

RUSSIA MAKES A CLEVER MOVE.

She Withdraws the Manchurian Agreement.

HER DIPLOMATIC SUCCESS

For Her Matters Remain in Status Quo—England Overrules the Seemingly Set-Back.

New York, April 6.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Paris says:

According to information that reached Paris from a source regarded as of unquestionable authority, Russia has withdrawn the proposed Manchurian treaty with China. This step is attributed to the personal instigation of Emperor Nicholas, and is accepted as evidence of his determination to avoid at the present juncture any conflict with Japan. Coupled with this news comes the statement that Russia does not deem it expedient to withdraw any of her troops now in Manchuria, and in fact to maintain the status quo there until a Chinese government can be established at Peking strong and stable enough to inspire Russian confidence for the future.

The cautious and unexpected withdrawal of the proposed Manchurian agreement, until now so aggressively urged upon China, is regarded as an exceedingly clever move on the part of Russia because that treaty which could only be sprung from China by renewed diplomatic pressure, would, after all, only secure an empty international sanction of the position which Russia already holds in Manchuria, and the signing of the treaty might render war with Japan inevitable. The conviction prevails in diplomatic circles here that the international peace negotiations with China will be greatly facilitated by Russia's withdrawal of the convention, which by postponing the settlement of the Manchurian difficulty reduces it to an affair of local interest. At the same time the present Russian occupation of Manchuria is regarded here, rightly or wrongly, as a parallel case to the British occupation of Egypt—as de facto possession that will approach permanency as each year passes.

ENGLAND OVERRULES BEAR.

New York, April 6.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says:

The importance of the blow dealt Russian prestige through the rejection of the Manchurian agreement is probably over-rated by the English press. Earl J. has been set aside, and the Yangtze viceroys have easily convinced the Manchurian dynasty that its ancestral provinces ought not to be surrendered but the result has been accomplished without pressure from the powers, and Russian diplomacy has not received anything but a temporary check. The trees in Manchuria were shaken before the apices are ripe enough to fall inside the Russian wall. There are no international safeguards against another steady approach when the fruit is ripe. If the power of the central viceroys could be increased by the action of Japan and other governments there might be a permanent veto upon Russian aggression, but there is no suggestion from Berlin that this policy is likely to be adopted.

Several journals here revive the proposal for the removal of the seat of government from Peking to the Yangtze valley where the emperor could be brought under British influence and rescued from Russian intrigue. The suggestion is promptly condemned as impracticable among the officials, and the optimists are warned that the quickest and most effective method of impairing the prestige of the patriotic viceroys like Liu Kun-yi and Chang Ching Tung, is to take up their cause and openly and expose them to the suspicion of being instruments of Great Britain or of the other powers. It is urged upon the viceroys that the situation which they have created for themselves must not be hailed as allies either here or in Washington, or be embarrassed by superfluous foreign gratitude and patronage. Still less must there be premature talk about the removal of the capital for the Manchurian dynasty.

The capital for the Manchurian dynasty will not abandon Peking, and the viceroys depend upon their independence of all foreign influences. The viceroys have prevented the premature breaking of the concert and facilitated negotiations respecting the withdrawal of foreign troops. When these matters have been settled the viceroys plan for the permanent control of Manchuria will be worked out at Peking. The viceroys have prevented the ratification of the agreement, but they have not brought about the withdrawal of Russian troops from Manchuria. Probably the number of Chinese in occupation of the province will be considerably increased in the next three months.

A pessimistic view is taken by the newspapers here of the Russian official account of recent negotiations with China in regard to Manchuria. The statement is it is argued, not tend to convince the powers of the bona fide of the Russian government. At the same time it is admitted that if the cause of the viceroys is not settled in the present crisis, but will also restate Russia in the good opinion of the world.

TO ESCAPE FROM TRUSTS.

Suggested that Europe May Enter a Tariff Consolidation.

London, April 6.—The Daily Mail, in the course of an extended article on the American steel trust, says it can not escape for the United States from the oppression of trusts except by free trade, and declares that J. Pierpont Morgan has appropriated $250,000,000 to crush American independent concerns.

The operations of the trust, says the Daily Mail, "may induce general tariff consolidation by Europe and may certainly consolidate the British steel and iron trades, which will give the American trust a hard fight here."

A Man Thrown Into the Flames.

Vienna, April 5.—At Zerkowitz, Monrovia, John Cassel, falsely accused of setting fire to his own house, was thrown into the flames, and a crowd of onlookers, who were gathered there, were shocked by the sight of a man being burned, and after a desperate struggle. Twenty arrests have been made.

BLACKMAILER INDICTED.

The Man Who Tried to Extort Money from Senator Kearns.

Omaha, Neb., April 5.—Ernest J. Wolter, who was recently taken into custody by the federal authorities charged with using the mails to defraud, in an alleged attempt to blackmail United States Senator Kearns.

TO-DAY THERE IS LIGHT FOR YOU! TO-MORROW MAY BE DARKNESS.

Warner's Safe Cure

For a Quarter of a Century

A BEACON LIGHT TO HEALTH.

Judge T. A. McMahon, of Chicago, writes: "Fourteen years' liver complaint seriously interfered with my official duties. I was doled with pills and powders until I lost heart and courage. At 7-year-old I tried Warner's safe cure. I do not wonder everybody speaks well of it. Eight bottles cleaned me from head to foot, and I am a well man."

Dr. C. E. P. Burchmore, 875 Huntington Avenue, Boston, writes: "Whenever opportunity presents, I prescribe Warner's Safe Cure, and I have yet to see a patient dissatisfied with the results where a disease of the kidneys or genito-organs existed."

Henry Hill, Cashier Standard Oil Co., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I suffered with kidney and liver trouble for eight months. It upset my entire system and made me unfit for work. The doctors finally advised me to take Warner's safe cure. Within one week after beginning its use, the burning sensation partially disappeared. In two weeks more I considered myself cured, and I have been in perfect health ever since."

Could there be stronger testimony or from more reputable men? Do not longer delay, but begin today the use of Warner's Safe Cure, and thus secure the greatest of all blessings—good health.

Send your name and address to WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and receive by return post a free sample of Warner's safe cure.

was today indicted by the federal grand jury, Chief Inspector Sinclair of Denver and the postmaster at Rogers, Neb., gave the testimony on which Wolters was indicted. Inspector Sinclair says he expects Wolters will plead guilty.

FRANCE AND VENEZUELA.

Diplomatic Relations Will Be Resumed Between Them.

Paris, April 5.—Senor de Castro, special envoy of the Venezuelan government, left Paris tonight after having drawn up with M. Delcasse, the minister of foreign affairs, a protocol which has been approved by the French government, and which will serve as a basis for the resumption of diplomatic relations between France and Venezuela.

THE DANISH WEST INDIES.

The Question of Their Sale Has Now Reached a Serious Point.

Attitude of United States Has Become Almost Menacing, but Europe Supports Denmark.

London, April 6.—"It seems that the question of the sale of the Danish West Indies has reached a serious point," says the Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail. "Washington is understood to be inclined to take umbrage at Denmark's hesitation to accept the American offer. The attitude of the United States has become almost menacing, but Denmark has the moral support of the European powers."

Col. Plummer Advances.

London, April 6.—Lord Kitchener reports as follows to the war office: "Col. Plummer has advanced twenty miles beyond Nyctrom, unopposed on the way, toward Petersburg."

According to the Pretoria correspondent of the Daily Telegraph the Boers have shifted their seat of government from Petersburg to a point thirty-five miles northeast.

GEN. CORBIN ON FUNSTON.

Adj. Gen. Has a Mean Opinion of the Kansan and His Exploit.

Says He is Making Lieutenants Out of Better Material Than Funston Every Day.

Wichita, Kan., March 5.—The Eagle tomorrow will publish an extended interview with Congressman Chester L. Long of Kansas, relative to the appointment of Frederick Funston to a brigadier generalship in the regular army. Mr. Long has a verified interview for the Associated Press.

"When I read of Gen. Funston's heroic deed," says Mr. Long, "I went straight to Gen. Corbin's office and said: 'Well, general, you see what Gen. Funston has done.'"

"I have seen it," replied Corbin, not too pleasantly. "Well, I said, 'I think that you ought to make Funston a brigadier general in the regulars.'"

"No," said Corbin, "he has done nothing to warrant that."

"But," I insisted, "it seems to me that he has done a very daring thing; that he has almost concluded the war."

"Mr. Long," said Corbin, "I am making lieutenants out of better stuff than Funston every day. Funston is a boss scout—that's all."

"We want him made a brigadier general," I insisted.

"Mr. Long," said Corbin, "the army has become a great school; we want teachers for brigadier generals; we want men who can teach and not those who can be taught."

"But the President may want to appoint him," I said.

"The President can do so, of course," said Gen. Corbin, but it was plain to be seen that he did not want to.

SCHOOLS TO HAVE THE FAIR GROUNDS

Exposition Park Will Come Into Hands of School Board.

FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL SITE

City Council Will Not Sell Eighth Ward Property to the Hebrew Congregation Montefiore.

Messrs. Sears, White and McDonald, representing the D. A. & M. society, were present at a committee meeting of the City Council last night, when items for the purchase of the Tenth ward square were arranged, which it is believed will be satisfactory both to the society and the city. Instead of the price—$20,000—being paid in four annual installments, the new proposal is to pay $5,000 down, and $15,000 on December 15th, after the taxes come in, with six per cent interest on the deferred payment. J. Fred Branting attended the meeting on behalf of the board of education, to get a proposal for a sale price of the square to the board of education as a site for a high school, and it was decided to recommend that the board be given an option of thirty days to purchase the $50,000.

The offer of the Hebrew congregation Montefiore to purchase the city's lot on east Fourth South, adjoining the Tenth ward meeting house, for $2,500, will be unfavorably reported by the committee on public grounds.

It will also report adversely on George Busby's offer to sell 74 acres of land and a spring northeast of the cemetery for $3,000.

Consideration of the petition of the Salt Lake City Railroad company to utilize the abandoned Rio Grande Western roadbed and track on Ninth South street, from Seventh to Eleventh East, went over to Monday week.

The city recorder was instructed by the committee on streets to inform Mrs. Eliza M. Daly and others, who asked for the paving of South Temple, from State to B streets, that the city could not assume the cost of the paving.

It was also reported that the city had a debt limit for everything but water sewers and light, and if the paving were done, the abutting property had to be assessed to pay for it.

That committee will also recommend that $1,000 be appropriated for repairing east First South street, and that a brick conduit to cost $1,100 be built for the irrigation canal at First South and Fifth East streets.

The city council on municipal laws agreed to recommend upon a bill for an ordinance forbidding the placing of signs protruding more than twenty-four inches from the fronts of buildings, and at a height of less than eight feet from the sidewalk, and that the same height apply to awnings, also prohibiting the scattering of paper or hand bills on sidewalks within the paved districts, under a penalty of a fine of $50 or imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or both.

GRAZING ON RESERVES.

Rules and Regulations Just Issued Nearly the Same as Last Year.

The rules and regulations for grazing sheep on forest reserves in the West have been issued by Secretary Hitchcock of the interior department. The rules are the same as last year, with a few slight modifications. Sheep will go in in July and remain until late in September.

In the Big Horn reserve in Wyoming, 125,000 sheep will be allowed within the limits of the reserve south of the thirteenth standard parallel, and 25,000 north of that line.

Permittees of the reserve to stockmen to graze their sheep in the Lewis and Clarke reservation in Idaho, because it was overcrowded last year and the sheep injured the forest growth.

The secretary also issued a permit to graze in the Uintah forest reserve, Utah, from July 1 to October 1, 1901.

Persons who desire to graze sheep in these "open parks" must make application, as their flocks will not be permitted to enter the reserve until permits are issued by the honorable secretary of the interior.—Denver Record-Stockman.

RECORD-KEEPING.

Value of It Discussed at Priesthood Meeting.

There was a fair representation of the general Priesthood of the Stake which convened in the Assembly Hall last night. President Angus M. Cannon presided. The meeting commenced by singing "Come all ye sons of Zion," etc., and the opening prayer was offered by Elder Wm. Edgington, after which meeting continued by singing the hymn, "Our God We praise to Thee."

A circular, issued by a committee appointed by the First Presidency of the Church, was read by Counselor Jos. E. Taylor, bearing on the importance of record-keeping throughout the Church.

Elder Penrose was requested to make a few remarks relative to the circular, and said he thought we could all appreciate the necessity of keeping proper records. It is expected that Bishops in the respective wards will make it their business to see that the instructions contained in the circular are carried out, so far as they relate to the wards.

The various clerks and secretaries in the different wards should be instructed how to keep proper and complete records which should be under the inspection of the Bishops.

President Angus M. Cannon next arose and endorsed what had been said by Elder Penrose, and said it was hoped that the Bishops would have their records examined and kept in a creditable form.

Announcement was made that there would be a special meeting of the Mutual Improvement Association in the Assembly Hall two weeks from last night, the 25th inst.

The meeting was then adjourned in order to give the members an opportunity of attending the concert in the Tabernacle, and after singing the Doxology, benediction was pronounced by Elder Richard R. Lyman.

MISSIONARY REUNIONS.

Elders of the California Mission and Florida Conference Have Love Feast.

Two events that were marked as among the pleasantest in the lives of those who participated in them were the reunions held yesterday afternoon and evening of the Elders who have labored in the California mission, and those who were formerly in the Florida conference. The California Elders met in the afternoon, and the gathering was presided over by Elder H. S. Tanner, the president of the association, who was the second president of the mission. There were those present who had not met for years, and a genuine love feast was indulged in. All of the happiness of going over the associations of former days was experienced to the fullest extent. Addresses were made by Nathan Tanner, H. S. Tanner, John Dalton, and E. H. Nye, who is now presiding over the California mission. Other pleasant features were three solos by little 7-year-old Catherine McClelland, two solos by Apostle Heber J. Grant, a solo by Miss Josie Morris, and recitations by Miss Lulu Trainor of Lehi, Miss Clara Sidney of Brigham City, and Willard Scovort of Ogden. The reunion terminated with refreshments and warm handshaking when an adjournment was taken for one day.

The Florida Elders met in the Assembly room of the Latter-day Saints' College in the evening. There were over fifty people present, including the wives and friends of the missionaries. Elder Joseph A. West, the father of the Florida conference, presided, and the gathering was a source of untold delight. The former mutual acquaintances were given by Elder William Summerhays, President Ben E. Rich of the Southern States mission, L. R. Robinson, P. M. Jensen, Mack Redding, a native of Florida, Samuel Isaacs, John Z. Brown and David H. Elton. Miss Edie Hardy rendered two selections on the piano, and Miss White recited very cleverly. The boys will meet again at the home of Joseph A. West on Second West street, Sunday evening.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS.

TENTH WARD.

The carnival that has been in progress in the Tenth ward for the past three days, and which was closed last night, was one of the most creditable and profitable ward enterprises of the kind during the season. The carnival closed with a grand character ball. The voting contest made the disclosure that Tom Busby, the deputy sheriff, had been determined the most popular man in the ward by a large majority of the voters.

Miss Annie Reece was given the honor of dancing more than twenty-four times with the most popular lady, Mrs. Gallacher, who represented herself to be an Indian chief, was awarded the prize for the best sustained male character. Miss Crabtree was given the prize for the best sustained female character. She impersonated a flower girl.

HEART TREATMENT FREE

To Each Reader, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. D., the Chicago Heart Specialist, Will Send $2.50 Worth of His New Individual Treatment Free.

That Dr. Miles is one of the most successful and skillful of specialists is proven by hundreds of testimonials from well known people. One patient cured after failure of eleven Grand Rapids physicians, two after having been given up by six or seven Chicago physicians, another after the failure of the leading doctors in New York City, Philadelphia and Chicago failed.

A thousand highly flattering testimonials as to Dr. Miles' character and success will find readers. Physicians, such as Mayors, Farmers, etc., will be very interested. For years an extensive correspondence has been maintained with his latest patients. Every State, Territory, Canada, and Mexico, as well as South America, Africa, and New Zealand, are represented among his thousands of patients.

Write Prof. J. S. Jewell, M. D., address Dr. Miles, 131 West Madison street, Chicago, Ill., for a free copy of his new book, "Practical Results." Prof. J. S. Jewell, M. D., President of Rush Medical College, wrote in 1900: "Dr. Miles has taken two courses of his private instruction in diseases of the heart. He is a most successful physician in a field which requires the best quality of heart and nerve." Col. A. M. Tucker, late General Manager of N. O. & W. V. system of railways, says: "Dr. Miles' success as a physician has been phenomenal."

When an experienced physician offers to prescribe free treatment for disease of the heart, nerves, stomach, or dropsy, it is conclusive evidence that he has great faith in his skill. And when hundreds of prominent men and women testify to the success of his skill and the superiority of his New Individual Treatment, his liberality is certainly worthy of serious consideration.

The Doctor's new system of treatment is thoroughly scientific and immensely superior to the ordinary methods.

As all afflicted readers may have $2.50 worth of treatment especially prescribed for each case, free, with full directions, we would advise them to send for a Copy-righted Examination Chart at once. Address Dr. Franklin Miles, 131 to 139 State Street, Chicago.

HEAD OF BUREAU OF PUBLIC PRINTING

Chas. C. Whitney Uses Paine's Celery Compound Whenever He Is "Run Down."

Chas. C. Whitney has been at the head of the Bureau of Public Printing, State of Minnesota, for many years. He is also Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee.

His duties in these two capacities are at times so exacting that he finds himself worn out and in a low nervous condition. At all such times he confidently turns to Paine's celery compound, and has never been disappointed.

He says of this wonderful remedy:

"St. Paul, Feb. 16, 1901.

"Dear Sirs—I have been familiar with the merits of Paine's celery compound for a number of years, and have used it when seriously run down from overwork, both mentally and physically. But its good qualities never appealed to me so forcibly as during the last campaign. The hard work devolving upon me as Secretary of the State Central Committee, affected my nerves greatly and made it difficult for me to sleep. Paine's celery compound immediately restored the tone to my nervous system and enabled me to secure refreshing sleep."

"It benefited me at once, and I do not hesitate to recommend it to my friends who find themselves in the same nervous condition."

"Very truly yours,

"Chas. C. Whitney."

Paine's celery compound marks a tremendous stride in the cure of disease. No other remedy has ever succeeded in driving out the underlying causes of nervous and organic troubles so surely and rapidly. No remedy represents so comprehensive a knowledge of nervous exhaustion and the best means for its alleviation.

Nerve tension is disguised under a good many symptoms that lead thoughtless persons to apply some useless local remedy when the only lasting relief will come from purified blood, kidneys aroused to work, stomach secreting abundance of digestive juices and a toned-up state of the nerves.

For all this there is no need of fustian or proof as to the value of Paine's celery compound. It can be furnished by the readers' own neighbors if one will take the pains to make inquiries.

The best test of the worth of Paine's celery compound is to use it yourself.
