained her card club yesterday.

The engagement of Miss Lella Hard and William D. Howe is announced, the marriage to take place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Alex. Ebbart, on April 7. Miss Hard is the head nurse at the L. D. S. hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Snow returned yesterday from Ocean Park.

Mrs. Jacob Spencer is spending a few days with relatives in Ogden.

The Seekers' club meets this afternoon with Mrs. Frank Rummel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henrotin who have made their home in South Africa have returned to their home in South Africa.

The audience must have represented a handsome sum, and it will all go to the charity fund of the Elks' club. Tonight witnesses the final performance and the advance sale assures another big turnout. The entertainment is given under the direction of Thomas P. Getz, of New York, Don M. Clarke being his producer. W. P. Cooper was stage manager, Bert Raybold assistant, and E. R. Wheeler was the chairman of the Elks' committee of arrangements.

Orpheum—"Cliff Gordon, the German Politician," on a vaudeville program, conjures up visions of wooden shoes, pretzels and hirsute trimmings. At least that is what the Orpheum audience anticipated. What they received was another story. Gordon breaks away from the old time and leaves his auditors exhausted with laughter when he retires. Whether all were in a good humor or not does not matter, the fact remains that no artist who has appeared in vaudeville here has received the applause from both floors that was accorded Gordon at the close of his run. Of the other acts on the bill it can be said that taken as a whole they are the best seen at the Orpheum for several weeks. The headliner Alice Norton, certainly has a novelty in the form of a twentieth century alchemist's laboratory and she does the startling experiments with water, ice and chemicals.

orchestra some distinctly catchy selections well played.

Grand—"Melmoth, The Man Mon-Rey" is the bill for the week at the Grand, and the piece, next perhaps to "Mr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," gives Mr. Lorch better opportunity than any he has essayed here. In the last named play he has few, if any equals on the American stage, and in the offering of last night he came almost up to his rendition of Stevenson's play. The large audience present Monday evening was a most enthusiastic one, and the merits of the play, from the popular star to the last member, merited the recognition given. The story is exciting from beginning to end and furnished interest for all parts of the house. Mr. Lorch was cheered to the echo every time he appeared, and the evolutions from one side of the gap caused by the "missing link" to the other was wonderful. Miss Grace Sainbridge had the leading feminine role and shared honors with Mr. Lorch, the others lending good support as the importance of the parts required. The audience thus well promises to be a record-breaker for this season of the year.

Lyrics—Oh Yvette, explained on the program as a free adaptation from the comic opera "Olette" began a week's run at the Lyric last evening and pleased mightily, in fact the applause would indicate the patrons of the house like it better than anything the Lyric company has done so far. It is different from "Tootsy Weezy" which told of fun at Coney Island inasmuch as "Oh Yvette" abounds with duets, couplets, songs, sailors and winsome girls. The offering has some of the songs and dances begin to follow one after another. The scenery and costumes are elaborate and tasty. Some of the songs were "We're Sailors Good and True," by the girls; "I Love the Military," by Yvette; "At Night When I Lay Dreaming," "I'm a Jolly Lassy Tar," by Malvina; "What's This Noise," "Away," Honey Boy; "Ring the Marriage Bells," all by the company and a number of other songs, duets and quartets. The bill is simply worth while. A matinee is on for tomorrow. Next week sees "The Telephone Exchange."

Tomorrow evening will see "A Night of Irish Melody" at the Salt Lake Theater for the benefit of the Kearns St. Ann's orphanage. The entertainment is to be a most elaborate one as over 200 artists will participate. The seat sale has been heavy as music-lovers are assured of an evening of splendid entertainment, besides the opportunity to contribute to a deserving cause. Miss Gleason has brought the little army of tots under her training through the long, hard road of practicing and ceaseless rehearsing until a smooth, finished program is certain.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. Elwood Brown was hostess this afternoon at an informal Kensington in the way of a rainbow party, the rainbow idea being carried out in decorations, refreshments and a sewing contest. In which a square of cloth was filled in with pieces of silk in the regular rainbow order, the prize going to the guest whose arrangement corresponded to the true order of the rainbow colors. The rooms were decorated in streamers in the various rainbow shades, and all other details were in accord. Intimate friends assisted the hostess in the planning and about 15 guests were present.

ALL ABOUT EVERYTHING.

"Big Four" Executive Discusses Big Problems and Utters Opinions.

M. E. Ingalls, chairman of the board of directors of the "Big 4," passed through this city yesterday. He is traveling in his private car "400." He gave forth the following opinions during a few hours' stay here:

"Business east is adjusting itself slowly. The panic was short-lived but its effects must be downed slowly. We are a mercantile people; prosperity follows depression and depression, prosperity. This was a dose of the second named."

"The president was not to blame; his determination to know all about corporate methods may have been a contributory cause."

"Railroads never save money; they spend what they earn in new ventures, so when business is slack they have to cut and slash."

"I believe the strike on the Rio Grande a local affair and not the initiative in a fight between capital and labor. Railroads have no heart in wages and labor questions, but it is to their own interest to keep wages at a fair figure."

"Harriman is a great man, but he lacks tact; he and the president are quarreling and the quarrel is largely due to politics."

"Taft and Bryan are the strongest presidential candidate possibilities. Taft can beat Hughes and Bryan can beat Hughes."

Mr. Ingalls continued east last evening, after spending the day with D. E. Hurley, general passenger agent of the O. S. L.

CHORUS FROM DENVER.

John James Returns from Successful Trip to Colorado.

John James returned last evening from Denver, where he went in the interest of the coming elksdod. Mr. James has secured a chorus of 125 voices from that city, with a partial promise that the Apollo club of 60 voices will participate. Organist Henry Housley of St. John's cathedral will accompany the chorists. It is expected that 200 people in all will attend from the Colorado capital. Mr. James says politics is the principal theme of conversation there. The belief is that Bryan will be the Democratic nominee, and if Taft is not nominated on the first ballot by the Republican convention, Hughes will secure the nomination.

NEW HOMESTEAD RULES.

New rules for homestead commutation proof have been received by the local land office. These follow:

"Commutation proof offered under a homestead entry made on or after Nov. 1, 1907, will be rejected unless it be shown thereby that the entryman has, in good faith, actually resided upon and cultivated the land embraced in such entry for the full period of at least 14 months."

"Where such commutation proof is offered under an entry made prior to Nov. 1, 1907, if it be satisfactorily shown thereby that the entryman had, in good faith, established actual residence on the land within six months from the date of his entry, he may be credited with constructive residence from date of entry; provided that it be also shown that such residence was, in good faith, maintained for such period as, when added to the period of constructive residence herein recognized, equals the full period of 14 months' residence required by the homestead laws; and

"3. In no case can commutation proof be accepted when it fails to show that the required residence and cultivation continued to the date on which application for notice of intention to make such proof was filed."

Diet vs. Cosmetics.

Good Food Clears the Complexion.

The best "Beauty Doctor" in the world is a good, pure food. Rich, greasy, or poorly cooked foods will ruin the finest complexion and cosmetics and treatments she may give it will only cover up, not remove the blemishes.

The treatment must come from the inside, for the pores of the skin must have the proper food to be healthy.

A lady living in the West of London, England, writes as follows:

"Grape-Nuts food has done me a world of good. Some years ago I fell a victim to a serious illness, which did great damage to my constitution. I gave up hope of ever recovering my natural good health until last winter, when tempted to try Grape-Nuts more from a liking for that kind of food than from any hope of it doing me good."

"I found to my surprise after trial of a week or two that I was getting quite plump, my voice much stronger, and my complexion was becoming beautifully clear. In fact, since eating Grape-Nuts my friends say I look 10 years younger, and I believe them, as my glass tells me it is true."

DAVIS SHOE CO.

A NEVADA WILDCATTER

Papers of His Home State Now Contest for Honor of Having Exposed Former Congressman.

Nevada papers are vying with each other these days for the honor of having been first to expose C. D. Van Duzer, formerly congressman from Nevada, and whose present whereabouts the Nevada press would like to know.

According to the Tonopah Sun it was the first to properly size up Van Duzer and expose him, and according to the Elko Free Press it wants in on the same honor.

Comment on Van Duzer and his wildcatter, as given by both papers, follows:

A fraud order is reported to have been issued by the postal department against Congressman C. D. Van Duzer. It is stated by some local victims of the mining stock bunco man that some time inside the past month the department issued the order.

Since his retirement from Congress he has been especially active in the sale of worthless mining stock. A few months ago he was reported to have gone into the newspaper business by issuing a mining publication at Chicago. Later he was heard from in Pennsylvania. His whereabouts have been a problem for over two years and for his last term as congressman in fact when he did not dare show up at Washington for fear of arrest for the sale of fraudulent mining stock and for obtaining money in various ways by false pretenses.

During his first term at Washington Van Duzer made his famous speech in the house against wildcat mining. It now transpires, through information received by the Sun, that he had a purpose in making that speech. It had the effect of leading the government employees generally to believe that he was "on the square," and through being congressman they thought he was on the inside in a mining way in Nevada. Connecting the two suppositions many employees of the government placed their savings in his hands and that was the last of them.

It was in April, 1904, that he made the anti-wildcat speech. That was a few weeks before the first appearance of the Tonopah Sun which exposed his doings in connection with the New England-Tonopah wildcat and which exposed him for no-selection. Eastern people did not have the advantage of that information and the lack of it cost them and is still costing them a great deal of hard-earned money.—Tonopah Sun.

The Sun is a little bit off in its claim that it made the first exposure of Van Duzer's wildcatter. The Free Press, through private advices received from Washington, first told how he was prostituting his office. As a result of our exposure Van filled the Reno papers with sensational communications, insisting that he had been wronged and threatening to bring suit against this paper for $50,000. We called his bluff, and knowing that we had him in the snowdrift, we left the state and have not since made Nevada his home.—Elko Free Press.

MUST SPEED DOWN.

Chief Pitt Instructs Patrolmen to Strictly Enforce the Ordinance.

Chief of Police Tom D. Pitt last night issued positive and emphatic orders to the men under him to enforce the speed ordinance without fear or favor. He said he wanted the patrolmen to arrest any driver who crosses an intersection at a rate of speed greater than four miles an hour. He also told the officers to arrest drivers of vehicles who drive on the wrong side of the street.

DID NOT WANT TO BE DEAD

Suit to Have Mother So Declared Brings About Happy Reunion of Woman and Children.

Because Mrs. Lillian Johnson and William Hunt of Sugar House ward sought to have a mother they had not heard of for 15 years declared by the court to be legally dead, they now have their mother restored to them, and this afternoon she is in conference with her daughter on the business matters that were sought to be cleared up through the legal declaration of her death.

Mrs. Hunt, mother of the two children who knew not where she was, did not have to come far to find her children. She had known how they progressed, and all about them for the entire time during which they had been ignorant, and when she finally made her identity known she proved to be almost a near neighbor.

Mrs. Johnson and William Hunt are children of Lawrence and Alida Hunt who, according to the petition they filed through their attorney, T. Sanford, were divorced on May 1, 1890. The court awarded Mrs. Hunt as alimony a third interest in a 20 acre farm belonging to her husband and two rooms in the homestead on the farm, $500 in cash to be paid her in lieu of this interest, should she leave her home.

Mrs. Hunt continued to live on the homestead only a short time, then she disappeared and was heard of in 1892 in Nampa, since which time her children have had no trace of her.

Yesterday afternoon, after the papers had contained the story of the children seeking to have their mother declared legally dead she put on her wraps at her home at 819 East Tenth South street, and journeyed a few country blocks farther out to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Johnson, who lives at the upper end of Twelfth South street. She told her daughter that she had never tried to use the property because she wanted it as an inheritance for her children, and had purposely left it to them so that they might divide it between them. She had gone forth upon the world to depend on her own resources, and after working for a short time had married again, and was now happy with her husband, A. N. Shaw, in a neat little home. Mrs. Johnson, who had not seen her mother since she was a little girl, was overjoyed at being reunited with her again after long having considered her to be dead.

The divorced husband, Lawrence Hunt, is still alive and lives at Twenty-third East and Twelfth South street.
