CONCRETE BRIDGE FOR OGDEN RIVER

Canyon Traffic Light Because of Damage Done by Spring Floods.

LOCAL POSTAL CLERKS OUT.

The Southern Pacific Suffers Immense Losses at the Hands of Pilferers.

Special Correspondence.

Ogden, July 12.—The city council has decided to erect as soon as possible a temporary bridge over the old channel of the Ogden River just as quickly as Wheelwright Brothers can remove the old bridge, which was practically destroyed by the floods during the high waters last spring. The council has let a contract for the building of a new concrete bridge over the new channel of the river at a point about a quarter of a mile west of the old bridge.

The travel to Ogden canyon this summer has been unusual light because of the driveway direct to the canyon being entirely out of repair over the river, therefore the work on the bridges will be appreciated not only by the owners of the canyon resorts, but the public in general.

POSTAL CLERKS OUT.

Local Men Forced Out to Give Place To Importations.

Ogden, July 12.—A radical change in the mail clerks running west out of Ogden over the line of the Southern Pacific has been made, which has caused no little dissatisfaction among some of the clerks. The chief clerk was notified that 14 clerks would be sent to Ogden from Oregon to take the place of men on the Southern Pacific who are newer in the service. Accordingly the 14 men have arrived from the northwest, and in keeping with the orders from his superiors the chief clerk was forced to lay off eight of his young clerks and to accept in their places the imported help. It may be a long time before the clerks who were laid off will be able to get back in the service again.

SYSTEMATIC STEALING.

The Southern Pacific Victimized by Railroad Employees.

Ogden, July 12.—Special Agent Jones of the Harriman lines stated to a "News" representative that the amount of stealing that has been going on during the past few months on the line of the Southern Pacific is enormous. The gang who have been working this graft have been doing well at it, but the railroad officials are determined to put a stop to it, and will prosecute all violators to the fullest extent of the law. Detective Jones says that he expects to recover fully $500 worth of Ogden, July 12.—Sheriff Wells of Davis county came to Ogden yesterday in search of a horse and double carriage stolen some time Thursday night from Bountiful. He immediately enlisted the services of Deputy Sheriff Robert Shaw of Ogden. Having learned that the thief had been seen in Ogden early yesterday morning with the outfit a diligent search was made which resulted in the horse being located near the tabernacle square, and the carriage was found late yesterday afternoon hid in the old gravel pit just west of Washington avenue near Twelfth street. The thief could not be located. It is believed he became frightened and made a get-away. The outfit was returned to Bountiful last evening.

He also expects to visit some of the near by Canadian lumber mills, and see what can be done in

Alma Peck's team got frightened yesterday while passing down Main street, by a lantern falling from his wagon bows. The horses dashed away, despite the heroic efforts of the driver, and collided with the front porch of Jake Smith's hotel, demolishing the beauty of the adornments. The team came to a sudden stop when they struck the "sample" room adjoining the hotel. Fortunately no one was hurt, but the sidewalks showed signs of great activity about that time.

Reuben Weeks lost a valuable horse a few days since by drowning in the American Fork river. Mr. Weeks was trying to pull his wagon through the stream by hitching his team to the end of the tongue from the opposite bank. He had the animals over on a foot bridge (the wagon bridge having been carried away by the swollen stream). The current was too much for the team and they were dragged into the water with the result mentioned.

A light shower visited this section last night.
